NEW BRUNSWICK'S FISCAL YEAR CLOSED

Receipts from Motor Vehicle Licenses Up to Expectations.

Fredericton, Oct. 31.—New Brunswick's fiscal year closes to-day, and the Provincial Government will meet here to-morrow.

Receipts from licenses, under the Motor Vehicle Act, are among the sources from which the revenue has been up to expectations. The estimate for receipts from automobile licenses was $275,000, and it is said the actual figures are somewhat in excess of that amount. That the receipts of stampage dues had been beyond the expectations of the department was all that Col. T. G. Loggie, Deputy Minister of Lands and Mines, would say.

DOES YOUR SOIL NEED LIME?

How many farmers can answer the question? Can you Mr. Reader? If so, the following may be of some benefit to show you how you can increase your crops by the use of lime.

The average soil in Northern New Brunswick is known to be more or less sour or in other words acid. This acidity tends to check the growth of plants in general because it furnishes a medium in which the micro-organisms of the soil cannot live or work properly. A neutralization of this acidity is therefore necessary in order to furnish the proper medium for the development of micro-organisms, or bacteria which promote plant growth. Lime is the element used in general farm practice to bring about this change from a sour to a sweet condition as it acts chemically with the acids of the soil solutions and being itself a base or alkali it neutralizes the acids.

Another function of lime in soils is the physical change it brings about. It makes clay soils less sticky and more crumbly and more easily cultivated; water passes through them more readily as the result of increased porosity, and such soils furnish more congenial conditions in general for the growth of plant roots.

When used on sandy soils, in small amounts preferably in the form of carbonate as ground limestone, it tends to act like a cement in holding soil particles together thus enabling the sandy soil to hold moisture more tenaciously.

From the above it can readily be seen that the application of limestone can be beneficial or practically all of our Northern New Brunswick soils. Results will depend much on the quantity applied and the crop grown. For example some crops are more responsive to its application than others.

"Leguminous plants" for instance as clovers, peas, vetches, beans etc., and some root crops especially beets and mangels.

The quantity of ground limestone generally required per acre range from two to four tons. This can be applied at any time but preferably in the fall on plowed land to be used for spring crops as well as on permanent grass land.

Our Provincial Department of Agriculture has a lime crusher in operation at Petit Rocher which can supply the needs of the Northern counties at a relatively low figure.

Further information would be gladly given upon application to the Agricultural Office, Bathurst, N. B.

FRENCH BLUEBEARD

Has Lunched Another Shrewd Effort to Obtain Three Months Delay in Murder Charges.

Paris, Oct. 29.—Henri Desire Landru, the French "Bluebeard," has launched another shrewd effort to obtain a three months delay in connection with the thirteen murder charges which won for him his title as a woman slayer. Although his case is set for trial at Versailles on November 8, it was only last Monday that the judges handed to him 50,000 pages of closely written evidence on which the State relies to send him to the guillotine.

Landru, however, insists that he has a right to study the evidence just quired four months to digest the dossier.

Berlin, Oct. 29.—Unconfirmed reports that a billion dollar loan had been floated in the United States by Germany to apply to her reparations account yesterday forced the dollar, which had soared to 190 back to 170, the disastrous fall of the mark as compared with the dollar has caused German official circles to estimate that maintenance of an embassy at Washington at the present rate of exchange will cost more than the operation of the entire home government.

MEMORIAL FOR NEWSBOY HERO.

Boston, Mass., Oct. 28.—A bronze tablet erected by the newsboys of Greater Boston in memory of Albert Edward Scott, the fifteen-year-old Brookline newsboy who died beside his Channel gun in 1916 after having promoted to join clubs in the private life of the injured thirty-one Germans, was unveiled at the Brookline Town Hall to-day with exercises at which William Jennings Bryan delivered the principal address. The exercises were attended by hundreds of newsboys of Boston and vicinity, all of whom were furnished free transportation to Brookline by the local street railways. A band of 300 pieces came from New York City to furnish the music for the occasion.

The memorial, which has been set into the wall near the entrance to the town hall, cost the newsboys $2,000. It is a reproduction of a painting by Gale Hawkins based on official photographs of the region where "Scotty" was killed, and shows the heroic newsboy lying on his gun after the battle. Beneath the bronze is the inscription, "Newsboys' Memorial to Albert Edward Scott." A brief account of his military record.

