New Goods

New goods are pouring in on us every day now and you will find it extremely interesting to come in and look around. Piles of Dress Goods and Silks, dainty New Trimmings, New Fancy Hosiery, New White Mercerized Mattings for early Fall Wear, etc.

Fashion has spoken this season in favor of Plain Colored Dress Goods, shades of Brown, Tan and Mode being uppermost in popularity, with Navy and Green closely following. Sedan Cloths, Box Cloths and Canvas Weaves are the most correct weaves. Tweed Mixtures and Flakes will be worn for separate knock-about skirts, but will not be used for stylish suits—they have had their day, and now plain colors will once more hold sway. With our Two Dressmaking Departments in full swing on Tuesday Next, we have made preparations for the biggest Dress Goods Trade in our record. For variety, for styles and for values our stock is away beyond our previous efforts.

We Invite Your Inspection...

Customers will please take note that in either of our Dressmaking Departments it is possible for us to make up any materials purchased outside this store.

A DEMONSTRATION IN DRESS CUTTING AND MAKING...

MISS MARIE COOPER, Graduate of DELA MARTIN CUTTING SCHOOL, DETROIT, will in our store To-morrow, demonstrate the principals as taught in this school for cutting Ladies' and Children's Dresses.

The Dela Martin System is widely and favorably known as one of the most perfect in use to-day, and Miss Cooper wishes to demonstrate its advantages preparatory to starting a class in Chatham.

Every Dressmaker and every lady interested in home dress-making are cordially invited to interview Miss Cooper To-morrow.

LIAOYANG ABANDONED

Kuroki's Move Forces Retreat of Gen. Kuropatkin.

Russian Army Now on Right Bank of the Taishan River, But Further Move North Is Stopped By Cutting of Railway Communications Between Liaoyang and Mukden—Recent Fighting Began All Known Records.

Tokio, Sept. 2.—Tokio rings with shouts and cheers for the victory at Liaoyang. Lantern-bearing crowds swing through the streets and surge around the staff offices shouting "Danzai."

Japanese Occupy Liaoyang.

St. Petersburg, Sept. 2.—(12.26 a.m.)—The news of the occupation of Liaoyang and the withdrawal of the Russian army to the right bank of the Taishan River reached only a small section of the people of St. Petersburg at a late hour and caused intense excitement and disappointment. The majority of the inhabitants retired to rest believing that the Russian army had again been successful and that the Japanese attacks had been repelled. Ugly suspicion, however, had been rife during the day, owing to the absence of press telegrams from Liaoyang, leading to the belief that the communications had been cut by Gen. Kuropatkin.

Part of Kuropatkin's Plan.

The following statement was obtained by the Associated Press from the War Office at 10 o'clock Thursday night:

"Gen. Kuropatkin's army crossed in force to the right bank of the Taishan River, and it therefore became necessary for the Russians to repel a blow in this direction. In view of this development in the operations Gen. Kuropatkin decided to abandon his position, on the left bank and to concentrate his whole army on the other side of the river. This position is of the strongest, both in character and in site. The great issue will be finally decided there."

"By withdrawing to this position the Russian army avoids the danger of being divided by the river, and enjoys the advantage of compactness. Gen. Kuropatkin's move, therefore, is not to be considered as a retreat, but rather as the carrying out of a well-defined idea. The withdrawal of the Russians to the right bank involved the abandonment of Liaoyang, which is situated on the left bank."

St. Petersburg, Sept. 2.—The Japanese took advantage of this to occupy the city, but the sternest part of the fighting is still before them unless Gen. Kuropatkin decides at the last hour to again fall back to the northward. It is more likely, however, that he will decide to fight to a finish. The cards are all in his favor, it is believed now, and he has the Japanese divided by the river, thus effectually turning the tables upon his foe.

The determined pursuit by the Japanese of the Russian outposts when Gen. Kuropatkin gave the first order to withdraw was probably due to their anxiety to keep the Russians south of Liaoyang until Gen. Kuropatkin should be able to strike from the northeast. Gen. Kuropatkin, however, saw the trap and cleverly avoided it."

