Ethnic extravaganzas

by Reza Rizvi

MISSA NITE was yet another great success as it has been through the years. All those who attended were by no means disappointed. The elaborate and colourful entertainment program highlighted the evening. Traditional Chinese, Malayan, Tibetan, Javanese dances along with the Indonesian National Dance known as the Tarian Kipas (Fan Dance) were performed.

India's lustrous customs and cultural practices were presented at INDIA TODAY. A display of handicrafts and a cultural show were part of a extensive program. Young girls, proudly clad in beautiful national dresses, performed dances and songs representing the various parts of India, in a two hour long show. Those of us who are unfamiliar with the Indian culture were impressed by the enthusiasm and endless variety of bright and merry colours found in most Indian festivals, while those who went in anticipation of spicy, delicious, unique Indian delicacies, for which India is well known, were well satisfied as well.

We have a lot to learn from the large community of International students that are here at Dalhousie, and they too have a lot to contribute to enlighten us. It is through such "showcases" that one appreciates the different cultures of the world.
