Health

There is no person in the community that OXO cannot help, building up health, increasing vitality, and promoting general well-being.

The safety and the speed that now Trinity to Trinity East and back again by the Motor Ferry, preclude many thoughts of the danger, and the tardiness that were so often associated with the same trip some sixty years ago. Although the sail boats that did duty there from the first, to the last of such boats, were built for comfort and safety rather than for speed, yet, owing to the treacherous squalls of wind that often drop so suddenly from Gun Hill to the calm water of the harbor-safety always lay largely with the watchful eye of the ferryman, and the ease with which the sheet of the big mainsail could be let go, at a moment's no-

All went well, however, for many years, oftentimes "more by good luck than good management"; and all has gone well in this respect from those vears to the present, with the exception of the event I am about to re call. On April 3rd, 1865, there came the combination of circumstances that were only necessary at any time to bring about disaster:-a calm, a sudden squall of wind from Gun Hill, the shifting of loose, unprotected ballast, and a sheet belayed so tightly that it could not be released in a moment-and within a few minutes the boat had capsized and had gone to the bottom; and the ferryman, who in frantic, but unsuccessful efforts to release the sheet, got tangled in it, went down with the boat and

In the days of the old muzzle loading cannon, the sailors used to say that the safest place in the ship during a fight, was the place where a shot had already hit; giving as their reason for this assertion, that "two shots never strike in the same place." With the return of February this year year, and the sixteen days we were cut off from the outside world, we took our stand just where it had hit at that time, with a sense of full security from a second hit in the same place. Hold-Ups Numerous

They are hold-ups alright but very different from the dangerous affairs we read of in the papers. In the hold-ups we are talking about, people are not relieved of their money by highwaymen. No! But Buckley's Bronchitis Mixture is relieving them of their colds, hacking coughs, bronchitis, chronic asthma and similar ailments. One Montreal man—Herbert Corri—was about to start South in hope that he might get rid of chronic asthma. Before going, he tried Buckley's Mixture as a last resort, and it literally held him up. He didn't go South. To quote Mr. Corri, "The cough disappeared, the wheezing ceased, and all the discomforts disappeared as if by magic."

What it did for him and for thousands of sufferers, it can'do for you. Even the first dose brings amazing relief, and after a few doses the cough vanishes.

Mr. Edwin Grant, Mrs. Grant and daughters, returned from their extended visit to St. John's, by the express on Monday last.

To the group of four collecting boxes and the candle holder, mentioned in my notes of last week, as placed on the wall of the Vestry in St. Paul's Church—there has been added one of the four copper crosses that were on the corner posts of the tower of old St. Paul's, in 1865. They are all so placed as to make a harnonious group, and cannot fail to be nteresting to strangers and to the old nembers of the congregation.

Mail Facilities.

Editor Evening Telegram.

Dear Sir .- I would like to suggest, through your paper, to the Minister of Posts that he arrange with the owners of the "Sable I." to take mail from Louisburg each trip to St. John's, which arrangement would give us a better mail service until railway conditions are normal, that last week the Kyle left Sydney or Louisburg on Saturday and on the Monday afternoon following the Sable left Louisburg, and could have taken mail which we would have had Wednesday, instead of having to wait for it until next Monday or possibly Tuesday. If the two steamers should happen to meet at the same port, the Kyle could carry the mail as usuals Thanking you, etc.

Yours truly, SERVICE. March 12: 1921.

ELKS VS. CITY .- The proposed St. Bon's-Feildian game set down for Benefit Night will probably be substituted by a game between the Elks and a City team. It was suggested that a City team be assembled to play plays off with the Terras on the following night for the cup-tie they could expected to play on Monday
