

ZEEBRUGGE HAS BEEN A TOUCHING SPECTACLE WHEN ALLIES MARCH INTO LILLE

Great City Was in Delirium of Joy and Young Girls Rush Out To Meet Allied Troops—People of City, Which Had Population of Nearly 220,000, Shut Off From War News For Long Time—Joy in Paris.

London, Oct. 18.—(Canadian Press Despatch from Reuter's Limited) Zeebrugge has been occupied by the Allies and Bruges evacuated by the Germans.

Paris, Oct. 18.—"I have just witnessed the most touching spectacle of my life. The whole city in a delirium of joy, was ready to throw itself upon us, the first to enter Lille," telegraphs the war correspondent of the Petit Journal from that city.

"Tonight at 9 o'clock near Armentieres an officer shouted to us, 'Lille is taken.' We speeded our automobile on the road of victory. Two miles from Lille two young girls ran out in front of our car, crying amid sobs of joy, 'They have gone, they have gone. Vivant les Anglais, viva la France!'

Girls Run Out. "We went a little further and then a huge shell hole obliged us to abandon our machine and proceed on foot. Two more girls who had run out of the city to meet their saviors sooner cried while tears streamed down their cheeks. 'They won't come!'

"A hack appeared and we got in, but a crowd, ever so thick, was climbing on our shoulders. Another shouted to us: 'My name is Gisselin. I am city councillor. The Germans offered me a million to betray my country. The cowardly cowards,' and then he burst into sobbing.

First News of Victories. "Carried by the crowd, we arrived at the city hall. Deputy Mayor Baudouin stood at the door. When we entered everyone rushed to embrace us. An old man, with white hair, stood with a violin at the top of the grand staircase and played the Marseillaise. Outside the crowd seemed like a sea. We were the first messengers from the motherland.

"Speak speak to us," they cried. We opened the windows and told of our victory. A shout went up that filled the city. We told of the Bulgarian capitulation. Again the cheers rang out. We told of the Turkish promise to quit the war and again the crowd cheered. Then we told them that President Wilson had refused to grant an armistice and demanded Emperor William's head. The crowd, in a frenzy, tossed everything it could lay hands on into the air.

"At the prefecture the acting prefect, M. Requier, embraced us and there was a fresh outburst of cheering from the crowd. It was for Mayor Desalle and for his son, a French officer of the Legion of Honor and wearing the war cross. This officer, an aviator, heard at 11 o'clock that the city had been freed. He leaped into his machine, flew quickly to Lille and landed in the Place de Theatre. Alighting he rushed home to see his father.

"His was the first French uniform the liberated citizens had seen and the sight of it increased their delirium of joy.

"There remain 120,000 inhabitants in Lille. The Germans had carried off all the male population more than fourteen years of age. The city is not greatly damaged and the public buildings are intact."

Paris, Oct. 18.—News of the delivery of Lille spread rapidly in Paris, arousing deep and quiet joy. Flags were hung out on all sides, and a crowd of refugees from the Lille region paraded the city streets in the Place Concordia, where they sang the Marseillaise and decorated the statue with Allied flags.

Numbers of refugees waited most of Thursday at the offices of the committee in charge of the refugees of the Department of the Nord on the chance that news of the evacuation of Lille would be received. When a messenger arrived with the glad tidings many of the refugees wept.

At most of the theatres the managers announced the news to the audience, and all rose and sang the Marseillaise.

There remains 120,000 inhabitants in Lille. The Germans had carried off all the male population more than fourteen years of age. The city is not greatly damaged and the public buildings are intact.

Paris, Oct. 18.—News of the delivery of Lille spread rapidly in Paris, arousing deep and quiet joy. Flags were hung out on all sides, and a crowd of refugees from the Lille region paraded the city streets in the Place Concordia, where they sang the Marseillaise and decorated the statue with Allied flags.

Numbers of refugees waited most of Thursday at the offices of the committee in charge of the refugees of the Department of the Nord on the chance that news of the evacuation of Lille would be received. When a messenger arrived with the glad tidings many of the refugees wept.

At most of the theatres the managers announced the news to the audience, and all rose and sang the Marseillaise.

There remains 120,000 inhabitants in Lille. The Germans had carried off all the male population more than fourteen years of age. The city is not greatly damaged and the public buildings are intact.

