AFTER EATING

The Tortures of Dyspepsia
Corrected by "Fruit-a-lives"

By Miss M. N. B.
"For two years, I suffered tortures from Severe Dyspepsia. I had constant pain after eating; pains down the sides and back; and horrible bitter stuff often came up in my mouth.
I tried doctors, but they did not help me. But as soon as I started taking "Fruit-a-lives", I began to improve and this medicine, made of fruit juices, relieved me when everything else failed."

Peterkin's Problem.

He had been called Peterkin ever since he was a baby in long dress. The nickname distinguished him from his father, who was his father. But when dignified Aunt Julia came to visit in the little boy's home, she declared it was a shame to continue to call him Peterkin when he had arrived at the mature age of seven years. However, the loved nickname seemed to cling to him and no doubt he will be known as Peterkin to the end of the chapter.
Aunt Julia was a woman of great wealth and so she decided to use her money and influence to help her nephew's family situation. Accordingly, she arranged a big lawn party and invited all the well-known people in the little town where Peterkin had been born and reared. The little boy was very much excited over the approaching festivity. Wonderful arrangements had been stretched where there were no trees to shelter the guests and pretty little green tables with chairs built just under them were grouped in convenient places. Great tubs of ferns and palm boxes of flowers, candy baskets and ice cream trays in the shape of peaches, cherries and other fruits appeared daintily and artistically from the city where Aunt Julia lived in a stately brown stone house. There was a fountain almost hidden in a network of green vines and flowers where punch was to be served by some pretty girls. Peterkin stood watching the servants squeeze lemons, oranges and other fruit juices into a mammoth tub. Then Aunt Julia came to take the punch when it had been sweetened.
"There is a case of champagne on ice, Thomas," Peterkin heard her say to the grave old butler who she had brought from the city for the occasion. "Pour in about six bottles directly after the first guests arrive and then add the champagne as you need it. The people down here are not accustomed to liquor, so you had better use it moderately. It may fly to their heads and cause complications." Aunt Julia laughed knowingly and Thomas answered deferentially, "Yes, ma'am."
Peterkin was astonished. "All his pretty aunts were tumbling about his ears. The wonderful, wonderful garden party was to be a failure. Aunt Julia expected to serve champagne. Peterkin knew that half the guests would leave as soon as they found it out, for the people there were strong for prohibition, and he also knew that his beloved Sunday school teacher, who was the leader of the temperance union, would think that he and his mother were traitors to the good cause they had promised to assist.
Peterkin was genuinely troubled. He remembered hearing his father say that if it had not been for the good influence and love of Peterkin's mother, he would have been a drunkard himself. And now Aunt Julia was preparing unnecessarily to tempt that same dear father. Peterkin tried to make up his mind just what was the right thing and the best thing to do under the circumstances. It was already eleven o'clock and the time set for the party was only four hours away. He determined to go to Aunt Julia and explain matters to her. But what if she resented his plea? Suppose he should make her mad and she would leave suddenly, thereby hurting his father and mother! It was a very complicated state of affairs, but Peterkin was no coward, so he decided to mention his trouble to Aunt Julia. She was the cause of it, so of course she was the very person to remedy it.

She was in the hands of her trim little white-capped maid when, after knocking, Peterkin was admitted to her room.
"Well, little boy, are you almost ready for the party, and have you invited all your little friends to come and eat ice cream with you?" asked Aunt Julia, smiling.
"—I was going to, but I haven't, that is not yet," stammered Peterkin.
"Why, what's the matter? Have you quarrelled with all the girls and boys around here?"
"No, ma'am. All of us belong to a temperance society and they would not come if they knew you were going to have wine in the punch, so I just did not ask anybody."

Ford to Build Gasoline Street Cars

Prophecy that street railways in the world would be doled out at first of short headways and low graduated fares was being made to stand, Henry Ford proposes to build a gasol or driven street car that shall be to other street cars what the Ford is to automobiles. Mr. Ford said he considered that if it were possible to build a street car that would be a better car than the Ford is to automobiles, the number of street cars would be increased a hundred thousand to a quarter of a million.
This car, according to his idea, will be so light that its fuel consumption on rails will be extremely low, and furthermore, it would not require heavy expense for track construction and upkeep.

Be Ready For Emergencies.

The best way is to always keep a bottle of Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine in the house, ready for emergencies. Then when you are sick or have a cold, or when your child is sick, you can get the relief you need at once. This is a household necessity.

Fruit Worms That Destroy Apples.

