SEES PLEASURE AS GIFT OF GOD

Rev. W. R. McIntosh Claims
Religion Has No Sour
Visage.

But Asserts Proper Philosophy of Life Should Be Found.

"Religion is not opposed to pleasure. I say this especially to the young people. It is in favor of it. It is a lie to say that God delights in solemnity. God made the sky blue, gave color to the universe, gave song to the air and the trees, and intended this to be a world of gladness—the right kind."

Such was the substance of the sermon on "Money and Fun," preached at the King Street Presbyterian Church Sunday night by the Rev.
W. R. McIntosh.

"What is your life?" asked the Rev.
Mr. McIntosh at the commencement of his sermon. "That is an ancient question. Ask the pessimist and he will tell you that it is a passing vanity, a passing show; the grave-digger sets it all.

"On the other hand the optimist will declare that there is something divine in man, a man who was made in the image and likeness of God. An angel sleeps in every man, he will tell you, and the object of this life is to awaken that sleeping angel. Life is not only something good, but it leads to something better.

Bible a Reality.
"Everywhere in the world we find optimists and pessimists. We read of them in the Bible because the Bible is a book of reality."

The speaker then went on to show how the prophets and apostles of ancient times were decidedly optimistic and how they overcame all difficulties by being hopeful always and trusting in the divine aid of God.

"We not only find these people in theology," he continued, "but we find them also in philosophy, among those who discard the Bible. They weigh the experiences of men, and trust to science and reason. It is through them that we are sure of our religion.
But philosophers have not always agreed. Among the Greek were pessimists who maintained that life was constantly changing like vapors waited skywards. We find, though, great classical philosophers like Socrates and Plato who were strong optimists.

See Better Day.
"Coming down to modern philosophy we find similar minds," Mr. Mc-Intosh said. "The new trend in philosophy forecasts a better day, and philosophers have been endeavoring to find the real center of the world in the personality and the mind of man."

"The war wrecked everything," the preacher declared, "not only the world markets, things financially, but it wrecked the faith of the people. A prominent international figure in a late speech declared that outside of America all hope was practically dead at the termination of the war. And now we see bandits in the streets, bank robberies, drug peddlers, violence, night scenes and murders everywhere —God Almighty knows that I'm not exaggerating.

"There is a threefold philosophy of pleasure. The first is the philosophy of the world—that money was made to spend, that the only pleasure is the pleasure of the body, sensual pleasure and lots of it. If it doesn't come to you, go after it, the world says.

Outline Theories.
"There is also the pagan philosophy of pleasure—that pleasure is one of the greatest things in life, but that it must not be limited to physical pleasure. What we want, they say, is rational pleasure, pleasure of the mind. Pleasure is not to be rushed after; if we pursue it that way it won't last very long. The philosophy of pleasure is like pain. The more violent the pain, the shorter it lasts; it is sort of a compensation of nature.
So if you strive for violent pleasure, leave decency far behind, you get intense pleasure, but it is short.

"What is the true idea of pleasure, the highest form? Jesus Christ came into this world to save us, the world is good, God is good. Jesus came down from heaven to teach us that the real way to happiness is service.
Even a cup of cold water given to one suffering from thirst will merit a just reward in the other life."

A THOUGHT FOR TODAY

Wait on the Lord; be of good courage, and he shall strengthen thine heart. Wait, I say, on the Lord—Psalm xxviii, 14.

WE never know for what God is preparing us in his school—for what work on earth, for what work in the hereafter. Our business is to do our work well in the present place, whatever that may be.—Lyman Abbott.

CONSIDERABLE progress has been noted in connection with the city's $3,500 project at Springbank Park, the addition to the greenhouse.
The foundation has been completed, and the entire work will be completed within the next month, it is reported.

WORD HAS BEEN received in this city, that Ed. Johnston, who has been in Germany for the past eight weeks, is expected to be improved. Mr.
Johnston is expected to leave for Paris within the next week, en route to this city.

