

elevated above the muzzle of the revolver and as if he had been on a higher level than the person who had done the shooting.

To Mr. Mullin—The above, additional to the one which would have caused death would certainly have accelerated death, the whole nervous system being affected, and the organs receiving a shock.

To Judge Landry—The bullet wounds were undoubtedly received before death.

First Effect of the Wounds.

To Mr. Mullin—A person receiving such shots might for a few moments remain strong, but would quickly collapse. He might run 20 feet, but this would largely depend on his vitality. Yet I would not be surprised if a shot through the liver and kidney dropped a man immediately.

I arrived at these conclusions from my examination as a medical practitioner. From ordinary experience and the history of medicine it would be possible for a man receiving such wounds as Doherty received to drop at once, but also possible for a man to quickly regain his feet. When a man would fall again under such circumstances, he would gradually sink and expire, have never known of a case where a man having a bullet through liver and kidney, had continued walking any distance, for the direct cause of death from such a wound is hemorrhage.

To Mr. McKewen—The cause of a collapse from such a wound is the pouring of blood from the heart and lacerated organs down into the abdominal cavity.

To Mr. Mullin—The cause of a collapse from such a wound is the pouring of blood from the heart and lacerated organs down into the abdominal cavity.

To Mr. McKewen—The cause of a collapse from such a wound is the pouring of blood from the heart and lacerated organs down into the abdominal cavity.

To Mr. Mullin—The cause of a collapse from such a wound is the pouring of blood from the heart and lacerated organs down into the abdominal cavity.

To Mr. McKewen—The cause of a collapse from such a wound is the pouring of blood from the heart and lacerated organs down into the abdominal cavity.

To Mr. Mullin—The cause of a collapse from such a wound is the pouring of blood from the heart and lacerated organs down into the abdominal cavity.

To Mr. McKewen—The cause of a collapse from such a wound is the pouring of blood from the heart and lacerated organs down into the abdominal cavity.

To Mr. Mullin—The cause of a collapse from such a wound is the pouring of blood from the heart and lacerated organs down into the abdominal cavity.

To Mr. McKewen—The cause of a collapse from such a wound is the pouring of blood from the heart and lacerated organs down into the abdominal cavity.

To Mr. Mullin—The cause of a collapse from such a wound is the pouring of blood from the heart and lacerated organs down into the abdominal cavity.

To Mr. McKewen—The cause of a collapse from such a wound is the pouring of blood from the heart and lacerated organs down into the abdominal cavity.

To Mr. Mullin—The cause of a collapse from such a wound is the pouring of blood from the heart and lacerated organs down into the abdominal cavity.

To Mr. McKewen—The cause of a collapse from such a wound is the pouring of blood from the heart and lacerated organs down into the abdominal cavity.

To Mr. Mullin—The cause of a collapse from such a wound is the pouring of blood from the heart and lacerated organs down into the abdominal cavity.

of the park which he examined carefully stating that they did not cut through any woods until they got to the bear den.

They went at the bears, then Frank Higgins went down the hill a piece to pick berries.

Lost Sight of Higgins.

"We lost sight of him for a short time, and saw him next when he was down near the fence that runs along the foot of the hill. We joined him there and walked along to a white house that stands on a road leading to Dave Connell's house.

We did not go to Dave Connell's house, but went up over a big hill near it picking berries as we went. It was leading the way nearly all the time.

"We brought up behind Lovell Lane, having come there by getting through the bear den. We were about 100 feet from the house when we saw Higgins and I went to him. We had no particular talk except that Willie and Frank were talking about places they had robbed and of bypassing still they seemed on the best of terms.

The Fatal Shot.

"When we got into the rear of the park, and near the house, I saw Higgins and I went to him. We had no particular talk except that Willie and Frank were talking about places they had robbed and of bypassing still they seemed on the best of terms.

"I immediately ran up the hill and saw Higgins. He was about 100 feet from the house when we saw Higgins and I went to him. We had no particular talk except that Willie and Frank were talking about places they had robbed and of bypassing still they seemed on the best of terms.

The New Disclosure.