Paris, Oct. 18.—News of the delivery of Lille spread rapidly in Paris, arousing deep and quiet joy. Flags were hung out on all sides, and a crowd of refugees from the Lille region paraded the city streets in the Place Concordia, where they sang the Marseillaise and decorated the statue with Allied flags.

Numbers of refugees waited most of Thursday at the offices of the committee in charge of the refugees of the Department of the Nord on the chance that news of the evacuation of Lille would be received. When a messenger arrived with the glad tidings many of the refugees wept.

At most of the theatres the managers announced the news to the audience, and all rose and sang the Marseillaise.

There remains 120,000 inhabitants in Lille. The Germans had carried off all the male population more than fourteen years of age. The city is not greatly damaged and the public buildings are intact.

Paris, Oct. 18.—News of the delivery of Lille spread rapidly in Paris, arousing deep and quiet joy. Flags were hung out on all sides, and a crowd of refugees from the Lille region paraded the city streets in the Place Concordia, where they sang the Marseillaise and decorated the statue with Allied flags.

Numbers of refugees waited most of Thursday at the offices of the committee in charge of the refugees of the Department of the Nord on the chance that news of the evacuation of Lille would be received. When a messenger arrived with the glad tidings many of the refugees wept.

At most of the theatres the managers announced the news to the audience, and all rose and sang the Marseillaise.

There remains 120,000 inhabitants in Lille. The Germans had carried off all the male population more than fourteen years of age. The city is not greatly damaged and the public buildings are intact.

THE GERMAN CHANCELLOR IS EXPECTED TO RESIGN SOON

Great Dissatisfaction in Berlin and Momentous Events Are Pending—Kaiser Weighted Down With Care and His Future Uncertain.

Special to The Standard. Moncton, Oct. 18.—(Timpan D. Bourgeois, a well known citizen and proprietor of the Hotel, died today of influenza and pneumonia. He was 39 years old and is survived by a wife and three young children, his mother, seven brothers and one sister. One of the brothers is Alfred Bourgeois, St. John.

The Board of Health Secretary's authority for the statement that the "flu" situation in Moncton is greatly improving, the death rate of cases continuing about the same, averaging four or five a day, but the improvement is in new cases, they being comparatively few.

At outside points the situation is also reported to be improving. Dr. Kirby at Hillsboro reports tonight that in Hillsboro proper the epidemic is abating. A few cases are developing and some twenty cases of pneumonia are still under treatment. In the country districts, however, the situation shows little if any improvement.

In Shediac town there is a decided improvement. Few new cases are occurring, and the death rate has greatly decreased outside of the town the epidemic is still severe. In Kent County, Cocagne and vicinity are suffering greatly from the malady with little sign yet of abating. Richibucto, according to a report, has been remarkably free of it.

No Quebec Service. Quebec, Oct. 18.—His Eminence Cardinal Begin today issued a circular to all the clergy of the archdiocese of Quebec, requesting pastors of every parish where the influenza exists to have their flock vaccinated, even low masses on Sunday next.

Deaths in Brantford. Brantford, Ont., Oct. 18.—Ten more deaths from influenza occurred today and ten more patients were admitted to the emergency hospital. Despite these figures, the medical authorities consider the height of the siege has been reached.

Many Deaths. Montreal, Oct. 10.—For the third day in succession a falling off in influenza cases is reported in this city. Today there were 750 cases reported, or a decrease of 550 cases, as compared with yesterday. The total of deaths has not risen, the daily total being 103, or only three less than for the preceding day. Among the soldiers the improvement is so marked that General Wilson promises to spare some of his regiments to assist in helping the civilian population. There was only one case in Montreal, and none in St. John's, with five deaths.

Improves in Ottawa. Ottawa, Oct. 18.—The Ottawa epidemic situation is continuing to improve. The health authorities were more optimistic tonight than at any time during the week, and reports from all sections of the city were encouraging.

Indians Get It. Port Arthur, Ont., Oct. 18.—At the Indian village of Sioron, on Lake Nipigon, in a population of 70, there have been fifty-eight cases of influenza, with five deaths.

Will Vaccinate. Chicago, Oct. 18.—Dr. John Dillhoff, health commissioner, of Chicago, is going to vaccinate everybody in Chicago against pneumonia following the announcement today that in connection with the arrival of all allotment of 600,000 doses of vaccine from Rochester, Minn. He plans that 100,000 persons shall receive the preventive inoculation free of all cost. Those who have had the influenza are exempted from the order.