In eastern Canada several different kinds of fruit worms cause serious losses in apple orchards. The Entomological Branch of the Dominion Department of Agriculture has specially investigated this injury and the results of this investigation are published in Entomological Bulletin No. 17, entitled "The Fruit Worms of the Apple in Nova Scotia," prepared by G. E. Sanders and A. G. Duxson. Fruit growers in the maritime provinces will find this bulletin of 16 pages very useful. The general life-history of the injurious fruit worms are given, with popular descriptions of the insects in their different stages. The injury effected by these caterpillars is discussed and important recommendations for their control made. Nice illustrations appear in the bulletin. These show young apple trees infested by fruit worms, and other feeding habits of the caterpillars, and in addition some of the species are shown in various stages. Copies of the bulletin may be had free of charge on application to the Publications Branch, Department of Agriculture, Ottawa. A technical edition of the bulletin contains scientific descriptions of fruit worms, and is of special value to economic workers. Requiries regarding insects in general should be addressed to "The Dominion Entomologist, Department of Agriculture, Ottawa, Ont."

Used For Shaving.

Many men are troubled more particularly in the cold weather, with a sort of roughness of the skin or eczema, caused by shaving. The application of Dr. Chase's Ointment after each shave soon cures the trouble and by using it after each shave you keep the skin soft and prevent irritation and soreness. Because of its antiseptic qualities this ointment prevents and cures Barber's Itch.

A Quick Relief for Headache

A headache is frequently caused by indigestion. Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine is a powerful laxative and will relieve you at once. It is the only remedy that is safe and certain to cure you.

Help the Y.M.C.A. Finish its Work For Soldiers

Help the "Y" Construct the Manhood that will Re-construct Canada

ALL the world now knows that the Red Triangle of the Y.M.C.A. was the "Sign of Friendship" to thousands of your brothers, sons, nephews, cousins and neighbours' boys in the last four and a half years. Wherever the Canadian Soldiers went, the "Good old 'Y'" went too. And now it is coming back home with them!

For the support which has made possible the war work of the Y.M.C.A. we thank you. Your money has been well expended. We have rendered full account.

We ask now your continued sympathy and support for Red Triangle Service for our Soldiers during demobilization, and for Y.M.C.A. work for Canada generally during the Reconstruction period. The Annual Red Triangle Campaign will be held throughout Canada May 5th to 9th, 1919. The objective is $1,100,000.

For Our Men Returning For Canada's Manhood

The Reconstruction program of the Y. M. C. A. includes the following vitally important developments—

1. An increased service to 800,000 teen-age boys in the Dominion—the development of Canadian Standard Efficiency training; Bible Study groups; summer camps; conferences; service for High School boys, for working boys, in the towns and cities; for boys on the farm and for boys everywhere, who have lacked opportunity for mental, moral, physical or social development.
2. Inauguration of Y.M.C.A. work in the country, and the smaller towns and villages lacking Association buildings and equipment, on a plan of county organization. This will include the establishment of Red Triangle centres for social, recreational and educational work among boys and men, in co-operation with the churches.
3. The promotion of Y.M.C.A. work among Canada's army of workers in industrial plants, both in Y.M.C.A. buildings and in the factory buildings, organizing the industrial workers of our cities by meetings, entertainments, games and sports.
4. The establishment of the Red Triangle in isolated districts where lumbermen, miners and other workers hold the front benches of industry.
5. Besides these main fields of increased activity for 1919, we have to provide for enlarged work among railway men, college students and for our campaign to encourage physical and sex education. Under all our work we place the fundamental foundation of manly Christianity.

FOR the sake of our victorious soldiers and their dependents, and the happiness of their home-coming, for the sake of our future citizens, our teen-age boys; for the sake of rural life in Canada; for the sake of the social betterment of the toilers in factory and workshop; for the sake of lonely men and boys in our mines and forests; for the sake of Christian Society and Canadian manhood—we appeal to you. Give us your contribution, little or big. Be as generous as you can.

Y.W.C.A.

For the wives and children of our soldiers, dependents of our Y.M.C.A. work in Canada generally, a sum of $175,000 from the Red Triangle Fund will be set aside for the Dominion Council of the Y.W.C.A., which is caring for the soldier's women folk, and their little ones on the long journey from Liverpool to Canada, and is also extending its work for Canadian girls.
For their sake also be generous when you make your contribution.

Chronic Diseases Take Hold Slowly

Kidney and Bladder Troubles don't attack you suddenly. Chronic diseases of these organs are generally the result of neglect. Nature gives you plenty of warning when your kidneys are out of order and need assistance; you notice a dull pain in the back; you are dizzy, have headaches, feel languid and listless.
There is no mistaking the symptoms, and when Nature warns you—obey—she will help you get rid of your troubles. They will help your kidneys to perform their proper function and renew your previous strength and vigor.

Among our hundreds of testimonials is one from Mr. B. C. David, King's Co., N.S. Mr. David writes: "I was suffering from a dreadful lame back and hips, so much so that I could hardly straighten up. I got a box of Glaxo Pills and they helped me immediately. I have continued to take Glaxo Pills, and now the pain in both hips and back has gone. I shall always recommend Glaxo Pills to my friends and other sufferers."

Put off no longer. Buy a box of Glaxo Pills and take them. They will help your kidneys to perform their proper function and renew your previous strength and vigor.