"Just at this point one of the most important bits of new evidence which has appeared since the beginning of the trial is that the man who was seen with Higgins in the park on the morning of the shooting was not Willie Doherty, but a man named Curbery.

Higgins Riddled the Hat.

A hat named Carbery was in swimming at the time, leaving his hat on the wharf Higgins loaded his revolver and fired a bullet through the hat, holding it up in his hand as he did so.

Higgins Riddled the Hat.

A hat named Carbery was in swimming at the time, leaving his hat on the wharf Higgins loaded his revolver and fired a bullet through the hat, holding it up in his hand as he did so.

Higgins Riddled the Hat.

A hat named Carbery was in swimming at the time, leaving his hat on the wharf Higgins loaded his revolver and fired a bullet through the hat, holding it up in his hand as he did so.

Higgins Riddled the Hat.

A hat named Carbery was in swimming at the time, leaving his hat on the wharf Higgins loaded his revolver and fired a bullet through the hat, holding it up in his hand as he did so.

Higgins Riddled the Hat.

A hat named Carbery was in swimming at the time, leaving his hat on the wharf Higgins loaded his revolver and fired a bullet through the hat, holding it up in his hand as he did so.

Higgins Riddled the Hat.

A hat named Carbery was in swimming at the time, leaving his hat on the wharf Higgins loaded his revolver and fired a bullet through the hat, holding it up in his hand as he did so.

Higgins Riddled the Hat.

A hat named Carbery was in swimming at the time, leaving his hat on the wharf Higgins loaded his revolver and fired a bullet through the hat, holding it up in his hand as he did so.

Higgins Riddled the Hat.

minor questions to witness, which he followed up by asking why he and accused were talking about the Doherty tragedy.

Higgins, in the belief of the witness, began the conversation about the murder.

Next time he saw Higgins was at the cotton mill wharf, the Friday after the finding of the body. Fred Goodspeed was with accused, also Frank Gorman and a boy named Mackin.

Higgins Didn't Play Ball.

"I was in the tan yard until about 7:45 o'clock. Frank was not playing that evening and we went up together to the grave yard. We were there until about 9 o'clock when I went home with my brother.

Higgins Didn't Play Ball.

"I was in the tan yard until about 7:45 o'clock. Frank was not playing that evening and we went up together to the grave yard. We were there until about 9 o'clock when I went home with my brother.

Higgins Didn't Play Ball.

"I was in the tan yard until about 7:45 o'clock. Frank was not playing that evening and we went up together to the grave yard. We were there until about 9 o'clock when I went home with my brother.

Higgins Didn't Play Ball.

"I was in the tan yard until about 7:45 o'clock. Frank was not playing that evening and we went up together to the grave yard. We were there until about 9 o'clock when I went home with my brother.

Higgins Didn't Play Ball.

"I was in the tan yard until about 7:45 o'clock. Frank was not playing that evening and we went up together to the grave yard. We were there until about 9 o'clock when I went home with my brother.

Higgins Didn't Play Ball.

"I was in the tan yard until about 7:45 o'clock. Frank was not playing that evening and we went up together to the grave yard. We were there until about 9 o'clock when I went home with my brother.

Higgins Didn't Play Ball.

"I was in the tan yard until about 7:45 o'clock. Frank was not playing that evening and we went up together to the grave yard. We were there until about 9 o'clock when I went home with my brother.

Higgins Didn't Play Ball.

"I was in the tan yard until about 7:45 o'clock. Frank was not playing that evening and we went up together to the grave yard. We were there until about 9 o'clock when I went home with my brother.

Higgins Didn't Play Ball.

"I was in the tan yard until about 7:45 o'clock. Frank was not playing that evening and we went up together to the grave yard. We were there until about 9 o'clock when I went home with my brother.

Higgins Didn't Play Ball.

"I was in the tan yard until about 7:45 o'clock. Frank was not playing that evening and we went up together to the grave yard. We were there until about 9 o'clock when I went home with my brother.

Higgins Didn't Play Ball.

"I was in the tan yard until about 7:45 o'clock. Frank was not playing that evening and we went up together to the grave yard. We were there until about 9 o'clock when I went home with my brother.

