THE LATEST FROM OTTAWA.

Ottawa, Nov. 13.—A member of the Ottawa hockey team states he has learned on reliable authority that Ernie Russel, the much-talked-of half-back, and recently appointed captain of the Montreal Wanderers, will play on the forward line of the Montreal team this winter, and renounce the Stanley Cup holders.

Toronto, Nov. 13 .- Pete Flett, the crack centre half of the Argonauts, annonnees his retirement from Rugby, and states that he will never don a uniform again. He will not play against Hamilton Saturday.

Flett, who is claimed by many to be the greatest half in the game to-day, is an old Upper Canada College boy, and pleyed full-back for his school. After leaving U. C. C. he joined the Torontos, and did good work for that team. After they amalgamated with Argonauts Pete, who is not yet twenty-one, developed into the star of their back division, and his reputation increased with each suchis reputation increased with each suc eding game. for Pete's retirement from a game he loves.

No little anxiety has been expressed by Argo supporters as to the ability of the management to get a man capable of taking Pete Flett's place at centre half. The anxiety, however, is confined to the supporters, for Manager Hewitt and Coach Dr. Wood, together with the members of the team, swear by Merton Kent, who has been working in the position in practices, and gives promise of becoming as good a centre half as has worn a Toronto uniform in many a season. Kent has all the requisites of the place, speed, punting ability, a level head in emergencies, and a good pair of hands. Ross will go over to left half and Johnson to right. Sheriff will play quarter "again Saturday, and the wing line, which held the champion Montreal team to a 9 to 7 score a week ago will be on the job. "Babe" Hewitt, of the Argo intermediates, will play full-back. The Hamilton team and its hundreds of followers have always had a wholesome respect to the Argos in the little of the Argos in the state of the Argos in the little of the Argos in t have always had a wholesome respector the Argoes, particularly at Varsity

IMPORTANT U. S. GAMES.

Important games will now mark the football schedules of colleges, east and west, in the games listed for next Saturday is one that calls for a sectional conflict, east against the west, Michigan against Pennsylvania.

The game is one of the vitally important ones of the 1907 season. Michigan has a lost pre-tige to regain, and the team this year will be stronger by far than the one that lost to Penn last year. Michigan is still undefeated, while Carlile has taken Penn's measure, but the Indians are exceptionally fast, again displaying their familiarity with this year's rules by defeating Harvard.

Another important game will be the meeting between Yale and Prinason, which is second in importance only to the Yale-Harvary annual struggle. This should be one of the best games of the year.

Three victories against such strong teams as Hamilton, Ottawa and Argos are a creditable performance and blot out the one defeat which was administered by Hamilton here. An Ottawa paper was indiscrect enough to say early in the season that Montreal was "yellow." That Montreal was the only one of the three clubs to win on Ottawa grounds perhaps relegates this statement to the place where it belongs without further comment.—Montreal Gazette. ### Little Paragraphs of Sport From Far Says Federation is an Impudent Imposture.

There is no rivalry between the Can-There is no rivalry between the Canadian Amateur Athletic Union and the Amateur Athletic Federation of Canada. Rivalry presupposes some shadow of equality, but none exists in this case. The C. A. U. has the membershp and support and respect of practically all organized sport throughout Canada, from the Atlantic to the Pacific, and its authority is recognized in all branches of sport, its membership of some 700 clubs and associations, Tepresenting thirty thousand persons actively interested in sport, is dominated by amateur principies, and stands for the definite line between amateurs and professionals in competition. Every week, every day, it is growing in numbers and authority, and has reached in the past twelve months dimensions ten times greater than it ever knew before.

On the other hand the Federation is largely a myth, a loogy set up by the M. A.A. A. to distract the attention of its members and the general public from the fact that the M. A. A. A. and the other clubs in Montreal and Ottawa which maintain professional teams in lacrose, heckey or any other sport, have thereby put themselves out of the pale of amateurism as recognized in every part of the world except Montreal and Ottawa. That's absolutely all there is to the Federation, a cheap and transparent device, deceiving no person who gives it a moment's thought. It exists only as a adian Amateur Athletic Union and the deceiving no person who gives it a moment's thought. It exists only as moment's thought. It exists only as a makeshift to cover the nakedness of the Montreal and Ottawa clubs till they casa see a way to again assume their proper garb of amateurism. As an amateur governing body the Federation is an impudent imposture. It is not amateur, and it does not govern. It is not recognized, and never will be, by any anateur organization in the world. It has no membership, nor ever can have any, but that of clubs whose teams are professionals or engaged in professionals or engaged in professional competitions. It cannot even hold games of its own, but had to swallow its principles and but had to swallow its principles and its foundation rules at the dictation of an alien and hostile organization before it could have an athletic gathering under its sanction, but at which it repudiated its own essential reason for existence and imposed on competitors the requirements of the C. the Federation, which jumped through the hoop as ordered by the American A. A. U. this combination to assassinate amateur sport and spirit and the right of Canadhans to control their own affairs has been a failure, and the power, prestige and authority of the Canadian amateur Athletic Union have been vastly increased by the revulsion of feeling caused by the treacherous alliance with a foreign ursurping body.

