Rescued from Death

All Said She Could Not Live a Month

Now Alive and Well—Thanks to Hood's Sarsaparilla.

"I must praise Hood's Sarsaparilla, for it is wonderful medicine. I suffered 10 years with Neuralgia and Dyspepsia and fainting spells. Sometimes I would be almost dead with cold perspiration. I spent a great deal of money for medical attendance, but I did not get any benefit until my daughter told me about Hood's Sarsaparilla and I began to take it. I weighed less than 100 lbs. and was

A Picture of Misery Every one who saw me thought I could not live another month. But I began to improve at once after beginning with Hood's Sarsaparilla, and have gradually gained until I am now perfectly cured. I eat well, sleep well, and am in perfect health. I owe all to

MONTREAL, March 2.—The Grand Council of the Royal Templars of Temperance in convention here passed resolutions denouncing the Dominion Government's disavowing the commission as a farce and declaring against any more money being expended by the temperance people for keeping a representative before the commission.

AN OPENING ADDRESS.

BRO. CORNELIUS OSBORNE, vice-president of the West Durham County Association, presided over the recent annual meeting in the absence of County President Thomas Gibson from illness. His opening address is as follows:

Brethren,—I gladly welcome you to this the first annual meeting of the West Durham County Association held since its organization three months ago. When I remember the difficulties with which we had to contend and when I look at the numbers before me, I feel that we have achieved some success. The fact that in almost every school section the farmers and laborers are becoming united, reminds us that a long-felt want is being supplied.

I feel that an organization has arisen at last that is true representative of the farmers and laborers, one that has power and authority to speak and act in their behalf and one that is able and willing to battle in defense of their rights.

Brethren, they tell us that a wave of depression has passed over our land. Yes, will all agree that our own country has been depressed that we have achieved some success. The fact that in almost every school section the farmers and laborers are becoming united, reminds us that a long-felt want is being supplied.

A SUPERB SPECTACLE!

Graphic Picture of a Desert Caravan on the March.

A great caravan in march is a superb spectacle, alas! too infrequent now in northern Africa. At first Arabs alone can detect it, a mere speck lost in a dusty halo, whence it emerges at length, a lawless, colored mass possessed of a strange motion, the swarming of a thousand lives in one.

Here and there silhouettes of straggling camels stand profiled, like hieroglyphics, on the fiery sky, as, insensibly trailing its snake-like curves, the convoy advances. Hours after being sighted, it passes in slow, led by a vanguard of blooded camels, whose gait and bearing have an air of arrogance not customary to that race of profligate, the chieftains seated aloft in their floating burmooses, alert of eye, with gun in hand, statuesque guardians of the convoy-treasure. Behind them the camels of burden, exhausted less by loads than with the fatigues of the journey, their legs and croppers bald and scorched by blows, straggle forward languidly, thrusting out the tongue as they press the huge, spongy feet in the yielding ground. What resignation in their soft, staring eyes! Verily, no philosopher knows better than these poor brutes how inane are the revolts against inexorable fate. Near at hand walk the drivers, their emacipated features savagely illumined by eyes of fire, and white, gleaming teeth piercing their parched lips. Of all who started with the caravan, how many have fallen by the way, abandoned to agonize alone in the desolation? (From "A Saracen Caravan," by A. F. Jaccot, in the March Scribner.)

—the clothes that are washed without Pearline. The rubbing and scrubbing that's hard for you, is harder for them. Pearline washes clothes without scouring them to pieces. It gives no chance for harm, and it takes away half the work. It saves clothes and it saves strength. Pearline does away with the Rub, Rub, Rub. Get Pearline first, and you'll find it makes your clothes last.

Beware of imitations which are being peddled from door to door. First quality goods do not require such desperate methods to sell them. PEARLINE sells on its merits, and is manufactured only by JAMES FYLE, New York.

Mr. Gladstone's Smoking.

London Truth: Mr. Gladstone smokes occasionally, but very little. He will accept a cigar once in a great while from near friends, while their guest, and take just a few whiffs of smoke. Sometimes, it is even asserted, he is seen with a cigarette between his fingers, but he was never seen smoking one.

Grover Cleveland's Bible.

WASHINGTON, March 2.—When a President is inaugurated he is usually sworn in with a large, new Bible, which is afterward presented to some member of his family. But Mr. Cleveland in 1885 took the oath on his mother's Bible. So far as is known, he still has the book, and in the belief that it will be used at the coming inauguration, the clerk of the Supreme Court has not purchased a Bible for that occasion.

Proceedings of the Patrons.

TORONTO, March 2.—The Patrons of Industry appointed a committee to-day to inquire into the Ontario Government by what system they intend to dispose of the Central binder twine manufactured at the Central Prison. Among the resolutions introduced was one urging the Dominion Government to remove the duty from goods imported from Great Britain, and another urging the Dominion Government to adopt the imperial half-bushel as the test for wheat.

Do you know why you feel tired? It is biliousness. Take Easley's Liver Laxatives. They will put new tone in you.
