The Conquest of the Air

A Frenchman has again triumphed with the aeroplane in a great cross-country flight. M. Paulhan, who held the record of 1909 for a cross-country flight, is the aeronautist who has made the latest and greatest record. Most of the other records have been made on level grounds, unobstructed by hills, trees or towns. M. Paulhan had, however, won distinction before in cross-country flying. He made a record flight of this kind at Tournai in September last of 1 hr., 36 min. duration. The nearest approach to this was made by Col. Cody a few days previously at Aldershot. Cody's record was a flight of 1 hr., 6 min. The Daily Mail, Lord Northcliffe's chief newspaper, has done much to encourage those engaged in the conquest of the air. It has built near London a large garage at a cost of $25,000 and presented it to the War Office for the accommodation of the Clement-Bayard airship, which is being prepared at Paris for a flight from Paris to London and which will be bought by the War Office if it proves satisfactory. Lord Northcliffe has also encouraged aeronautists by offering large prizes.

It will be remembered that Bleriot won a Daily Mail prize of $5,000 last year by a flight across the Straits of Dover in a monoplane. The greatest prize of all was offered two years ago, and although Cody and others have tried for it, no one succeeded till Paulhan won it yesterday. The prize was $50,000, and the conditions were a flight from London to Manchester with not more than two stops on the way, to be accomplished in twenty-four hours or under. The distance is 184 miles and the nature of the country to be crossed is indicated somewhat by the description which appears in our cable despatch. The great strides which have been made in a few years is evident from the fact that it is only a few years ago since man first succeeded in flying in the air a few seconds in an aeroplane.

The Second Recital.

"Great critics have taught us one essential rule. . . . It is this, that if ever we should find ourselves disposed not to admire those writers or artists, Livy and Virgil, for instance, Raphael or Michael Angelo, whom all the learned had admired, not to follow our own fancies, but to study them until we know how and what we ought to admire; and if we cannot arrive at this combination of admiration with knowledge, rather to believe that we are dull than that the rest of the world has been imposed on." So wrote Burke some 120 years ago, and with this admonition in our mind we wended our way to hear Mark Hambourg who has gained a world wide fame for inspiring interpretation on the pianoforte of the musical classics of masters in music. These masterpieces are pre-eminent because they are lofty in theme, pregnant in power, exquisite in melody, God-like in harmony, and their soul appeals to the divinity in man. Their range is universal. They are not limited by the babel of languages or disturbed by the cacophony of tongues. "Music is the true universal speech of mankind," as Wagner puts it. Such indeed was the impression made on us during Mark Hambourg's recital last night. Musicians might appreciate the technique and the wonderful skill of the master, but the musical savage could enjoy the melody which flowed from the master and the instrument, both keyed up to concert pitch, and the souls of both in harmony, as the spirit of music made captive the listeners and held them spell-bound. The tense attention and silence which spoke during the recital were indeed as eloquent of the appreciation of the audience as the burst of applause which more formally expressed the feelings of those present. The programme of the recital as follows:—"The Harmonious Blacksmith," Handel; Sonata, Op. 35, B. Flat Minor,

Chopin; Grava—Dopplo Movimento—Scherzo—Marcha — Funebre—Presto; Pastorale, Capriccio, Scarlatti; Melody, Gluck—Sganabati; Capriccio, Paderevski; Nocturne, B Major. Two Studies—G Flat (Octave)—E Major; Polonaise, A Flat, Op. 53, Chopin; Lotus Land, Cyril Scott; Gavotte Moderne, Mark Hambourg. And by special request—"A Midsummer Night's Dream" (Wedding March), Mendelssohn-Liszt.

Foreign Carrier Lost.

The following message was received by the Assistant Collector, this morning, from the Sub Collector at Grand Bank: Grand Bank, April 28, 10. Schr. Coronation arrived from Cadiz; brought in crew of Schr. George R. Allston, of St. John's, abandoned at sea. The Allston was a well known vessel in this port, and was owned by Geo. M. Barr, merchant of the West End.

Geo. M. Barr's Message.

Mr. Geo. M. Barr had a telegram from Grand Bank also, saying that the Allston was lost on April 19th and that the crew were taken off by a French banker and transferred afterwards to the schr. Coronation. The Geo. R. Allston lost her rudder in a storm and became unmanageable, so that Captain Darius Smith decided to abandon her the first chance. This occurred on April 19th when a Frenchman bound for St. Pierre hove in sight. The Allston was 21 days out from Cadiz with a cargo of salt when the mishap occurred. The schooner is covered by insurance.

POLICE COURT NEWS.