Kuropatkin Defeated.

Tokio, Sept. 2.—At daybreak yesterday the Japanese army on the left delivered a fierce and successful assault against the heights to the west of Hainlingtun and the high ground to the west of Shoushanpao. It pierced the Russian lines and probably later forced the retirement of the Russian troops from their position on the right and centre. Marquis Oyama telegraphs that his losses in these assaults were heavy. It is believed here that Gen. Kuropatkin has been completely defeated and that possession of Liaoyang is a matter of hours. Gen. Kuropatkin's casualties from Aug. 24 to 28 amounted to 2,255. The other casualties have not been reported.

Fierce Fighting Thursday.

St. Petersburg, Sept. 2.—(12.26 a.m.)—Up to the hour of filing this dispatch the War Office has not given out the details of the fighting of Sept. 1, but it is believed that this fighting exceeded in fierceness that of any previous day.

The Most Important News.

Mukden, Sept. 2.—The train service between Mukden and Liaoyang is interrupted. The roads are impassable. London, Sept. 2.—This morning's newspapers comment upon the Associated Press dispatch from Mukden, saying that the train service between Mukden and Liaoyang is interrupted, and that the roads are impassable, as the most important news from the Far East, and say that the only meaning of it is that the Japanese have seized the railroad between Liaoyang and Mukden.

Japan Loses 10,000.

Tokio, Sept. 2.—The Japanese left began pressing the Russians toward Taishan at dawn this (Friday) morning. The Japanese right is engaged in the neighborhood of Haiyungtai. The Japanese casualties since Aug. 29 are officially estimated at 10,000. Japan Will Rely on Gunboats.

St. Petersburg, Sept. 2.—A correspondent of the Associated Press at Vladivostok telegraphs that the Japanese are relying on the aid of the gunboat flotilla for future operations against Liaoyang and Mukden. The gunboats, the correspondent says, have not yet materialized, but in any case they would be in no position to render aid to a force on the right bank in time of need, because they would be unable to run the gauntlet of the forts at Liaoyang. The strongest forts are situated on the right bank, where the Russian army is now concentrated.

All Fighting Records Broken.

The fighting at Liaoyang has beaten all records for the desperate valor of the assailants and the invincible stubbornness of the defenders. The whole history of the warfare tells of no such bombardments, no such carnage and no such persistency. Day after day the fight has been resumed at daybreak and kept up with scarce a moment's intermission until after nightfall.

The Japanese have invented new methods to incinerate the heaps of dead comrades, removing the ashes for the purpose of burial in Japan. The wounded present a most serious problem, as they tax the transport capacity on either side to the utmost.

JAPS PROPHECY.

That Fort Arthur Will Fall to Them Last Week of September.

Tokio, Sept. 2.—Popular estimates of the date of the fall of Fort Arthur incline to the last week in September.

Attack of Aug. 27.

Cho Foo, Sept. 2.—Severe fighting occurred at Port Arthur Aug. 27, when the Japanese, moving from Shuishihing, attempted to capture Palungshan, which is south of Shuishihing and west of the railway. The Japanese made an assault between 4 and 8 o'clock in the morning. They were repulsed both times. A prisoner, subsequently taken, places their loss at 1,045 killed and wounded. For one hour afterward shells were thrown from Shuishihing into Port Arthur. The above information was brought here Wednesday by a Chinaman who speaks excellent Russian and who was employed at the police station in Port Arthur, which place he left in the evening of Aug. 29. He adds that up to his departure no further attacks had been made by the Japanese on Palungshan. He confirms previous reports that the Russians had re-occupied Itshan, where there has been little fighting recently.

Captured Fort 6 to Loss It.

At 4.30 Aug. 31 the Japanese attacked Fort No. 6, on the northeast portion of the right bank. This fort is a novel and strong one. After three hours' fierce fighting, during which the Japanese endured a cross fire from Fort No. 2, the Japanese succeeded in entering the fort. When the Russians were safely away from Fort No. 6, the Japanese "digged" over their trenches and concentrated their fire on it, but the Japanese were compelled to retire.