FURTHER EVIDENCE pertaining to the much-discussed roofing of the city's houses at Pine Lawn was submitted at a session on Monday morning of the arbitration board called to settle a dispute in that connection between the London Housing Commission and the contractors, Hayman & Willis. The arbitrators decided to visit the houses in question once again, and it is probable their visit will be held Monday afternoon.

THE FIRST MATCH of the Ki-wanian indoor baseball series for the coming season will be played at the armories Monday afternoon at 5 o'clock, between two teams captained by Harry Lecky and Jack Nash. Mr.
Nash has donated a handsome silver cup for the team coming out victorious at the end of the season. There are five teams in the running.

type of women in Western Ontario.
Accommodation will also be secured for some at the local hotels.

Ground has been broken for one of the most up-to-date oil refineries on ed by Benjamin Briscoe.

A group of prominent Canadians have formed the Red Star Refineries, Limited, with a paid-up capital of $6,000,

DEDICATES NEW LONDON CHURCH

Rev. J. E. J. Millyard Conducts Impressive Ceremony in Elm Street Edifice.

Structure Gift of London Methodist Council to the Ealing District.

Grace Church, the recent gift of the London Methodist Council to the residents of the Ealing district, and erected on Elm street, just north of the Hamilton road, was formally dedicated Sunday afternoon by Rev.
J. E. J. Millyard, president of the London Conference, at special services, with local Methodist well represented in the large congregation present.

Outlined Duties.
Proceeding the impressive dedication ceremony prescribed by the discipline of the Methodist Church, Rev.
J. E. J. Millyard, in an eloquent address, outlined the duties and responsibilities of proclaiming Christ personally which rested on the new Grace Church and every other church of Methodism. He warned against allowing any program of social or moral reform to obscure the direct evangelical teachings of Christ.

On behalf of the London Methodist Council, president William Hea-man presented the structure to the conference held for the preaching and service of Almighty God. In reply, Mr. Millyard dedicated the edifice to the preaching of the Word of God, to the administration of the Holy Sacrament, and all other purposes, consistent with a high and noble purpose, and urged the consecration of its worshippers to the furtherance of the kingdom of earth.

In the address, of Rev. J. A. Agnew, chairman of the London district, was conveyed an earnest appeal that the prayers and assistance of all worshippers would be given to Rev. A. R.
Stone in his especially responsible task as pastor of a new place of worship.

Guarantee of Success.
Mr. Stone briefly urged that the splendid auspices under which the church commenced its duties might be taken as a guarantee of success during coming years, and that particularly during the opening euan-gelical services of the next three weeks, the large attendance and earnestness might be continued.

The services will be conducted by the different Methodist pastors of the district, and Rev. W. E. Millson, district secretary of the department of social work and evangelism.

There was much gratification expressed at the announcement that within the next two days all debt would be cleared off the church.

In Mr. Agnew's address were included appreciation of Mr. Millyard's timely and appropriate sermon, and thanks to Miss McArthur for the gift of a pulpit Bible for the church.

In a brief survey of the history of Grace Church, he pointed out that it has the outcome of a survey conducted by the Methodist council of the city two years ago, under the leadership of the late Rev. W. J. Ashton.

News From City Churches

REV. S. J. THOMPSON
AT DUNDAS CENTRE.

The services held in Dundas Centre Methodist Church Sunday by Rev. S.
J. Thompson of Dorchester were most inspiring and helpful.

The members of the choir excelled themselves and gave a foretaste of the musical treat to be expected next Sunday night in their singing of the oratorio "Elijah."

WELLINGTON STREET CHURCH SUBSCRIBE TO FIRE RELIEF.

Rev. George T. Watts preached at Wellington Street Methodist Church Sunday night.

"Good must be cultivated from the springtime of a man's life, so that when temptation comes it cannot uproot it. Opportunity is quick to disappear," he said. "The time to grasp her is now. Young men who go out and have their fling in this world think nothing of their salvation. But after the summer of life has passed and the winter draws nigh, he is not prepared to meet his Lord."

