THE WAND OF MISERY WAVED OVER MRS THOS. GREFN.

From Her Childhood She Suffered from Heart Troubles—Doctors Said Nothing Could be Done for Her, and that Her Death at Any Moment Would Not Surprise Them.

From the Herald, Stratford.

"Of the making of books there is no end," it hath been said, and the same claim might be set up in respect of the making of testimonials in favor of Dr. Williams Pink Pills. Wonderfal as are some of the statements published in the newspapers as to the curse effected in all perts of the country, fresh evidence proves the half ass not been told. Were it not for a false sense of delicacy which a great many people entertain in regald to such matters, the columns of the preswould be literally teeming with grateful to such matters, the columns of the preswould be literally teeming with grateful to such matters, the columns of the preswould be literally teeming with grateful to such matters, the columns of the preswould be literally teeming with grateful to such matters, the columns of the preswould be literally teeming with grateful to such matters, the columns of the preswould be literally teeming with grateful to such matters, the columns of the preswould be literally teeming with grateful to such matters, the columns of the preswould be literally teeming with grateful to such matters, the columns of the preswould be literally teeming with grateful to such matters, the columns of the preswould be literally teeming with grateful to such matters, the columns of the preswould be literally teeming with grateful to such matters, the columns of the preswould be literally teeming with grateful to such matters, the columns of the preswould be literally teeming with grateful to such matters, the columns of the preswould be literally teeming with grateful to such matters, the columns of the preswould be literally teeming with grateful to such pressent to such the preswould be literally teeming with grateful to such pressent to such pressent to such pressent to the preswould early childhood. On several occasions she has been so low that it was not thought possible for her to recover. thought possible for her to recover.
Her greatest trouble often arose from exhaustion or a sudden start, and at such times her heart seemed to cease its throbbing and the breathing was fitful and labored. Doctor's medicine seemed to have no effect whatever. She was advised by one physician that all that could be done was to keep her strength up, and it was with a view to strengthening her system, and with no The pen strength up, and it was with a view to hope that her heart would be benefitted that she began the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. She had not been taking them long, however, when there was an unmistakable relief from the trouble that had made her whele life missance in the relief form the trouble that had made her whele life missance.

In the bewildering maz; of the British Museum, where many miles of shelves and cases are filled with the world's treasure, there is one little room that at tracts a greater number of visitors than any other. The crowds that throng about the cases in this room are composed of persons of carfously diverse the characteristics. It is a center of interest for scholars and literary people, and yet seems as attractive to the least learned of the visitors. This is the room which contains the department of autographs and manuscripts, and the treasures within it are perhaps the most humanely interesting in the whole museum.

Here are all manner of writings by the hands of the world's greatest men of many ages and countries. There are personal letters of kings and pope, queens, ministers and counties, whose names in history, in story, and in song seem not to stand for real men and women, but rather for legendary beings, and these letters evenal in some homely phrase or bit of simple sentimet a tous of human nature which seems to make them more akin to those who canously seem not to stand for real men and women, but rather for legendary beings, and these letters evenal in some homely phrase or bit of simple sentimet a tous of human sature which seems to make them more akin to those who canously seem not to stand for real men and women, but rather for legendary beings, and these letters veval in some homely phrase or bit of simple sentimet a tous of human sature which seems to make them more akin to those who canously seem to the full to distingly the distinct of the content of the household work, but also many of the out door chores that fall to the lot of farmer's wife. The different physicians who have treated her have frequently told her husband that they would not be surprised to hear of her death at any moment, but she is to-day a strong woman, enjoying better health than she had one for years. Both Mrs Green and her husband feel grateful for the great benefit she has received from the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and spare no words in sounding their praises to everyone who enquire what has wrought such a wonderful change in Mrs Green's health and spirit.

In cases of paralysis, spinal troubles, locomoter ataxis, sciatics, rheumatism, erysipelas, exorfulous troubles, etc., Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are superior to all other treatment. They are also a specific for the troubles which make the lives of so many women a burden, and spessifly restore the rich glow of health to pale and sallow cheeks. Men broken down by overwork, worry or excesses, will find in Pink Pills acertain cure. Some two hundred acts for the regular tion of the liquor traffic are in force in the United Kingdom wholly or in part at the present time. Two thirds of these are for police and one-third for fiscal purposes. No wonder the legal officials engaged in the task of compiling a book on the Revenue Licensing Laws conclude its high time the laws were simplified. There can be no simpler nor more effective law than prohibition.

MONSOON" TEA....

March 20th, 1895.

Minards Liniment is used by Phy.

Mrs Peck—If I had my life to live over again, I wouldn't marry the best man alive. Mr H. Peck—You bet you wouldn't. I wouldn't ask you to.

Maud-Are you sure that you love

Economical and wealthy Father—Do you know, my son, what strict economy would do for you, my son? Robert—I know what it has done for me, fathe, and I respect you for it.

Practical Father—I've given you a good college education; what more do you want? Son—You haven't yet supplied ma with the means to live up to it.

Jack--What makes you think the dies Charmynge is the most popular gid in the beach? Tom--She's the only one the other girls refer to as a "designing creature."

Ayer's Sarsaparilla is justly considered the only sure specific for blood disorder

Jinks—(at a party)—I don't see what'the matter with that pretty woman over there. She was awfully flirty a little while sign, and now she won't have anthing to do with me.

Stranger—I have just come in. She my wife.

'It's dreadfully queer," said the housewife, "that the potatoes you bring should be so much bigger on the top of the basket than they are at the bottom."

"Miss," said the honest farmer, "if omes about this way: P'inters is growns' o fast right now that by the time I is, baskitful dug the last ones is ever a nuch bigger than the fust ones."

STEEL, HAYTER & CO., Front St., Toronto Not one complaint has ever been made by those using Sarsaparilla according to directions. Furthermore, we have yet to learn of a case in which it is failed to afford benefit. So say hustreds of druggists all over the country. Has cured others, will cure you. Fred H. Christie Mexicans are not very fond of Spatiards, and jokes are constantly cropping up in Mexico illustrative of the arroance of the Spanish character. On now current in Mexico runs as follows: A Spaniard arrived at Vers Cruz and stepped ashore just as an earthquake occurred. Putting on a benign smile, is aid: "Tremble not, Earth, I am ast going to harm thee."

An Irishman whose orchard had been invaded by some pionickers, was arraign-ing the poachers with no mild form of vehemence, when one of the party said to him:

There, mw friend, don't get yourselinto such a state of excitement; we'll compensate you.
Compensate me! returned Pat, Begorrs, ye ought to pay me!

Alfred A. Taylor, of Margeree, says: One bottle MINARD'S LINIMENT ared a swelling of the gamble joint, and aved a horse worth $140.00.

Thos. W. Payne, of Batharst, saved the life of a valuable horse that the Vet had given up, with a few bottles of MINARD'S LINIMENT.
