WOMAN IS SAVED BY QUICK ACTION

Bucket of Water Quenches the Flames Which Enveloped Mrs. W. T. Oldridge.

Quick action of Clifford Oldridge, who threw a bucketful of water over his mother when he saw her hair ablaze, probably prevented fatal injuries to Mrs. W. T. Oldridge, 338 Thames street, yesterday.

Mrs. Oldridge did not suffer serious injuries, but will be confined to her bed for a day or two suffering from shock.

Mrs. Oldridge had lit the jets in the gas oven and a few minutes later opened the door. A flame burst forth, enveloping the head of the woman and setting her hair afire. She also suffered painful burns to the face and neck.

After examining the stove the gas company blamed the explosion on water in the main pipes, which the company is now having dug up.

Asked to comment upon "water in the mains," E. V. Buchanan, manager of the public utilities commission, stated this morning that it could only be water in the gas pipe itself. Mr. Buchanan pointed out that the gas company has water traps in its pipes to catch the water, which is then frequently drawn off from these traps, and that further Thames street is one of the lowest streets in town.

FAIR CROWD 2,000 AT DORCHESTER

School Fair Establishes Record For Attendance and Good Exhibits.

Dorchester school fair, held yesterday, established a record attendance at school exhibitions in Middlesex county with an attendance of over 2,000. Pupils of fourteen schools exhibited produce from school and home gardens, while the poultry and dairy classes were extremely heavy, R. A. Finn of the Middlesex branch of the department of agriculture states.

Six schools took part in the parade, with Dorchester village school being adjudged the winner. The boys and girls depicted the days of 1825 and dressed in quaint old costumes, carried spinning wheels, flails, oxen yokes, cradles etc. S. S. No. 16 Dorchester was second and S. S. No. 19 third.

There were fifteen entries in the public - speaking contest, won by Hazel Shackleton of S. S. No. 16, who was presented with a bronze medal. Cyril Pegsain of Avon was second.

ACCOUNTING OF MONEYS SOUGHT IN COURT WRIT

Walter Webb, Thorndale, administrator of the estate of the late Jane Logan, has issued a supreme court writ, through Bachner & Ramsay, against Rossie M. Urquhart of West Nissouri, asking for an accounting of moneys, the property of Jane Logan, and for payment of the same to the plaintiff, with other goods and assets in possession of the defendant.

TWO LONDON WOMEN NAMED AMONG 44 COMMISSIONERS

First Women of Conference to Become Delegates to Higher Church Courts.

HIGH ON BALLOT

Only two women, Mrs. W. R. McIntosh and Mrs. J. M. McEvoy, both of London, will be numbered among the 44 commissioners to the next general council from the London United church conference, which held its inaugural organization meeting in Metropolitan church here this week.

Such representation granted to the women is even greater, however, in proportion than that in the London conference itself, since only three of the eight presbyteries named women delegates, and there were only eight women among 772 ministerial and lay delegates to the conference.

Women had been chosen as delegates in the former London Methodist conference for eight years or more, but when asked, prominent former Presbyterian ministers stated that no women had ever been members of the old Hamilton and London Presbyterian synod, or commissioners therefrom to the general assembly of the church.

London presbytery had one woman, Mrs. John Henderson, among its 101 delegates to the London conference; Essex presbytery had three women, Mrs. Albert Barnes, Miss M. Rawlins and Mrs. William Selkirk, among its 60 delegates; while Middlesex presbytery had four women, Mrs. J. M. McEvoy, Mrs. E. A. McCann, Mrs. D. L. McCrae and Mrs. A. Harvey, among its 198 delegates.

The selection of Mrs. McIntosh, wife of Rev. W. R. McIntosh, D.D., King street, church, and Mrs. McEvoy, wife of J. M. McEvoy, K.C., famed as a criminal lawyer, is all the more noteworthy in view of the fact that they stood third and fourth respectively on the general ballot for the election of eleven lay representatives from the conference at large.

Thus the United church has already recognized the rights of women to be named as delegates to conference and as commissioners to the general council, but, peculiarly enough, two women, members of the former Presbyterian church, which lagged behind in the matter, have been honored in being named commissioners to the next general council.