President Harding and Vice-President Coolidge, who were invited to attend the exercises, expressed regret and testified to their approval of the memorial. President Harding, in a letter to the director of the Roosevelt Newsboys' Association, which had charge of raising the funds, approved of Mr. Bryan making the principal address in his stead, remarking that the former Secretary of State as speaker would assure a "most appealing address."

Scotty's history is familiar to all who knew the story of the World War. Less than a month after he graduated from the public grammar school in Brookline, he enlisted in July, 1917, on Boston Common, in the Ninth Regiment, which later became a part of the 101st Regiment. He was in France in a few weeks, and at Epiais, on July 23, 1918, he volunteered for extra-hazardous service.

"See that path, 'Scotty'!" said his lieutenant. "That's your target; not a Hun must cross it."

"Yes, sir," said Scotty, saluted and took up his "sho-sho" gun. Single-handed he held the path while he killed or crippled thirty-one Germans before he died from his wounds.

A man who was home hunting discovered the kind of a house he wanted. The door was opened by a pretty parlour maid. He asked her some questions nervously for he was a timid man. Recently remembering the servant problem he said:

"And are you to look after the house?"

"No," answered the maid; "if you please sir, I am to be let alone."

PROSPECTS FOR SEMI-PRO. HOCKEY

"Banned Amateurs Taking the Jump into Faster Hockey."

Madam J.P. Jol. shru emvyp vlygu

"That there are excellent prospects for semi-professional hockey in Canada on a coast-to-coast scale, with a play-off at the end of the season between the Maritime and Montreal leagues at least," is the statement of E. W. Ferguson, sporting editor of the Montreal Herald, and one of the best-known sporting writers in the Dominion, now visiting his former home here.

Montreal will have an independent league the coming winter, the Mount Royal Arena having already closed for dates, and information of the league in Montreal it was stated will suggest in Montreal the City League, as it is likely to include the cream of the Montreal team, and one of the best-known players in the Dominion.

BOY SCOUT MOVEMENT'S OPPORTUNITY FOR COMMUNITY AND NATIONAL SERVICE.

During the great war there were thousands of young men in Canada who volunteered for service in the Army and Navy who were prompted by a sense of duty and loyalty. Those men, realizing full well the magnitude of the sacrifice they were making, volunteered themselves and perhaps their lives because they thought they owed this service to Canada and the Empire.

In the Boy Scout Movement there is an opportunity for returned soldiers and others to render their community and the nation a lasting and unimpaired service.

Just to think what greatness Canada will attain as a nation will depend entirely upon the character of her citizens. The boys that are growing up around us today will, in a few years, take their places as citizens and will in turn influence those who follow.

The Boy Scout program is the mill in the stream of boyhood. It provides something useful for every boy to do every minute. Knot tying, first aid, barsting, signalling, training, swimming, hiking, map making and reading, practical study of flowers, plants, trees, earth and sky, are included in the Scout's program for the year. After these things instruction that is the foundation work of all principal trades and professions.

There are thousands of boys in New Brunswick who want it but can not get it. The City of Montreal has a program for every boy to do every minute. Knot tying, first aid, barsting, signalling, training, swimming, hiking, map making and reading, practical study of flowers, plants, trees, earth and sky, are included in the Scout's program for the year. After these things instruction that is the foundation work of all principal trades and professions.

The greatest need of the Movement in Canada and especially in New Brunswick is the need of competent Scoutmasters. Men who are willing to give up a certain amount of their time and thought to the supervision of boys. Men who will take them to their camps and help them with their meetings and their games, who will answer their questions—questions that are not answered at school or at home—who will be their guide and friend in a word who will be their Scoutmaster.

In travelling how often one hears of returned soldiers who are not allowed at school or at home—who will be their guide and friend in a word who will be their Scoutmaster.

You can help the boys' spare time with clean, wholesome, play-work. You can help to keep them off the corners and you can assist in making them better citizens for Canada.

Write to The Boy Scout Association, Box 33, St. John, and full information will be gladly furnished.

"I hope, Jennie, that you have given the matter serious consideration," said a lady to a servant girl who had "given notice" because she was to be married.

"Oh, I have, ma'am," was the earnest reply. "I've been to two fortune tellers and clairvoyants and looked in a sign book and dreamed on a lock of his hair and been to one of those palm-leaf readers and to a medium and they all say to go ahead, ma'am. I ain't one to many reckless lies, ma'am."