Heavy fighting was heard by the Chinese on the night of Aug. 29.

Can't Find the Steamers.

London, Sept. 2.—The British cruisers of the Cape of Good Hope Squadron have failed thus far to communicate with the Russian volunteer fleet. The Russian command, however, has received news of the arrival of the Russian fleet (the most northerly of the Canary Islands) of several warships flying the Russian flag. The telegram says that the vessels sailed from steamers which were waiting there.

Warships at the Canaries.

Madrid, Sept. 2.—A telegram from Las Palmas, Canary Islands, announces that the military governor has received news of the arrival of the Russian fleet (the most northerly of the Canary Islands) of several warships flying the Russian flag. The telegram says that the vessels sailed from steamers which were waiting there.

ATTEMPTED MURDER.

Hamilton Hotelman Runs Amuck With a Butcher Knife.

Hamilton, Sept. 2.—Yesterday afternoon Joe Armstrong, proprietor of the Macassa House, whose license was cut off, walked into Rams Wilson's livery stable on Charles street with a long butcher knife, and asked Harry McCamis, a hostler, if he was prepared to defend himself. He then made a lunge at McCamis, according to the story told to the police, but McCamis dodged, picked up a neck-tie and knocked Armstrong down. The hostler and others tried to disarm the hotelman, but he clung desperately to the knife and, in the struggle, McCamis got a nasty cut under his eye, and Armstrong's ear and face were slashed. He was so badly used up with cuts and bruises that he had to be taken straight to the hospital, where he is under arrest, with a policeman guarding his cot. The charge against Armstrong is attempted murder.

Scotchman's Day.

Toronto, Sept. 2.—Yesterday was Scotchman's Day at the Canadian National Exhibition. All the Scottish societies were represented, and a program of genuine old Caledonian games was carried out in front of the grand stand. The Army and Navy Veterans presented the Black Watch with an appropriate address, and it was feelingly replied to by Major Rose. In keeping with the day the speeches at the directors' luncheon were entirely Scottish. Rain spoiled the evening performance in front of the grand stand.

GOVERNOR - GENERAL

King Edward Has Approved Appointment of Earl Grey.

London Press Opinions—Daily Chronicle Says Canada Will Be Pleased With Him—Daily News: "We Cannot Imagine a Selection More Disadvantageous to the Empire"—The Times: "Earl Grey Combines the Essential Qualities of Success."

London, Sept. 2.—King Edward has approved the appointment of Earl Grey as Governor-General of Canada, in succession to the Earl of Minto.

The Daily Chronicle, referring to the appointment of Earl Grey to succeed the Earl of Minto, says that in all Imperial problems he has a keen interest and his practical experience as Administrator of Rhodesia in its early days enables him to understand the colonial point of view. By rank, integrity and knowledge of affairs and devotion to the public welfare Earl Grey is thoroughly qualified for the great task imposed on him. Canada will be pleased with her new Governor-General.

The Daily News says the appointment of Earl Grey is another indication of the hold South African influences have obtained over the Government. As an administrator he will find himself pretty closely tethered, but, unfortunately for the Empire the Canadian constitution is not entirely proof against opportunities for mischief-making and as a jingo and a Chamberlainite Earl Grey may be trusted to make the most of them. Short of the appointment of Lord Milner, we cannot imagine a selection more entirely disadvantageous to the Empire."

The Standard says: "We may assume that Earl Grey will go to his duties with that inborn capacity for managing men which must always be the most valuable asset of anyone on whom falls the lot of representing the Crown in the great self-governing colony. He may be taken as the typical representative of that cautious type of aristocratic politician which by no means opposed to extensions of the franchise has no sympathy whatever with surrenders to violent agitation. Such a disposition should prove much service in Canada when delicate questions of constitutional propriety comes before him for review."