AS THEY, SO I. I like to think that back of me for age on an age. A company of loving women stand. The incense of whose love lends fragrant to the page. That I am writing with my own frail hand. It stays my weakness when I feel they lived and loved. And walked along the pathway I have come. And that they knew the sense of service in all the happy ministries of home. The dress they wore, the flesh that bore their spirit's grace. The ruthless years have moulded into dust. It is my hour now to fill their vacant place. And hold aloft this lamp of love and trust. And when I, too, shall slip beyond the things I see, I crave to leave within the world I know. A little woman child, whose mother heart shall be. A place where tender herbs of healing grow. Who shall take up the lamp of service and of love. And all the joy and pain of womanhood. And bear the high life's round of petty cares above. And glorify the place where once I stood.—Anonymous.

Have, France, Oct. 16.—Lieut.-Col. Ernest P. Ricknell, Commissioner for Belgium, has announced that the American Red Cross is to aid the sickly children in occupied Belgium by sending them into Holland to build up their strength. About 10,000 children have been brought out of Belgium for this special treatment.

Letter Means Downfall. Prince Max was always suspected by the Social Democrats, who believed that in no case could he be expected to withstand the reactionary influences which have surrounded him throughout his career, and the London press has taken to justify their fears and, what is more, the suspicion with which his appointment has been regarded in the Allied lands. If he is allowed to remain it will be only because of the difficulty of finding a man acceptable to all parties of the opposition, and agreeing to what is demanded by the Social Democrats (Solf, von Payer, Erzberger, Eberler, and even Scheidemann are all mentioned as possible successors. What ever might be the final decision, it would be not only a blow to the Kaiser, but a further blow at the Kaiser himself.

Kaiser's Position. Much interest is shown in the personal position of the Kaiser, and the way of Ferdinand of Bulgaria is discussed. Even in Germany there is no opinion that the Kaiser's position is far different from what it was three months ago. The "Frankfurter Zeitung" last ment and food there as being simply atrocious. "A rat could not have been treated worse," he said. "But for the Red Cross packages that I received I would have starved, and it was the same with the other allied prisoners."

Tells Plight of Americans. From St. Abold he was taken to the camp at Karlsruhe, where he saw the civilian prisoners who had been captured by the Kaiser's army. The condition he described as pitiful. The Americans among them would have starved had the British not shared the same high standard of living. Taken from Karlsruhe, he was later to Holland, where he was exchanged on August 17.

Lieutenant David W. Frash of Toronto, eighteen years old, arrived on route for his home, to recover from injuries he received on the Flave front in 1904. In March last he was flying 12,000 feet when he saw a squadron of Austrian machines coming toward the Italian lines. Single handed he engaged the enemy and in a short time shot down three of the Austrians going down abaze. The other two of his enemy squadron continued the fight until Pratt's machine was disabled and he was compelled to make a landing. His back was injured from the fall, but he expects to get back again to the front as soon as he has gained sufficient strength.

Gov. LeBlanc Dead. Quebec, Que., Oct. 18.—Lieut.-Governor LeBlanc died at 11.58 p. m. He was born in 1864, graduated from McGill University, and was admitted to the bar in 1879. He was a conservative in politics, and represented Leval County in the Quebec Legislature, from 1882 to 1908, being speaker of the House from 1892 to 1907 and leader of the Opposition from 1904 to 1908. He was appointed Lieutenant-Governor in 1910 and in 1912 was created Knight Commander of St. Michael and St. George. He is survived by his wife, Lady LeBlanc and three children: Mrs. Costa, of Buenos Aires, Captain Boudry LeBlanc and Mrs. J. A. Perreault of Montreal.

SAFER TO SAVE. Four hours of this treatment Captain Owens was removed to the prison hospital at St. Abold, where he received his first medical attention. He does not know what became of Harker, whom he has not seen since the day of his capture. The captain remained at the St. Abold camp five weeks. He described the treat-

DELMONICO'S HAD HIT BY THE WAR Famous New York Restaurants in Financial Difficulties as Result

New York, Oct. 10.—Many have been the changes brought about in the metropolis by conditions arising from the war, but probably no single item in the war has attracted more attention, especially among the older generation of New Yorkers, than the announcement that Delmonico's was in financial difficulties, as a result of war time economies practiced by the wealthy class. At the very outset of the war the older and more famous of the two restaurants bearing the name of Delmonico, that located at Beaver and William streets, on the site of the first Delmonico restaurant, was forced to close because his building was needed for other purposes, connected with the war. And now the only remaining restaurant bearing the name, that at Fifth Avenue and Forty-fourth Street, has been forced into the hands of a receiver.