WOMAN COMMISSIONER.

Mrs. J. M. McEvoy, president of the London presbyterial of the former Presbyterian church, one of two women chosen as commissioners to the general council of the United church of Canada by the London conference. Mrs. McEvoy stood fourth in the list of 44. Mrs. W. R McIntosh is the other woman commissioner from London conference.

NO FAULT TO FIND WITH GAMES OF CHANCE

Head of Western Fair Says They Were Run to Suit the Police.

Commenting on the charges made by Rev. W. E. Millson at the United church conference, J. H. Saunders, president of the Western Fair, made the following statement: "They have these games of chance at church bazaars. I do not see where we have done anything wrong in allowing them. The games are under the supervision of the chief of police, and he found nothing wrong with them, and as far as the fair board is concerned we have nothing to be ashamed of."

"I do not know what they call children. When a boy reaches the age of fifteen in his belief he is a man, and if any younger children played them we do not know of it," he continued.

"In allowing the wheels of chance and the other games we are not breaking any laws, and in my opinion we have done nothing to be ashamed of," he added.

APPOINTED TO TORONTO.

Captain Chapman of the children's home has been appointed to a post in the Salvation army headquarters at Toronto. Captain MacLaren from the Toronto rescue home, will succeed Captain Chapman.

COUNTY BILLED FOR $32,322.64

Share of Secondary School Costs Is Assessed Upon Middlesex.

A little bill for $32,322.64 from the London board of education was received by County Clerk John Stuart this morning. The letter contained a statement stating that this amount was due the city for the maintenance of 412 county pupils at the London collegiates and Technical school for the past year. The amount is some $8,000 more than was paid by the county a year ago, Mr. Stuart stated.

There were 157 county pupils attending Central collegiate and 48 at the East London high school. Technical school registration from Middlesex in 1924-25 was 134.

AGED ROMEO JAILED FOR TREATING LADY

Thamesford Man Gave Liquor to Young Indian Girl.

John A. Haycock, Thamesford veteran of 65 summers, fell prey to the glances of a dusky Indian damsel on the Muncey reserve yesterday. The young lady was thirsty and John, just every bit as gallant as he was 40 years ago, supplied her with a beverage that is frowned on by Ben Spence and former Attorney-Gen. Raney.

Constable Nelson of the R. C. M. P. happened along as the long black bottle was changing hands with the result that John slept in the county jail last night. He was fined $100 or two months in jail by County Magistrate Hawkshaw this morning. He took the days and thereby cheated himself of any chance of attending the Muncey fair today.

WEEK'S ADJOURNMENT IN LANGRIDGE CASE

London Township Man in Hawkshaw's Court Pleads Guilty to Serious Offence.

Charles J. Langridge, London township farmer, pleaded not guilty when he appeared before Magistrate Hawkshaw this morning charged with a serious offense. Crown Attorney Albert M. Judd asked for a week's adjournment, as the star witness for the crown would be unable to appear for a week at least, being at present in Bethesda hospital.

Langridge has been in jail for three weeks, having been brought here from Regina by Provincial Constable Mennie, who carried the warrant for his arrest. The prisoner was represented by B. A. Ramsay of Buchner & Ramsay.

NEW SUBSTATION CARRIES ONLY 1,000 HORSEPOWER

The new Carling street substation is gradually becoming alive, since at the present time the station is carrying a load of 1,00 horsepower, compared with its full capacity of 5,000 horsepower.

The station, which is No. 4 in the series of nine substations in the city, has cost about $125,000 and will serve a four-block radius of the downtown district and all of London west, relieving the Horton street station, which in the past has carried as high as 8,000 horsepower.

The city is taking about 20,000 horsepower at the present time, but this will run up to 25,000 horsepower before the close of the year.

FOUR SPEEDERS PAY UP IN CITY POLICE COURT

Four speeders, caught in different parts of the city, decided the wisest thing to do was to admit their guilt, and Police Court Clerk John Moule collected $10 and costs from each today before court opened.

A cyclist caught riding without a light, paid $2 and costs, as did one who preferred the sidewalk to the road for riding.