Higgins Didn't Play Ball.

of Goodspeed and Higgins, told me what he had first missed his son.

To Mr. Mullin—After I washed Doherty's face I recognized him at once. Mr. Mullin submitted that the indictment against Goodspeed was for being an accomplice and it was not proper that such should be called on as a witness, backing up the same by quoting from a legal authority.

The matter was here laid aside until the afternoon session, and the witness who had apprehended the boys at Vancouver, called.

The Arrest.

Lewis H. Robinson, sworn, testified he was a United States-immigrant inspector at Vancouver. On the evening of the 8th of August he saw Higgins and Goodspeed in the train coming from St. John. He had received a telegram from St. John requesting him to look out for them.

The following day he hunted the boys over to Detective Killen at St. John. When the witness asked Higgins why he had given the name of Marshall he said it was none of his business.

MAN FROM BILL TOWN, N.S., CUTS HIS HEAD OFF.

"I Can't Come Home, Good-bye," He Wrote to Sister—Out of Work.

Hudson, Miss., Sept. 18—Living face downwards with his head severed from his body, Fred O. Hillyer was discovered by two farm hands shortly after 10 o'clock on Monday.

On the body was a postcard addressed to his sister, Mrs. Eva Sweet, Hill Town, Kings county (N.S.); it read as follows:

"Hailon, Sept. 15, 1902. My Dear Sister: I can't come home. Good-bye. Yours, Fred."

His wife when notified said that her husband had acted strangely for the past few weeks, during which time he had been one of work, and she was afraid he would do something to himself.

When asked in regard to the postcard his sister, but this morning changed his mind, and left the house at 8 o'clock to go to the post office with the postcard addressed to his sister, Mrs. Eva Sweet, Hill Town, Kings county (N.S.); it read as follows:

"I Can't Come Home, Good-bye," He Wrote to Sister—Out of Work.

Hudson, Miss., Sept. 18—Living face downwards with his head severed from his body, Fred O. Hillyer was discovered by two farm hands shortly after 10 o'clock on Monday.

On the body was a postcard addressed to his sister, Mrs. Eva Sweet, Hill Town, Kings county (N.S.); it read as follows:

"Hailon, Sept. 15, 1902. My Dear Sister: I can't come home. Good-bye. Yours, Fred."

His wife when notified said that her husband had acted strangely for the past few weeks, during which time he had been one of work, and she was afraid he would do something to himself.

When asked in regard to the postcard his sister, but this morning changed his mind, and left the house at 8 o'clock to go to the post office with the postcard addressed to his sister, Mrs. Eva Sweet, Hill Town, Kings county (N.S.); it read as follows:

"I Can't Come Home, Good-bye," He Wrote to Sister—Out of Work.

Hudson, Miss., Sept. 18—Living face downwards with his head severed from his body, Fred O. Hillyer was discovered by two farm hands shortly after 10 o'clock on Monday.

On the body was a postcard addressed to his sister, Mrs. Eva Sweet, Hill Town, Kings county (N.S.); it read as follows:

"Hailon, Sept. 15, 1902. My Dear Sister: I can't come home. Good-bye. Yours, Fred."

His wife when notified said that her husband had acted strangely for the past few weeks, during which time he had been one of work, and she was afraid he would do something to himself.

When asked in regard to the postcard his sister, but this morning changed his mind, and left the house at 8 o'clock to go to the post office with the postcard addressed to his sister, Mrs. Eva Sweet, Hill Town, Kings county (N.S.); it read as follows:

FOR Bilious and Nervous Disorders Sick Headache and Constipation, BEBCHAM'S PILLS

Stanfield's Unshrinkable Underwear is guaranteed. Every garment carefully tested before it leaves the factory. Your money back if they shrink in the wash. Only reliable dealers sell Stanfield's.

Another Negro Lynched. A Marshfield, Ore., Sept. 18—Alonzo Wheeler, a negro, who assaulted Mrs. Decker, near Libby yesterday, was lynched. The body was found in a hole of coal mines, who broke into jail last night, but was located today.