To have lived in New York, or to have visited this city, without dining at one of the Delmonico restaurants, a few years ago, would have been like missing an opportunity of shining before people who have never been in New York. It would have been like leaving Washington without having seen the Capitol, or Boston without having seen the Common, or Philadelphia without having seen the Bells.

For nearly a century the name of Delmonico has been synonymous with "high living" in New York. It was in 1827 that the first two of the name, Peter and John Delmonico, as their name was then spelled, opened a confectionery shop at 23 William street, Peter, or Peter, was an artist in the making of pastries and cakes, and his brother was almost his equal. They had come from Switzerland. Five years after they arrived in New York their nephew, Lorenzo, followed them. He was without fortune, and they took him into partnership.

The third member of the firm was nineteen years old then, and his advent marked a new phase in the business. An adjoining lot, at 25 William street, was added to the old one, and the restaurant thrived more and more. In 1825, however, a great fire wiped out that part of the city, but within a year the Delmonicos had two places, one at Beaver and William streets and the other at 76 Broad street. The latter was destroyed by fire in 1846. Ten years later this house was supplanted by a more elaborate establishment at Chambers street, where Delmonico, started by Lorenzo Delmonico. The favorite resort of many well known men, among them the elder James Gordon Bennett and the late Henry J. Raymond, William M. Everts, Henry Ward Beecher, and John Jacob Astor.

Meanwhile the elder Delmonico died, Lorenzo associated with him his brother Siro, and later his nephew Charles and his cousin, John Longhi. The latter was the family business life, created the Chamber street place to be supplanted by one at Fourteenth street and Fifth Avenue, and about the same time a downtown restaurant was opened at 22 Broad street. The latter was short-lived. The Fourteenth street place, established in 1853, lasted until 1874, when the one at Twenty-sixth street, Fifth Avenue and Broadway was opened. This last two in turn followed more than 20 years ago by the present building at Fifth Avenue and Forty-fourth Street. Previous to 1877 a Delmonico restaurant had flourished for a short time in Lower Broadway. It was followed by another establishment at 361 Broadway, but this latter lasted but a few years.

There were many Delmonicos, contemporary and in succession, and the family was represented in the active management of the restaurants until a comparatively recent period. But gradually the family interest declined and new owners gained control. The character of the business, however had always been maintained at the same high standard, established by the original brothers, Peter and John.

Blotchy Skin. Many a time you have looked into the mirror and wished that your skin would be like other people that you know, "without a blemish." This wish can be yours for the asking. Wash with D. D. D., the best of healing oils, over your pimples or blotches at night, and wake up in the morning to find them gone! E. Clinton Brown, Druggist, St. John.

Gov. LeBlanc Dead. Quebec, Que., Oct. 18.—Lieut.-Governor LeBlanc died at 11.58 p. m. He was born in 1864, graduated from McGill University, and was admitted to the bar in 1879. He was a conservative in politics, and represented Leval County in the Quebec Legislature, from 1882 to 1908, being speaker of the House from 1892 to 1907 and leader of the Opposition from 1904 to 1908. He was appointed Lieutenant-Governor in 1910 and in 1912 was created Knight Commander of St. Michael and St. George. He is survived by his wife, Lady LeBlanc and three children: Mrs. Costa, of Buenos Aires, Captain Boudry LeBlanc and Mrs. J. A. Perreault of Montreal.

SAFER TO SAVE. Four hours of this treatment Captain Owens was removed to the prison hospital at St. Abold, where he received his first medical attention. He does not know what became of Harker, whom he has not seen since the day of his capture. The captain remained at the St. Abold camp five weeks. He described the treatment and food there as being simply atrocious. "A rat could not have been treated worse," he said. "But for the Red Cross packages that I received I would have starved, and it was the same with the other allied prisoners."

Tells Plight of Americans. From St. Abold he was taken to the camp at Karlsruhe, where he saw the civilian prisoners who had been captured by the Kaiser's army. The condition he described as pitiful. The Americans among them would have starved had the British not shared the same high standard of living. Taken from Karlsruhe, he was later to Holland, where he was exchanged on August 17.