UTILITIES MEN DISCUSS RATES

Conference of Hydro Engineers at Toronto Presided Over by Gaby.

E. V. Buchanan, manager of the public utilities commission, was in Toronto yesterday as a member of the rate committee of the Ontario Municipal Electric association. Though domestic consumers' rates were discussed, particularly as to electric stoves, and also store lighting commercial rates, Mr. Buchanan stated this morning that there will be no changes made during the next three months.

Smaller cities have felt the addition of electric stoves in cities like Stratford, Galt and Brantford in so far as the use of these electrical appliances adds to their peak load, while the general feeling seems to be that commercial rates for store lighting might be lowered.

All domestic consumers are required to pay three cents floor space and two cents for the first number of kilowatt hours and so much for each hour thereafter. The question, which is highly technical, covers the wide variety in the first number of kilowatt hours covered by the two-cent charge in the different centres served by the commission in the province. London, because of its diversified population, workingmen, business and professional men, does not suffer with regard to electric stoves, and the peak load nearly to the same degree as do smaller cities. More important, however, is the fact that the commission has made a special effort to get business in the off-peak hours, and thus catch up on the amount of power that has to be paid for on the peak basis.

The conference at Toronto yesterday was for engineers and was presided over by F. A. Gaby, chief engineer of the H. E. P. C. The whole question of consumers' rates will be taken up further before any change is made in the existing rates.

PERMANENT COURT HERE FOR FENCE DISPUTES

Board of Referees Ready For Any Argument That May Arise.

London has a more or less permanent board of fence referees, who are ready to hold court on any fence disputes that may arise. W. P. Near, city engineer, Donald Graham, sheriff, and R. H. Sanders, relief inspector, form the personnel of the court.

Last year a windstorm wrought havoc with numbers of line fences in London. Posts and pickets were torn apart and hurled about. On the heels of the storm, fence quarrels arose and when it came to rebuilding, the city engineer had his hands filled trying to make peace.

It is not so long since the courts ruled against a Dundas street property owner and made him shave a whole foot off the side of his building. The entire wall had to be rebuilt to conform with the line specified by the court.

In New York city the case was paralleled, though the prosecuted man went farther. In cutting off the side of his building he removed two feet instead of one, as was required. A few years later his neighbor fell into the same trap and in rebuilding put his wall a foot over the lot line. Proceedings were entered and the second offender got the same judgment as the first.

PENSION IS SOUGHT BY LONDON VETERAN

Private Patrick Murphy Has Case Taken Up At Ottawa.

A pathetic case of the returned soldier has just been brought to the attention of the pensions board at Ottawa. It concerns Private Patrick Murphy, who joined the pioneer battalion in September, 1915. The soldier was returned to London in the fall of 1917 unfit for further army service.

This morning Mr. Murphy said that when he returned from overseas he was unfit for duty, but tried to hold out a little longer by doing simple guard duty without drill at Carling Heights.

In December he was taken off duty as unfit for anything and removed to the hospital. Since that time he has been in and out of hospitals, and is now without a pension. Cataracts have developed on his eyes and his weakness and inability to work leaves him without hope of support. His case is being taken up at Ottawa.

REGULAR TRAINS REPLACE SPECIAL TO PRESTON GAME

The special train scheduled to go to Preston on Saturday afternoon for the London-Preston game has been cancelled. Fans planning on making the trip, however, can secure special rates on the C. N. R. train, leaving London at 12:25, or on the C. P. R. train, leaving at 1:25. Both these trains will be in Galt in time to make connections for Preston. The radial will arrive in Preston before the game commences.

TENDERS FOR SEIZED NETS TO CLOSE NEXT FRIDAY

Tenders for the purchase of American fishing nets, seized some time ago by the department of game and fisheries off Port Dover, will close at 12 noon on Oct. 2 at the office of Col. Emmerton, Royal Bank building. There is other fishing equipment to be disposed of at the same time, Col. Emmerton stated.

MILLER ADDRESSES TECUMSEH CLUB

Collegiate Head Says London Pupils Are of High Type.

Principal E. A. Miller of the central collegiate institute gave an inspiring talk before the members of the Tecumseh avenue mothers' club last night on the subject, "Some of Our Problems."

