

EDITORIAL

This year, because of our new status as a full-fledged university, many changes have been instituted in this yearbook. This is in accordance with the plans of the SRC to increase the activities of the whole student body. The most noticeable changes are the hard cover and the increased page size. But the contents of the book have been changed to a certain degree as well. We have included such clubs as the Biology Club, the Chemistry Club, and the Newtonian Society in the Activities section. Larger sections have been devoted to University Night and our Variety Night. Emphasis has been placed on the Queens. Our purpose has been to create a book which records as many of the activities on campus as possible.

All these changes have required a good deal of work. My thanks go to all those students who have in any way contributed to this yearbook. Special thanks go to Harold Rempel, advertising editor, Marsh Palmer, art editor, and Elaine Martin and her typing staff.