Lieutenant David W. Frash of Toronto, eighteen years old, arrived on route for his home, to recover from injuries he received on the Flave front in 1904. In March last he was flying 12,000 feet when he saw a squadron of Austrian machines coming toward the Italian lines. Single handed he engaged the enemy and in a short time shot down three of the Austrians going down abaze. The other two of his enemy squadron continued the fight until Pratt's machine was disabled and he was compelled to make a landing. His back was injured from the fall, but he expects to get back again to the front as soon as he has gained sufficient strength.

Gov. LeBlanc Dead. Quebec, Que., Oct. 18.—Lieut.-Governor LeBlanc died at 11.58 p. m. He was born in 1864, graduated from McGill University, and was admitted to the bar in 1879. He was a conservative in politics, and represented Leval County in the Quebec Legislature, from 1882 to 1908, being speaker of the House from 1892 to 1907 and leader of the Opposition from 1904 to 1908. He was appointed Lieutenant-Governor in 1910 and in 1912 was created Knight Commander of St. Michael and St. George. He is survived by his wife, Lady LeBlanc and three children: Mrs. Costa, of Buenos Aires, Captain Boudry LeBlanc and Mrs. J. A. Perreault of Montreal.

SAFER TO SAVE. Four hours of this treatment Captain Owens was removed to the prison hospital at St. Abold, where he received his first medical attention. He does not know what became of Harker, whom he has not seen since the day of his capture. The captain remained at the St. Abold camp five weeks. He described the treatment and food there as being simply atrocious. "A rat could not have been treated worse," he said. "But for the Red Cross packages that I received I would have starved, and it was the same with the other allied prisoners."

Tells Plight of Americans. From St. Abold he was taken to the camp at Karlsruhe, where he saw the civilian prisoners who had been captured by the Kaiser's army. The condition he described as pitiful. The Americans among them would have starved had the British not shared the same high standard of living. Taken from Karlsruhe, he was later to Holland, where he was exchanged on August 17.

Lieutenant David W. Frash of Toronto, eighteen years old, arrived on route for his home, to recover from injuries he received on the Flave front in 1904. In March last he was flying 12,000 feet when he saw a squadron of Austrian machines coming toward the Italian lines. Single handed he engaged the enemy and in a short time shot down three of the Austrians going down abaze. The other two of his enemy squadron continued the fight until Pratt's machine was disabled and he was compelled to make a landing. His back was injured from the fall, but he expects to get back again to the front as soon as he has gained sufficient strength.

Gov. LeBlanc Dead. Quebec, Que., Oct. 18.—Lieut.-Governor LeBlanc died at 11.58 p. m. He was born in 1864, graduated from McGill University, and was admitted to the bar in 1879. He was a conservative in politics, and represented Leval County in the Quebec Legislature, from 1882 to 1908, being speaker of the House from 1892 to 1907 and leader of the Opposition from 1904 to 1908. He was appointed Lieutenant-Governor in 1910 and in 1912 was created Knight Commander of St. Michael and St. George. He is survived by his wife, Lady LeBlanc and three children: Mrs. Costa, of Buenos Aires, Captain Boudry LeBlanc and Mrs. J. A. Perreault of Montreal.

SAFER TO SAVE. Four hours of this treatment Captain Owens was removed to the prison hospital at St. Abold, where he received his first medical attention. He does not know what became of Harker, whom he has not seen since the day of his capture. The captain remained at the St. Abold camp five weeks. He described the treatment and food there as being simply atrocious. "A rat could not have been treated worse," he said. "But for the Red Cross packages that I received I would have starved, and it was the same with the other allied prisoners."

Tells Plight of Americans. From St. Abold he was taken to the camp at Karlsruhe, where he saw the civilian prisoners who had been captured by the Kaiser's army. The condition he described as pitiful. The Americans among them would have starved had the British not shared the same high standard of living. Taken from Karlsruhe, he was later to Holland, where he was exchanged on August 17.

Lieutenant David W. Frash of Toronto, eighteen years old, arrived on route for his home, to recover from injuries he received on the Flave front in 1904. In March last he was flying 12,000 feet when he saw a squadron of Austrian machines coming toward the Italian lines. Single handed he engaged the enemy and in a short time shot down three of the Austrians going down abaze. The other two of his enemy squadron continued the fight until Pratt's machine was disabled and he was compelled to make a landing. His back was injured from the fall, but he expects to get back again to the front as soon as he has gained sufficient strength.