Emphasizing the seriousness of the problem which was confronting all those interested in the welfare of young people today, the speaker at the same time stressed the fact that London was more fortunate than other cities.

He was constantly getting from new members of the collegiate staff, the reassurance that the pupils attending the London schools were of a very high type, so far as general attitude and conduct was concerned. They felt this in the light of what they had seen elsewhere.

Mr. Miller spoke of the seriousness of choosing a vocation. With such strong competition in all kinds of work, he said, only those who had ability were the best prepared, and had the habit of work established, were going to be able to secure and hold the best jobs. Strong competition would be found in such professions as law, medicine, teaching, business, secretarial work, and so on. And those interested in helping young people make their choice should consider the openings possible in the various professions, and the characteristics necessary to success.

A big problem was the problem of home study. Mr. Miller saw real need of home work in connection with the regular courses of study. In addition, he believed that real benefit accrued to the students through home study. However, it should be regulated both in the school and in the home in the interests of the health of the students.

The speaker emphasized the results of irregularity of attendance at school. He expressed the desirability of more home life as a solution of many problems. Home was the foundation of the national life, and was the crux of the situation so far as success was concerned.

The school was beautifully decorated with flowers and autumn foliage for this, the first meeting of the fall, the new president, Mrs. J. W. Calver, in the chair. Mrs. E. Plewes read the Scripture lesson, and J. T. Parkinson explained about a new screen for the school lantern. A ways and means committee was appointed as follows: Mrs. E. Plewes convener), Mrs. Hollins, Mrs. Kidd, Mrs. S. Wilson, Mrs. A. Holt, Miss C. Branton. Vocal solos by Miss Jean Hueston and Miss Winnifred Munroe completed the program. A large number of new members were enrolled.

COLES IN THE RUNNING IF WHITE STEPS OUT

little likelihood of his accepting. Arthur Mould, who was the candidate in the last federal election, made a good showing, but is unlikely to accept the honor a second time. Ex-Ald. John Colbert's attitude is not known, nor has Dr. Stevenson declared himself, but both were present at last night's meeting, and made no move to withdraw their names.

The nomination of L. R. Menzies, president of the local branch of the Communist party of Canada, and the fact that the meeting to select a candidate will be an open one, puts a very significant angle on the situation. There seems little doubt that the Communist members of the party would like to see their candidate in the field, and if they can muster sufficient members at the open nomination meeting there is a good prospect of their hope being realized. There will then be no alternative before the local Labor party but to support a Communist candidate or retire from the contest. The executive meeting of the party called for tomorrow night will have much food for reflection.

Liberal Executive Called.

The Liberal party has not, so far, disclosed its hand, but a meeting of the executive has been called to fix a date for a convention meeting. Supporters of Lieut.-Col. C. H. Reason, who has already accepted two nominations, assert confidently that his name will also be placed before the Liberal convention. But his peculiar tactics in accepting nomination from a returned soldier group and later from the East London Liberal association, will not, it is stated, help his chances of receiving the nomination, especially as several other strong candidates are likely to be proposed.

BOARD WANTS EXAM. RESULTS PUBLISHED

Matter of School Lists To Be Discussed Wth the City Newspapers.

Representatives of the board of education will meet with representatives of the local newspapers to discuss the question of publishing public school and secondary school results.

The board members will discuss the question from the angle that the results should be published, while the newspapers will explain their side of the question in an endeavor to arrive at some amicable solution of the problem.

The new system inaugurated by the provincial department of education a year or so ago, splitting up the examinations so that students can write a variety number of subjects each year, has rendered publication of the secondary school results in anything like concise form almost impossible.

The special committee appointed by the board to enquire into the matter met yesterday, and decided to interview the press after which they will make some recommendation to the board.

Odd Socks, Reversed Vests, Silence With Fair Co-eds Is Diet For "U" Freshmen

A special citting of the Italian senate is to be held before its regular resumption of work, for the purpose of administering the oath to Crown Prince Humbert, who became a member recently upon attaining his majority.

Collars Banned—Hats To Be Provided by Generous Sophs.

TIES MUST BE BRIGHT

Towels To Conceal Locks of Freshettes—Two Pairs of Hose.

