Te-night Callender's minstrels will occupy the boards at the Grand. This company is dated Spectacular Colored minstrels opened last night to a literally packed house, and from the rise of the curtain until the conclusion of the last act there was almost incessant laughter and applause. The first part contains some very acceptable vocal gens, comic songs and, strange to say, much that was new in the way of sjokes. Wallace King gave 'Scotch Lassie Jean' in a superb manner. Lewis Brown's ballad, 'Wait Till the Clouds Roll By.' was rendered also with find By, was rendered also with fine effect, and Billy Kersands' comic refrain, "Mary's Gone Wid a Coon," fairly set the audience wild with delight. In the second part a score of clog dancers were seen to advantage in a zouave drill and picturesque posings. Billy Kersands' specialties were the comedy feature of the evening. The singing of the sextette, Messrs. Morris, King, Brown, Little, Jones and Brown, was a masterpiece of vocal art. A great hit, too, were the Barnyard Sketches of Bob Mack and his little bantam rooster. The performance concluded with a realistic southern sketch entitled 'The Steamboat Landing 'introducing the entire company, All'in all it was the most novel and bril-

THE TORONTO BOARD OF TRADE

t a Special Meeting Yesterday—The Council Report on a Law Without Dis-A special meeting of the Toronto board of trade was held yesterday afternoon to consider the report of the council of the board respecting the passage of a parliamentary act , or the equitable distribution of insolvent debtors' estates. The council reported to the effect that such an act without discharges should be passed.

Mr. W. H. Darling, the president, who ccupied the chair, said that at present there was no act for the dominion as a whole. A trader might be owed money in Manitoba or any other of the provinces, and in order to collect this he must search up the law in each of these localities. There was an act by which a man who was insolvent had the privilege of making an assignment; but it did not provide for the committees for the current year in the valuing of securities held by different

Mr. Wm. Ince said that assigness wer not necessary since there were accountant who could do the work. Mr. G. B. Smith said that a discharge clause would be the curse of Canada and apt to breed insolvency. The old law created thousands of bankrupts where there would not have been one.

Mr. Anderson thought that it was a very arbitrary course to seize on a man's effects arbitrary course to seize on a man's effects without granting him the privilege of a discharge, and selling his goods at one half their real value. The extension of credit, he said, could be made much greater than it was at present, so that there was nothing to be feared on that point.

Mr. Hugh Blain said that if a man knew that it would be impossible for him to get a discharge he would be more apt to buy only those goods for which he could pay. A discharge clause only encouraged men to engage in business who were not prepared

Mr. Thomson (Beatty, Chadwich & Thomson) was then called upon to express his opinions to the board. He said that no Oil. In rheumatic affections, cuts, bruises, etc., occurring among horses, we have yet to find anything equal to the Great German Remedy.

Callender's Colored Minstrels.

Tenight Callender's minstrels will country. and should prevent preferences and fraudu-lent transfers of property. If the cry be without doubt one of the best on the road.

Billy Kersands is known all the world over. The Boston Globe says: "The much-heralded Callender-Haverley Consolidated Spectacular Colored minstrels opened dated Spectacular Colored minstrels opened incurred had to be settled with the man with who have not the necessary capital then it were well to lessen the number. If every man who entered into trade understood that every obligation he incurred had to be settled with the man with who have not the mecessary capital then it were well to lessen the number. If every man who entered into trade understood that every obligation he incurred had to be settled with the man with whom it was made it would have a very salutory effect on trade. The debtor was the one who had most at stake if discharges were granted, for there was no case in which an insolvent debtor has not the power to make what assignment of his assets he thinks best. The law should provide that when a man could not pay his debts an equal distribution of his effects should be made among his creditors. The present state of affairs was calculated to destroy good feeling among creditors themselves. The repeal of the insolvent act had done good rather than an injury to trade.

Mr. Darling then moved, seconded by Mr. Ince, that the report of the council be adopted. Carried.

Mr. Smith then moved a resolution that the board, having heard during the meeting of the death of Hon. John McMurrich, one of the first founders of the association, express regret thereat, and that the whole Mr. McMurrich's name was on the original act of incorporation in 1845. The energy of the company in especially fitting up for the production of this play, which was to have been produced at the Royal, calls for special mention. Every farmer in America is, or should be, nterested in St. Jacobs Oil. WORKMAN CANDIDATES.

(To the Editor of the World.) SIR: As a conservative of some influence, I beg to say that I will support the workingmen's candidates. I do so on principle. The interests of labor are so vast as to over shadow, in vital importance, those which are now so prominent in our legislature. Yet this interest is pushed to the wall because, from social prejudices, the artisan has been systematically excluded from almost every representative body. It is high time Canada shook off this base prejudice and became, in deed and truth, as free a land as we boast she is. We talk very freely indeed in Toronto about talk very freely indeed in Toronto about social troubles of one kind and another; perhaps we should do as well, instead or discussing the causes more or less of so much evil existing, if we set our shoulders to the wheel to lift up to a higher social plane those who are too often driven into objectionable habits by the depressing influences of caste prejudices, which are highly potent yet in Canada.

Let workingmen see that the door of parliament is open to them as freely as to merchants, or landlords, or brewers, and it will be a help to every man who lives by daily wages to rise to a high manhood.