Gov. LeBlanc Dead. Quebec, Que., Oct. 18.—Lieut.-Governor LeBlanc died at 11.58 p. m. He was born in 1864, graduated from McGill University, and was admitted to the bar in 1879. He was a conservative in politics, and represented Leval County in the Quebec Legislature, from 1882 to 1908, being speaker of the House from 1892 to 1907 and leader of the Opposition from 1904 to 1908. He was appointed Lieutenant-Governor in 1910 and in 1912 was created Knight Commander of St. Michael and St. George. He is survived by his wife, Lady LeBlanc and three children: Mrs. Costa, of Buenos Aires, Captain Boudry LeBlanc and Mrs. J. A. Perreault of Montreal.

SAFER TO SAVE. Four hours of this treatment Captain Owens was removed to the prison hospital at St. Abold, where he received his first medical attention. He does not know what became of Harker, whom he has not seen since the day of his capture. The captain remained at the St. Abold camp five weeks. He described the treatment and food there as being simply atrocious. "A rat could not have been treated worse," he said. "But for the Red Cross packages that I received I would have starved, and it was the same with the other allied prisoners."

Tells Plight of Americans. From St. Abold he was taken to the camp at Karlsruhe, where he saw the civilian prisoners who had been captured by the Kaiser's army. The condition he described as pitiful. The Americans among them would have starved had the British not shared the same high standard of living. Taken from Karlsruhe, he was later to Holland, where he was exchanged on August 17.

Lieutenant David W. Frash of Toronto, eighteen years old, arrived on route for his home, to recover from injuries he received on the Flave front in 1904. In March last he was flying 12,000 feet when he saw a squadron of Austrian machines coming toward the Italian lines. Single handed he engaged the enemy and in a short time shot down three of the Austrians going down abaze. The other two of his enemy squadron continued the fight until Pratt's machine was disabled and he was compelled to make a landing. His back was injured from the fall, but he expects to get back again to the front as soon as he has gained sufficient strength.

Gov. LeBlanc Dead. Quebec, Que., Oct. 18.—Lieut.-Governor LeBlanc died at 11.58 p. m. He was born in 1864, graduated from McGill University, and was admitted to the bar in 1879. He was a conservative in politics, and represented Leval County in the Quebec Legislature, from 1882 to 1908, being speaker of the House from 1892 to 1907 and leader of the Opposition from 1904 to 1908. He was appointed Lieutenant-Governor in 1910 and in 1912 was created Knight Commander of St. Michael and St. George. He is survived by his wife, Lady LeBlanc and three children: Mrs. Costa, of Buenos Aires, Captain Boudry LeBlanc and Mrs. J. A. Perreault of Montreal.

SAFER TO SAVE. Four hours of this treatment Captain Owens was removed to the prison hospital at St. Abold, where he received his first medical attention. He does not know what became of Harker, whom he has not seen since the day of his capture. The captain remained at the St. Abold camp five weeks. He described the treatment and food there as being simply atrocious. "A rat could not have been treated worse," he said. "But for the Red Cross packages that I received I would have starved, and it was the same with the other allied prisoners."

Tells Plight of Americans. From St. Abold he was taken to the camp at Karlsruhe, where he saw the civilian prisoners who had been captured by the Kaiser's army. The condition he described as pitiful. The Americans among them would have starved had the British not shared the same high standard of living. Taken from Karlsruhe, he was later to Holland, where he was exchanged on August 17.

Lieutenant David W. Frash of Toronto, eighteen years old, arrived on route for his home, to recover from injuries he received on the Flave front in 1904. In March last he was flying 12,000 feet when he saw a squadron of Austrian machines coming toward the Italian lines. Single handed he engaged the enemy and in a short time shot down three of the Austrians going down abaze. The other two of his enemy squadron continued the fight until Pratt's machine was disabled and he was compelled to make a landing. His back was injured from the fall, but he expects to get back again to the front as soon as he has gained sufficient strength.

Blue Suits

The cloth manufacturers are not letting their customary invitations to inspect their Blue Serge lines for 1919. The reason is obvious. They are also busy turning out military fabrics that production of Blue Serge will be cut to an absolute minimum.

You will find here splendid values in Blue Suits, ready tailored, at $25 to $40. A purchase now would be a prudent investment.

Gilmour's, 68 King St.

MINIATURE ALMANAC

Table with columns for Date, D of W, Sun Rise, Sun Sets, Moon Rise, Moon Sets, H. Water A.M., H. Water P.M., L. Water A.M., L. Water P.M.