The Times says: Earl Grey combines the essential qualities of success: an earnest belief in the Empire and an eminently conciliatory temper. He will hold the balance between parties and we doubt not will be able to maintain with firmness the position he, as representative of the Crown, is bound to maintain. He will be liked by French-Canadians as well as by English and will maintain cordial relations with the United States, while at the same time he will know how to treat those petulant demonstrations of a separatist spirit which now and then in a few obscure quarters claim a certain notice. His African experience will lead him to look with sympathy on the expansion of the Northwest. He has what the professed politician often lacks—the gift of imagination necessary in the case of regions as large as the States ready for the plough. No problem will more appeal to Earl Grey's mind than the development of Canada as a field for British immigrants."

Public Ownership.

Brantford, Sept. 2.—Last night, under the auspices of the Trade and Labor Council, W. F. Maclean, M.P., addressed an audience in the Y.M.C.A. Hall on public ownership. He elucidated the underlying principle of the policy, which was to increase the number of public utilities and public conveniences and distribute them to the greatest number of people. Heartily applause and a vote of thanks testified to Mr. Maclean's success in convincing his audience.

Will of Late J.J. Long.

Toronto, Sept. 2.—Although the solicitors for the estate of the late J. J. Long decline to give any information, it is said that the will disposes of an estate of from one to one and one-half millions. The executors are Thomas Long and J. M. Hopkins, bookkeeper for the firm for a great many years.

Preparing For Triennial.

Buffalo, Sept. 2.—At yesterday's session of the executive committee of the International Sunday School Association much of the time was taken up in framing plans for the triennial convention of the association, which is to be held at Toronto in July next.

Neither Also Succumb.

Toronto, Sept. 2.—Yesterday morning Mrs. Robert Funnell died from the burns and shock received in the accident at her home, 22 Mansfield avenue, on Monday night. Six children, the eldest aged 16, are left motherless.

Scores Phenomenally High.

Ottawa Rifle Range, Sept. 2.—The shooting yesterday in the first and second stage of the Governor-General's match was phenomenally high. Capt. Forrest, who made the top score, receives a D. A. R. silver medal.

In the light of love the least may be the largest.

SAVES LIFE

And Brave Lad Ge's for Reward All His Little Chum Has, One Cent.

Franklin, N. H., Sept. 1.—Ray Martin, aged 7 years, and Chester Perkins, 9 years, were playing near a well at Danbury, and the Martin boy fell in. The well is eight feet square and contains four and a half feet of water. Young Perkins, instead of running away, stepped down into the well on to staging, and when the younger boy came to the surface pulled him out.

Young Martin was taken home and cared for and his mother told him that he must always be kind to the little playmate who saved his life. The boy at once reached into his trousers' pocket and produced all he had, one cent, which he handed over to his chum as a reward.

More Charges.

Toronto, Sept. 2.—North Perth Conservatives filed yesterday three additional charges against John Brown, in effect, that he by and through Dr. Corcoran and Barrister McDonald offered William Hedley $5 for his vote. The others that R. T. Harding and Bailiff Thomas Tobin gave one Allen money to buy drinks, and that License Inspector John Carey offered John Whitelock $15 for his vote.

Cost Him But $70.

Toronto, Sept. 2.—Hugh Clarke, M.P., for Centre Bruce, was examined for discovery in connection with the Centre Bruce protest before Special Examiner Boomer yesterday. He testified that his election cost him but $70, and that the vote came out spontaneously.

Published on Monday.

London, Sept. 2.—(C.A.P.)—Goldwin Smith's "My Memories of Gladstone" will be published on Monday.

Unknown Man Killed.

Port Arthur, Sept. 2.—The mangled remains of a man were found on the track at Murillo yesterday morning. There was found in his pocket $1.90, but nothing by which identification could be established.

Shot Through Heart.

Maxwell, Sept. 2.—Sandford Clemis, son of Robert Clemis, was found dead Wednesday near his home, shot through the heart. It is not known how it occurred, but it is thought to be a case of suicide.