"No man in the city of London, when the great judgment day comes, will be able to stand before God and state that he never had the chance to be good."

The minister announced that Wellington Street Church had responded nobly to the call for help from the northern fire sufferers, and over two hundred dollars, as well as clothing, was donated by the church members.

SORRY MISNAMING PIPER'S GET ABOUT

Building Inspector A. M. Piper is in high spirits again. He reported Monday that he had received a suitable apology from the party who rose up at the civic mass meeting last week and referred to his means of transportation as a "car."

discarded to the waste paper basket. It's news that is wanted; something you see, not a funny conversation or an old joke.

SEES NO DANGER IN COOKED MEATS

Dr. Downham Advises Food
Be Well Done To Avoid Tubercular Germs.

"Cook meat well," was the advice Monday from Dr. W. S. Downham, London's medical officer of health.

Dr. Downham replies to the question emanating from several citizens recently with respect to the consumption of butchered cattle after tubercular milk tests.

"Why is it that cows can be butchered and sold for consumption after their milk has been condemned?" is the question that the medical officer has been asked.

"It is quite all right," explains Dr.
Downham, "if the tuberculosis has not progressed too far. The cattle are inspected at the provincial abattoir by competent experts who will insure that no meat is passed that will endanger the health of the consumer."

The cooking of the meat will kill any germs that may be apparent, he declares, adding that cooking the meat thoroughly lessens the danger from contagion. It is the same principle he points out, as boiling suspicious water to insure that it will be pure.

SEARCH FOR CURE BEGAN IN LONDON

Dr. F. Miller Claims Dr. Banting Began Experiments on Diabetes Treatment
in City.

That the discovery leading up to the wonderful treatment for diabetes, recently worked out by Dr. F. G.
Banting, now on the staff of Toronto University, was begun while he was teaching at the Western University Medical School, was the assertion of officials at Western University today.

Dr. Banting was instructor in physiology at the Western University Medical School in 1920-21, assisting Dr. F. E. Miller. During that time, Dr. Miller stated, he proved of considerable assistance in research work connected with a work on the cerebellum, which has since been published in England.

He announced his idea on diabetes research to me while he was working with me," said Dr. Miller, "and I encouraged him. His main goal in the medical world was not practice, but research. We wanted him to stay here, and he wanted to remain, but at the same time the new medical school was far from completed, and we were forced to lose him to Toronto."

Dr. Banting lectured in this city recently before the Western Ontario Medical Academy on his treatment of diabetes, and prominent men in the medical world acknowledged his treatment as a great advance in the modern fight against disease.

"WELL-EARNED VACATION" COMING TO MAYOR WILSON

Ald. John Ashton, Acting Mayor, Enjoys Holiday From Street Railway.

Alderman John Ashton is enjoying a few days' holidays from the London Street Railway Company, and Monday whiled away an hour or so at the city hall, acting as mayor.

Mayor Wilson dropped in for a chat with the city clerk and other officials to arrange for meetings and to clear up other details.
His worship announced that next week would witness the commencement of a "well-earned vacation."
"I haven't had one since the first of the year, and now I propose to take a week," he threatened to all and sundry, as he passed out.

TELLS STORY OF BRAVE WORKERS

Colonel I. Unsworth Lauds Courage of Salvation Army Missionaries.

Relates Experiences Gained in Long Service in Many Fields.

Graphic and inspiring was the address, delivered in the Salvation Army Citadel Sunday afternoon by Colonel Isaac Unsworth, on "Army Work in Foreign Fields."

Col. Unsworth was able to speak from the far-sighted and intelligent viewpoint of a man who has helped to establish the army in practically every country in the world, from the time the first army missionaries were sent to Ireland to the present time, when the army flag waves in every corner of the earth.