University freshmen learned the worst this morning when their dress requirements for next week were announced on the college of arts bulletin board.

For one whole week, beginning Monday morning at 9 o'clock, the freshmen will pay the penalty placed upon them by the sophomores.

Freshmen will appear at the university with their vests back to front. Their socks will be on the outside of their pants and they will not be mates.

Brilliant ties of any hue that may be deemed brilliant by the sophomores must be worn by the new students. Further, the men will not be permitted to speak to any of the women in the college halls for a period of one week.

Collars are banned. But hats may be worn. In fact they will be provided by the generous sophs. No sample has yet been issued, but they will likely be colorful and probably of unusual sizes.

All freshmen will have to be at the university buildings at 9 o'clock each morning, whether they have lectures or not, says the bulletin.

Considerable interest was manifested in the announcement this morning. It is understood that a meeting of the sophomores has been called to decide on the punishment for those who violate the sacred laws.

Black Stockings.

None the less interesting are the regulations for the freshettes. The women of the first year will wear long black stockings of the pre-roll era. This harking back to the dim and uncomfortable past is not without its compensation, for over the black silk hose another pair of white stockings are to be worn and rolled. It is fondly expected that the girls will receive an ovation on Monday morning.

The headdress calls for a Turkish bath harem effect. Each freshette will coil a towel about her bobbed locks to completely conceal them from the idle gaze of a student public.

To create a bizarre effect the freshettes will wear last year's middies back to front. This represents the lengths to which co-operative movements go, for the men are wearing their vests vice versa.

Salt Around Necks.

So much for the official announcement. Unofficially it is hinted that the freshettes will be asked to wear little bags of salt about their necks. Rumor has it that a sophomore sewing circle, a sort of ladies' aid, has been busy fashioning the little salt containers for a week or more.

There is a probability that hair ribbons of a violent yellow and a noisy red will be part of Monday morning's show, but sophomores were silent on that point this morning.

YOUTH WHO ESCAPED FROM MIMICO IS CAUGHT

A London youth, who escaped from the Mimico reformatory school about three weeks ago, was caught last night by Detective Harry Down. He will be returned to that institution today.

MODERN GIRL FACES GREATER DIFFICULTIES

Simcoe Mothers' Club Hears Inspiring Talk by Mrs. McLean.

"A Mother's Duty To Her Girl," was the subject of an illuminating talk given last night before the Simcoe street mothers' club by Mrs. A. A. McLean.

"If the modern mother would take example from Mary, the mother of Jesus, she would have made an ideal mother," said the speaker.

She believed the girls of today had a more difficult fight than the girls of their mother's day, because there were so many more things for them to combat. This made it more difficult for the mothers of today, who had to be councillors and comrades of their daughters.

An attractive little program included vocal solos by Miss Bertha Bradford, with Mrs. Baker as accompanist.

Mrs. Nelson Foster was named convener of the relief committee, to be assisted by Mrs. Thatcher.

Arrangements were made for a bazaar to be held in November, the following conveners being named: Aprons, Mrs. Dayton, Mrs. Coyle; handkerchiefs, Mrs. Mason; fancy work, Mrs. Nelson Foster; home cooking, Mrs. John Curnoe; candy, Mrs. William Hartley; tearoom, Mrs. Harry Bradford, Mrs. Pierce; ice cream, Mrs. William Mitchell; fish pond, Mrs. Thompson.

The next meeting will take the form of a Halloween masquerade.

FOREST CITY CHAPTER HOLDS PIONEER NIGHT

First Officers of Organization Are Present From Calgary.

Last night was pioneer night for the Forest City chapter, O. E. S., and a number of distinguished guests as well as the chapter members gathered in the Alma block for the event. Among the honored guests were Mrs. Shorthill and Mr. Shoebottom of Calgary, first worthy matron and patron of the Forest City chapter, who presented the chapter members, who date back to their time of office, with pretty certificates.

Other outstanding guests were the district deputy worthy grand matron, Mrs. Fred Tullett, Mrs. Ben Noble, the worthy grand Ruth; Mrs. Robertson and E. T. Essery, both grand officers. Representatives from the other city chapters were also present.

