teacher's authority. For this reason I think that a teacher who is able and willing to visit the homes occasionally would accomplish definite results. The Agent would perhaps be willing to help in this work. I also think that energetic and attractive teaching would be of the greatest importance both for discipline and regular attendance.*

I cannot say what action the Department may take in the future in regard to Miss Cameron, but in the mean time she remains as teacher of the school.

Yours truly,

Asst. Deputy Supt. General.