To-day 3 drunks were discharged a disorderly and drunk was fined $1 or 3 days; and a disorderly in his mother's house was ordered to quit the domicile or receive the full penalty prescribed in such cases. Inspector O'Brien of the Health Department, summoned a resident of Topsail Road, and another of Waterloo Road, for having obnoxious matter in the shape of night soil, on their farms for agricultural purposes. It was shown that this material had been purchased from the City Council, and His Honor Judge Knight in giving judgment severely condemned such a proceeding which he observed was decidedly detrimental to the public health and will not be tolerated. One of the defendants was given till Monday next to remove the offensive matter, and the other must get it off his farm in two weeks time.

Mr. Elias Ayre, who has been chief officer of the s.s. Portia on the western route the past five years has received the command of the s.s. Susu, which will run the mail service on Fortune Bay. He is the first resident of the coast west of Placentia to get such an important command. We wish him a successful career.

The Neptune was last reported on Monday week past with the weight of 18,000, and it is thought she captured considerable old seals since and will have a good cargo, if not a full load.

CARD TOURNAMENT.—The card tournament at the People's Club was won last night by Mr. Samuel Best, who got 15 games out of 20. The prize was a valuable merchanm pipe. Another tournament will be held next Tuesday night when Mr. T. J. Allan will give a prize.

CALLADORA HITS WHARF.—When the Calladora was being removed from the stream to Marshall Bros. wharf at noon to-day, owing to a schooner at Harvey's wharf impeding her, she fell down with the force of the wind on the head of Davey Bros. pier and partially wrecked a derrick erected there for hoisting sand.

A FEMALE INEBRIATE.—At 11 o'clock last night officers Byrne and Tobin found a young woman at the rear of the Post Office. She was so badly intoxicated that the officers had to lift her bodily down Water Street to the lockup while she made the welkin ring with her cries and violently resisted arrest. She was given three months in the Penitentiary to-day.

The excavation of the Roman city of Verulamium, about a mile from the centre of St. Albans, which it is hoped to begin in a few months' time, will form the third important work of this character that has been undertaken by the Society of Antiquaries.

About sixty years ago, and again in 1869, the theatre of Verulamium was partly uncovered, and some fine frescoes, pavements, and marbles were found. It is the only Roman theatre to exist in Britain, and its dimensions are almost exactly the same as those of the theatre at Pompeii, which it closely resembles. The area that it covers consists of about 590 acres. Verulamium was one of the most important cities in England at the time of Roman occupation. Old Sarum, about a mile and three-quarters from Salisbury, is also to be excavated.

Very Fine Photographs

In the Board of Trade Rooms to-day Mr. J. C. Parsons has on exhibition 24 enlarged photographs of inland scenery and fishing. They measure 30 x 36 inches, are copies of original negatives secured in various parts of the interior by Mr. Parsons personally and will be sent over to the Festival of Empire. One especially fine picture is that of a salmon leaping the falls in the "Studies" on the Humber River. As there are some doubting Thomases, who imagine this is faked, Mr. Parsons will be glad to show them the original negative from which the picture was taken.

Big Timber Deal.

Cablegrams received from New York news agencies to-day ask for information about an eight million acre deal of timber land in Newfoundland consummated there lately by a syndicate. This evidently refers to the Strong-Tessier-Morison combination of 13,000 square miles on the Northern Labrador, particulars of which appeared in the Telegram last week. The message cannot possibly refer to timber areas in Newfoundland as there are not eight million acres of timber land available in the whole Island. The particulars of the Strong-Tessier-Morison deal are evidently what the News Agencies are on to.

A Houseful of Reasons.

Bishop Malfeulle of the Methodist Episcopal Church always stood as a strong opponent to the inconsiderable and often inconsistent salaries that are paid the pastor by some congregations amply able to pay more liberally. He held the following personal reminiscence at a recent conference: "I once knew an excellent young man who married shortly after he had entered the ministry. He was on a small salary, but he seemed contented and happy. "Some twelve or fifteen years went rather lost sight of him—forgot him, as we will do sometimes—when unexpectedly met him in Boston well dressed, but not at all clerically.

"We shook hands. He said he was doing excellently.

"What church?" I asked.

"Oh, said he 'no church, wholesale hat business.'"

"But why did you leave a church?" I inquired, solicitously.

"For seven reasons," he replied.

"And what are they?" said I.

"A wife," he answered, "and children."—From Success Magazine.

ERIC'S TURN-OUT.—The details of the Eric's turn-out are as follows: 4,868 young harps; 1,103 bedlam; 766 old harps; 23 old hoods; 1 squirrel flipper. The net value is $12,450. The crew of 186 men secure $2,400 each.
