YESTERDAY.

Your yesterdays are dead—
To-day, ah, yes to-day
Is new, and large and limitless
In its far-reaching sway.
I know it is impossible
To wholly e'er forget.
To never dream of yesterdays—
Impossible, and yet—
It is the wise soul turns his face
Toward every new-born day
And shuts the past away from him.
It is the only way.

Your yesterdays are dead—
To-day is yours to mould—
Hail to his star, you tollers all.
And watch its light unfold.
And when your loved ones pass away
Your sorrow should be deep.
But you should realize this truth.
The Shepherd knows his sheep;
The spirits of the best live on.
Moving along through space;
We should not weep too bitterly.
Think of the joys they face.

Your yesterdays are dead—
The joys and sorrows brought
Of yesterday now look away.
Experience they taught.
In the great current of to-day
Your work you have to do:
So don't sit down with old regret—
Sit down with something new.
Responsibility is good
And hope a trusty friend.
Just get acquainted with them both.
For stimulus they lend.

The Bruce arrived at North Sydney at 5.50 p.m. yesterday.
The Ethie left Larn at 12.15 p.m. to-day, going West.
The Glencoe left Hermitage at noon to-day, coming east.
The Lintrose left Port aux Basques at 2.50 p.m. yesterday.

Solomon Never Had to Deal With a Hen.

Uniontown, Pa., Feb. 23.—Called on to decide the ownership of a hen claimed by George Bass and Joseph Nedrow, of Arnold City, Justice of the Peace John Reisinger hit upon a "Solomonlike" solution.
"Take this fowl to Arnold City," he directed his constable, "and release it near the poultry yards of these two men. In whose hen house it goes to roost, to him it belongs."
The constable, accompanied by Bass and Nedrow, did as directed, when liberated the bird promptly flew into the chicken yard of Charles Black, where the constable decided it would have to stay under the justice's ruling.
The costs of the case amount to ten times the value of the hen.

A WISH.

Do you wish the world were better?
Let me tell you what to do,
Set a watch upon your actions, keep them always straight and true.
Rid your minds of selfish motives, let your thoughts be clean and high.
You can make a little Eden of the sphere you occupy.

Do you wish the world were wiser?
Well, suppose you make a start
By accumulating wisdom in the scrap-book of your heart.
Do not waste one page on folly; live to learn and learn to live.
If you want to give out knowledge you must get it ere you give.

Do you wish the world were happier?
Then remember day by day
Just to scatter seeds of kindness as you pass along the way.
For the pleasure of the many may be oftentimes traced to one.
As the hands that plant the acorn shelter armies from the sun.

To Write Life of Lord Strathcona.

Beckles Wilson of Windsor Has Been Entrusted With Work of Compiling Lord Strathcona's Biography.

The preparation of the biography of Lord Strathcona has been entrusted by the trustees to Mr. Beckles Wilson. The contract was completed by cable Friday. Mr. Wilson goes to Montreal to visit Sir William Van Horne on this subject and on the 10th proceeds to England. He will remain there some time and on returning to Canada will visit Labrador, where Lord Strathcona, then Donald A. Smith was factor for the Hudson Bay Company at Rigolette and Mingan. While an offer of this character to Mr. Wilson is most flattering to him as a literary man, it is none the less a work of great magnitude—it is understood that the documents connected with the estate are of a most voluminous character, covering nearly three quarters of a century of the history of British North America.

Will Harness the Nile.

Work has been commenced on another great scheme to reclaim by irrigation vast tracts of desert in the Sudan. It is believed it can be made to add enormously to the cotton output of the British Empire.

The tract which is to be watered is known as the Giza territory. It lies between the Blue and White Niles, below Khartoum, and consists of 1,500,000 acres. The force and flow of the two rivers are sufficient to water the entire district when properly harnessed.
The proposal is to build two dams south of Khartoum, one over each of the rivers. Thus the tract between the streams will be irrigated, while at the same time the force of the water flowing into Egypt will be controlled.
At present the Blue Nile comes down in a raging flow, and the White Nile, flowing with it to make a huge overflow.
The building of the two dams will enable the flow to be properly regulated and will practically mean the final harnessing of the Nile.

A tradesman at Elsworth, Cambs., who had been engaged for some days in stripping paper off walls, found one morning that he had stripped the paper off the walls of his own bedroom in his sleep.

FULL of THRILLS

Here is a Novel that is a best seller. It is perhaps the best Western Story yet written. Cloth 50c.; Postage 2c.

WHISPERING SMITH

(By Frank H. Spearman).

An exciting, adventurous railroad story, located in the Red Desert. A feud between Sinclair, foreman of the bridges, and McClellan, division superintendent, has its beginning in a railroad wreck. Sinclair loses his position and joins a band of outlaws who rob the railroad.

A posse of men under "Whispering Smith" pursues them and there is plenty of gun play.
A breathless tale of intrigue and villainy, realistic of the new life of the west, but softened and brightened by a double love story.

Some Val for th

Editor Evening Telegram
Dear Sir,—I recently your January 31st issue greatly interested in the "Native."

The concluding suggestion of the importation of animals to Newfoundland is a proposal with great force to familiar with conditions or.

The idea often expressed of the interior of Newfoundland settled by farmers is a suggestion that is a possibility to operate a farm at a profit, excepting a few well favoured places the aggregate would be 100 square miles.

If the gentlemen who Game Board would use an aggressive policy of stocking the country with game, fur-bearing animals, which exist in the having climatic conditions with Newfoundland, results in say 10 years, inestimable value to the.

We have thousands of over which the necessary moose, elk, red deer, other herbivorous animals, abundance, and this is this land may be utilized.

Our lakes, teeming with sustain untold numbers of mink, skunk, raccoon, and fur-bearing animals imported, as well as game and fish.

When we think of the which we have derived from the Nova Scotia about 30 years ago, by spirited gentlemen and the late Hon. Stephen of our respected Messrs. R. G. A. S. and which it is hard to realize various Governments in power, have not, made further ventures lines.

During the past season St. John's handled from 600 of these animals, each for them. Other calculated as having the aggregate say 400 to this the number used people throughout the

as many more, would to say nothing of the for wild animals which them.

And this animal has sing to our people the land for the past 25 years or two exceptions, which case, natural to the them.

Is not this fact a thoughtful consideration Board?

At present when the location of fur bearing receiving so much attention, it is difficult nothing is being done continued above.

And what is far worse conserving the animal existing in the Island, generating and rapidly
