

HOT STUFF AT SAVOY

Friday Night the Wrestlers Will Meet in Their Contest.

John Mulligan is now busily engaged in completing all the details for the trial of strength and skill between Kennedy and Marsh at the Savoy next Friday night.

It is generally believed that Kennedy, however, will win the match if he can keep away from the tricky tactics of the Swede, whose knowledge of the game and the thousand and one clever points which he has mastered make him an adversary to be feared by any man before the public today.

PRESIDENT MCKINLEY SHOT EX-PARTE DECISION

By a Polish Jew Anarchist While Holding Reception on Buffalo Exposition Grounds—Two Balls Enter Body—Physicians Say Wounds Are Not Fatal—Assassin Taken Into Custody at Once—Threats of Lynching—President Remained Cool—Passed Good Night.

Buffalo, N. Y., Sept. 6, via Skagway, Sept. 11.—President McKinley was shot by an anarchist at 4 o'clock yesterday while holding a reception in the Masonic Hall on the Exposition grounds.

The assassin pressed forward with a crowd to shake the president's hand. While so doing he pulled a revolver from his pocket and fired twice, the first shot entering in the breast and producing a slight wound; the second entered the abdomen just above the naval.

A wild scene ensued. Secret service men grappled the assassin. The crowd soon realized the awful situation.

conjunction with each other and not to any amalgamation of interests. Those who purchase heat need not necessarily have water piped into their houses, it being entirely optional.

"I do not know at present how many houses we will supply with heat, nor will I know until the arrival of the Louisa and ascertain how much of a course of fittings and piping she has. We have already had applications for heat from a large number and will be able to supply them all if sufficient fittings arrive.

"How will the price of steam heat compare with the cost of keeping warm by other means?" was asked.

"I can not at present give you the schedule of rates, but you may say that we can supply heat at one-half the cost of maintaining wood or coal stoves and still make money on the deal."

COMING AND GOING. Mr. Chas. Hill and his sister, Miss Hill, left today for Fortymile where they will spend the winter.

The president seemed among the vast crowd to be the only cool person. He did not fall, but turned around, took off his hat and sat down and held his head, insisting that he was not badly hurt.

His waistcoat was opened and a trickling stream of scarlet told the story. He was once removed to the home of President Melbourne of the exposition.

An examination showed that the first ball had struck the sternum, glancing off. The second ball perforated both walls of the stomach and was not found by the physicians.

And Given a Hearing in Police Court This Morning—Two Other Mild-Mannered Offenders.

It was a full house that greeted Magistrate McCauley in police court this morning, many of those present being horny-handed sons of toil who have been driven to the court for the purpose of collecting money due for labor performed, and it was for the purpose of filing complaint that many men were present at the opening of court this morning.

Mike Donald had poured deeply of the brand that causes the hair to kink; and then in order that the dew of heaven might not interfere with the kinking process, "Mike" had sought the stairway leading to the Dawson Dental Parlors and essayed to woo nature's sweet restorer.

Harry Brandie did not, to use a pugilistic phrase, attempt to "mix it up" with the court. He acknowledged President McKinley was conscious until an opiate was administered. The physicians say the wounds are not necessarily fatal.

The assassin is a Polish Jew anarchist of Detroit and his name is Leon Czolgosze.

Threats of lynching were made but no attempts were made to carry out the threats.

The news was broken quietly to Mrs. McKinley who is bearing up bravely under the strain.

Buffalo—5 a. m.—Sept. 7.—The president passed a good night. His temperature is 102, pulse 110, respiration 24.

"If any one was to ask the question: 'What one thing is chiefly responsible for the development of this country?' the answer would, necessarily, if true, be the two words, 'Sour dough.'"

Picks, shovels and that delectable known as "boothinoo" have each and all been accorded a place in the history of the country, but sour dough stands pre-eminently at the head and a blow struck at sour dough is a blow, so to speak, at our body politic, a blow at the underpinning of our most sacred and highly cherished institution.

Without sour dough the man who supplies us with history of the country back as far as 1867, and for whom Lincoln Grouse wore away her life and finally died, would not be with us now. His spark would have flickered and gone out, quenched by blue snow, more than 30 years ago.

Oaths and profane language were alleged to have accompanied the consigning of the dough and meat to the swill barrel (what deplorable sacrilege) and McHale was also charged with this offense.

Friday Night. Don't forget the big wrestling match this coming Friday night. The contest is for "blood," best two falls in three.

Justice Dugas Offers Lawyers Some Wholesome Advice About Their Cases.

Justice Dugas offers lawyers some wholesome advice about their cases.

ARBITRATION CASE IS DISPOSED OF

Jones Is Scored for His Actions in the Matter.

SEVERAL CASES DISMISSED.

York Given Judgment Against Standard for 55 Ounces of Gold Dust or Its Value.

When the territorial court convened this morning Mr. Justice Dugas handed down an opinion for the special benefit of the members of the bar and it is a matter of regret that there were but three barristers present to hear it.

"It often happens," said his lordship, "that needless interrogatories and superfluous repetitions are put to a witness with the result that when the papers are handed in for judgment I am compelled to wade through page after page of testimony in order to get at a simple matter which might have been answered by yes or no.

Another thing his lordship referred to was the lack of a complete file of the case often being handed in. Stenographers' notes are sometimes not extended and it was said to be anything but right for cases to be thus disposed of without the evidence in detail being before him who is to render the judgment.

The needless voluminousness of much of the evidence brought out in cases on trial has been referred to once or twice before.

Judgment was rendered in the case of York vs. Standard, the cause of the action dating back over three years. On March 8, 1898, plaintiff secured a lay on a mine owned by defendant, the agreement being that he should receive 50 per cent of the gross output as compensation for his labor.

was not contained in the regulations. On March 18, however, the royalty tax was put in force, and as the dumps taken out under the lay agreement were not washed up until the following summer, the owner of the claim was compelled to pay the usual royalty of ten per cent. The entire cleanup passed into the hands of Standard who paid the royalty due charging half the expense to the plaintiff when a final settlement with him was effected.

In the case of King vs. Jones the defendant was given judgment with costs. Like proceedings were had in that of McDonald vs. Kennedy, the action of plaintiff being dismissed.

The case of Jones vs. Strait which was up Monday on a motion for an enlargement of the findings of the arbitrator who had made his award in the case, was disposed of. His lordship finds that Mr. Coudon the arbitrator was appointed at the instance of Jones who is now plaintiff in this action.

The award was against Jones who months afterward is seeking to obtain the identical amount by suit which was adjudicated by the arbitrator. The motion for enlargement is made by defendant and counsel on both sides admit such power is discretionary with the court. The allegation made that Mr. Coudon, who is a broker, was in collusion with the defendant is entirely without foundation.

Upon making the award, Jones, the loser, declared he had no means to pay the arbitrator's fees, $500, and Strait was compelled to do so as he had already deposited securities for the amount guaranteeing it would be paid.

Strait started for the outside, Jones took advantage of the capias law in order to attempt to squeeze $3000 out of him. The motion for enlargement is granted with costs, which is equivalent to legalizing the award made by the arbitrator.

Contest Tonight. Caribou Sinclair and Young Donovan are to meet tonight at the Orpheum in a ten-round go. The sport will commence at 8 o'clock and it can be safely said that Caribou will make a swift and dangerous battle with his man. The general impression prevails that Donovan is up against it and that he will not last longer than six rounds at the outside.