The astounding courage and endurance of the army officers in their work amongst the poor and outcast of the world was made manifest by Col. Unsworth, who gave in detail instances of where army men and women had given in their lives and all the associations of home to go and labor in the leper colonies of the West Indies, in many cases, contracting themselves the dread disease against which they fought.

One case was that of a famous English eye specialist, who gave up a successful practice at home, enlisted in the army, and made the request that he be assigned duties in the most difficult post with which the army had to deal. He was sent to the Dutch West Indies, where, on account of filthy conditions, more blindness is caused than in any other part of the world, and here, from eight in the morning till twelve at night, his great skill is used in alleviating the distress of others.

There was great encouragement in the tales Col. Unsworth had to tell of instances where the army had gained a foothold in foreign fields and was making its influence for the better felt in people of every rank and caste.

He spoke of the progress of the army in India, and pointed out that the army had not only laid hold of the man in the gutter, but had true converts in every caste of which India has so many.

NORTH LONDON RESIDENTS TO PROTEST FIRE REPORT

Not Satisfied With Aldermen Who
"Filed" Recent Statement From Underwriters.

Certain residents of North London are not altogether satisfied with the aldermen who "filed" the recent report from the provincial fire underwriters.
A petition has been circulated, asking that some action be taken with respect to the claim set forth in the report terming the fire protection for North London as inadequate and condemning the council because No. 4 fire hall was closed.

Many signatures have been secured on the petition. It is reported, but it is just a question now whether the north end residents will make their protest to the present aldermen or wait until after the election.

LIVE, LAUGH AND LOVE

To live, laugh, love one's friends, and be loved by them, is to bask in the real sunshine of life. Other things are incidental; these are important.

Police Warn Cyclists To Fit Machines With Proper Lights

CYCLISTS, turn on your lights! Police are convinced that the time is ripe for a rigid campaign against bicycle owners and drivers of horse-drawn vehicles who have failed to comply with the city bylaws that all vehicles must carry front and rear lights after dark and before dawn.

Chief Birrell stated that for some time there was a scarcity of proper lights being sold in the city, so his officers were not very keen on enforcing the law.
But now lights in sufficient quantity have been put in stock by city dealers, and the chief says there is no further excuse for violations of the ordinance.
To date no cases have been prosecuted under the bylaw, the officers contenting themselves with warning offenders.

WILL GIVE TALKS ON LORD'S PRAYER

Rev. Bowley Green Begins Instructive Service at Talbot Street Church.

Taking the first few words of the Lord's Prayer as his Sunday morning text, Rev. Bowley Green at Talbot Street Baptist Church on Sunday morning delivered the first of a series of sermons on the Lord's Prayer. At the outset he stated that this was not a prayer for the world at large, but for the Christian people, and it had to be used with the greatest reverence and feeling.
There was nothing in it that could be approached with a feeling of flippancy, and it was the property of the Christians and not the property of the world. It may be repeated by all, but prayed only by the true disciple. It means a very great deal to pray the words "Thy kingdom come," or "Forgive us our debts," if not used in the proper spirit it can be turned into the most pronounced blasphemy.

The words "Our Father," give the attitude of the person making use of the prayer. In an earthly sense the child in the home never doubts his right to address his father. He considers his father is the greatest man he knows, and also knows he has every right to come with his requests to him. So the Christian is told to come with boldness to the throne of grace in order that he may find strength to help him in time of trouble.

Dr. Green stated his objection to the teaching of the universal fatherhood of God in a spiritual sense. A man may be right, but not righteous, and the unrighteous man is not a child of God.

VAGRANT SECURES CHANCE TO WORK

Because he was confident he could obtain work if he was allowed his freedom, Francis Phillips, who claims Brantford as his home town, was allowed out on suspended sentence when he appeared in police court this morning after being on remand for two weeks on a vagrancy charge.

Police endeavored to get in touch with his relatives while he was in custody, but only received refusal on the part of an uncle to have anything to do with the youth as a reward for their efforts.

Phillips was told if he was brought back again he would be sentenced for the crime of which he had been convicted.