The C. A. A. L. and the Federation at these meetings would be enough to provoke laughter at the federation, were it mot rather a case for indignation at the imposition on amateur sport that it attempted by the pretence that the federation is an amateur governing body. ### ABOUT THE PROPOSED INTERNATIONAL LEAGUE.

St. Thomas, Nov. 13 .- George H. Geer, of Syracuse, N. Y., is coming to the city for the special purpose of organizing an nternational league of baseball, which will be taken from Guelph, St. Thomas, Chatham, London, Hamilton, in Canada

Chatham, London, Hamilton, in Canada, and Auburn, Oswego, Watertown, Ithaca and Geneva, in New York State.

It will be an eight-club league and the members will be taken from these towns, Mr. Geer is said to be one of the greatest organizers of minors in the country, and is known as a prominent sporting writer from coast to coast.

He organized the New York State League, the Empire State and with the veteran Tim Murnane he got together the New England League.

The proposed league will be in class "C," with a salary limit of $1,200 a month. St. Thomas had a professional team in 1898 and played in the old Atlantic Park. It flourished the best part of the season, but towards the end the American side of it dropped out and it finished under the name of the Canadian League.

Mr. Geer is the man who has uncovered such big league material as John E. Evers and Schulte, of Chicago Nationals; Muggsy McGraw, manager of the New York Giants; Freddy Yayne, Detroit Americans; Wiltse and Ames, of New York Nationals.

Ottawa, Nov. 12 .- Mr. R. L. Borden during one of his campaign speeches in the west, in criticizing the mail service given in some parts of the new Provinces, instanced one case where a letter had been delayed eight days in travel-ling two miles.

Dr. Coulter, Deputy Postmaster-General, could have given him a far more interesting case in point. Two years ago a letter sent to an address in the city of Toronto was delivered twenty-five years after it had been mailed. The lacts of the case tell a strange and patnetic story.

Away back in 1880 a citizen of Toronto, who had been absent in Europe for some months, on arriving in New York, wrote to his wife in Toronto that he would be home again two days' time. The letter expressed in affectionate language the denight with which he looked forward to the home-coming after long separation from the family circle. By some mischance this letter fell into a crevice behind a large letter rack at the Toronto General Postoffice.

About two years ago during some al-office.

About two years ago during some alterations in the post-office the letter was found and forwarded to headquarters at Ottawa. Dr. Coulter read the letter and instituted inquiries with a view to having it redirected and delivered. In Toronto it was learned that the family had removed some years ago to Barrie.

Barrie.

An inquiry addressed to Barrie elicited the information that the daughter of the sender was living at Port Hope. The letter was accordingly forwarded to her there. A few days later Dr. Coulter received a letter from her telling him that her father had been killed in a railway wreck in New York State the day after he wrote the letter.

Her mother had since died, and the letter now received after twenty-five years would be kept as a priceless treasure, containing as it did the last message of affection from her father.

ARE RELIGIOUS SCHOOLS.

Husband May Prevent Children Going to Separate Schools.

London, Ont., Nov. 12.—At the nonjury sittings this afternoon the famous Trudell vs. Trudell case was brought to a close, judgment being rendered in favor of the husband. Sir William Mulock established a precedent in giving his decision in this case, which is the first of its kind ever tried in a Canadian court.

The husband had brought action to have an injunction put through restraining his wife, who is a Catholic, from sending their children to the Separate School. Mr. Justice Anglin, two years ago, decided that the husband, William Trudell, had the right to say whether the children should/go to a school where religion which did not meet with his approval was taught. Upon this decision his lordship to-day partly based his decision, also ruling that a Separate School was a religious school.