The hall was beautifully decorated for the event, the guests being received by the worthy matron and patron, Mrs. Charles Connor and Charles Westman.

Supper was served under the direction of Mrs. Dawkins and her able assistants, followed by an hour spent in dancing, with Mrs. Mary E. Young at the piano. The energies of the chapter are now devoted toward the bazaar, to be held in November.

BRINDER AND GOLDSTEIN RENEW BAIL FOR WEEK

Owing to the fact that their counsel, J. M. McEvoy, K.C., was unable to be present, the trial of Lewis Brinder and Alex Goldstein, alleged pals of Ed. Harlton in Middlesex county chicken thefts, was postponed for another week.

Bail of $4,000 was renewed for each man by their bondsmen, who were present in court. Crown Attorney Judd stated that the trial might possibly proceed before the week was up.

COATS AND VALUABLES STOLEN AT REVIVAL

Police are investigating complaints by members of the Pentecostal assembly that while the nightly revival services are in progress there, sneak thieves have been entering the cloak rooms and removing articles of value from pockets. Several coats have also been stolen.

FISHERMAN DISCOVERS HUMAN REMAINS IN SAND

While fishing in the Aux Sable river, near Port Franks, W. G. Gale of this city came across an old skeleton buried in about a foot of sand. The skeleton had been buried but in sandy ground, and the wind had practically uncovered it. He reported his find to the police.

KIWANIANS BACK HOTEL CAMPAIGN

Members Will Raise Individual Subscriptions, and Teams Renew Effort.

Hearing Major Gordon Ingram and Major W. H. Wood speak on the hotel stock campaign today, the Kiwanis club again affirmed its support for the project and urged its members to purchase the preferred stock to the full ability of their purses and beyond.

Representing the hotel campaign committee, both speakers outlined the progress already made, but pointed out that more enthusiastic work will have to be carried on to attain the local objective which will assure the coming of the hotel. Team captains among the Kiwanis club will go out with renewed vigor to raise their totals, whilst the members will raise their individual stock subscriptions.

A. R. Ford, elected lieutenant-governor for the Ontario-Quebec Kiwanis district, was given three cheers by the club, which also won the trophy donated by the Montreal club for an attendance of 74.5 per cent during the past year. Sam. Baker gave a splendid report of the Ottawa convention held this week.

J. B. Hay, past president, who presided, put on the boost for the day, the prizes of which went to Frank McLaughlin and Ernie Moore.

The speech of the day was given by George Sulman, Chatham, world traveller, who painted a most interesting and graphic word picture of the island of Java, belonging to the Dutch East Indies group. Mr. Sulman spoke of the density of the population, 40,000,000 people on an island 900 by 75 miles in extent, the 900 miles of pavement, the perfect hotels, the different points of interest, and the customs of the country. The speaker, who stated that he has visited almost every country in the world, declared that, with the exception of Ceylon, Java is the most beautiful island in the whole world.

TOWN-PLANNING LAW PROVEN EFFECTIVE

Strides Taken by Kitchener and Waterloo Indicated by Judge's Decision.

The wide scope of town planning laws is stressed by Ald. Edwin Smith in discussing the action of Mr. Justice Lennox of the supreme court of Ontario in continuing an injunction against a Kitchener man, restraining hi mfrom building an apartment house in a restricted area.

Kitchener and Waterloo have made some considerable strides in the matter of town planning. In order to improve their districts they have adopted zoning ordinances. Mrs. Adeline Bitzner attempted to erect an apartment house on Benton street, a restricted area. The action of the supreme court resulted. An appeal is expected.

"Y" BOWLERS TO MEET.

A meeting of the Y. M. C. A. bowlers will take place in the red triangle building on Wednesday. It is expected that the Y league will number ten teams this year. Last winter six teams, drawn from all sections of the membership, enjoyed a series of games.

TRESPASSER ALLOWED TO GO.

John Knapp, 24 years old, who gave his address as the United States, was permitted to go on condition that he get out of the country, by Magistrate Graydon this morning. Knapp was caught in the C. P. R. yards, and admitted that he had ridden the bumpers from the border.