THE WEATHER

Toronto, Oct. 18.—Showers have been fairly general today in Manitoba and local in Saskatchewan and the Maritime Provinces. Elsewhere in Canada the weather has been fair.

Prince Rupert ... 40 48
Victoria ... 48 56
Ottawa ... 36 44
Edmonton ... 30 38
Baltimore ... 44 56
Portland ... 40 58
San Francisco ... 38 46
New York ... 34 50
London ... 31 41
Paris ... 36 50
Rome ... 38 48
Moscow ... 38 48
St. Petersburg ... 34 46
Cairo ... 34 40

Forecast. Maritime—Moderate to fresh winds, mostly northerly, fine and cool. Northern New England—Fair and somewhat cooler Saturday; Sunday continued cool. Fresh to strong southeast winds.

DIED. JORDAN—At her father's residence, 172 Bridge Street, on the 17th inst., after a lingering illness, Annie P. Jordan, wife of Frank Jordan, leaving her husband, one son, father, mother, and two brothers.

PORTER—On September 30th, Acting Bombardier Talmadge C. Porter, killed in action in France, leaving one brother and five sisters to mourn.

LOVON—At Gray's Mills, Kings County, on Oct. 17, Reuben E. Lovon, leaving a loving wife, one daughter, and two grandchildren to mourn.

FRANKLIN—On Sunday, October 20, at 11 o'clock a. m., from St. James Episcopal Church, Long Reach.

KIMBALL—Suddenly, in this city, on the 17th inst., George Hartley Kimball, leaving three children to mourn.

FUNERAL from Chamberlain's undertaking rooms, Mill street, on Sunday afternoon.

GARD OF THANKS. Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Hayes wish to extend thanks to their friends for kindness and sympathy shown them in their recent bereavement in the death of Mrs. Hayes' Father, Dr. Wyma.

LOST—A gold locket with initials "W.V.G." in it. Finder will kindly notify The Standard.

The Misses Eason returned yesterday from a trip to Philadelphia and Atlantic City.

MINARD'S "KING OF PAIN" LINIMENT

Extract from a letter of a Canadian soldier in France. To Mrs. R. D. BAMBURCK: Dear Mother— I am keeping well, have good food and well protected from the weather, but have some difficulty keeping uninvited guests from visiting me. Have you any patriotic druggists that would give something for a gift overseas—if so do you know something that is good for everything? I do—Old MINARD'S Liniment.

Four affectionate sons, Dear Mother—

MINARD'S LINIMENT CO., Yarmouth, N.S.

Save Your Hair

NEUBRO'S HERPICIDE. Make up your mind today that you will have a beautiful, fluffy, hair—but a matter of taking the proper care of it. For the past 19 years thousands of women, throughout the United States and foreign countries have used with wonderful success.

Send me a bottle of NEUBRO'S HERPICIDE. Send me a bottle of NEUBRO'S HERPICIDE. Send me a bottle of NEUBRO'S HERPICIDE. Send me a bottle of NEUBRO'S HERPICIDE.

NEUBRO'S HERPICIDE. Send me a bottle of NEUBRO'S HERPICIDE. Send me a bottle of NEUBRO'S HERPICIDE. Send me a bottle of NEUBRO'S HERPICIDE.

NEUBRO'S HERPICIDE. Send me a bottle of NEUBRO'S HERPICIDE. Send me a bottle of NEUBRO'S HERPICIDE. Send me a bottle of NEUBRO'S HERPICIDE.

NEUBRO'S HERPICIDE. Send me a bottle of NEUBRO'S HERPICIDE. Send me a bottle of NEUBRO'S HERPICIDE. Send me a bottle of NEUBRO'S HERPICIDE.

NEUBRO'S HERPICIDE. Send me a bottle of NEUBRO'S HERPICIDE. Send me a bottle of NEUBRO'S HERPICIDE. Send me a bottle of NEUBRO'S HERPICIDE.

NEUBRO'S HERPICIDE. Send me a bottle of NEUBRO'S HERPICIDE. Send me a bottle of NEUBRO'S HERPICIDE. Send me a bottle of NEUBRO'S HERPICIDE.

NEUBRO'S HERPICIDE. Send me a bottle of NEUBRO'S HERPICIDE. Send me a bottle of NEUBRO'S HERPICIDE. Send me a bottle of NEUBRO'S HERPICIDE.