A GHASTLY FIND .- On the Canada Southern Railway last Monday night, while train No 27 was between Woodslee and Essex Centre, the fireman observed that the second car from the engine had been set on fire by a spark boy, aged eleven years, was leading the from the smokestack. He handed the beast out to water, and had wound the forward brakeman, Wm. Hyslop, a halter about his hand, for the better pail of water with instructions to extinguish the blaze. Subsequently, on was naturally restless after being convenience of holding him. The horse was naturally restless after being convenience. looking out of the cab he saw the fire fined in the stable so long, and making still burning, and seeing nothing of Hyslop he went up and put out the flames himself. Becoming alarmed, he then proceeded to the caboose, where he learned that Hyslop had not been seen. The train was immediately stopped, and backed up several miles, when the remains of the unfortunate man were descried. An examination revealed the terrible fact that his body had been cut completely in two, the heart dropping out on the track. Deceased must have slipped while walking along the train and fell between the cars. Death-was undoubtedly instantaneous, 44 cars passing over him.
