This motion will likely cause an schools. This motion will likely cause an acrimonious discussion when it comes up. Trustee Ephriam Parsons Roden distinguished himself by handing up a notice of motion instructing the management committee to provide that pupils be taught to write with both hands. The motion recites that there are more right hands than left hands lost by accidents. The board I coked upon this as an off-handed proposal, and left it for future handling. Trustee McMurrich handed in a notice of motion instructing the school manage. ment committee to make the following promotions and transfers of head masters:

A. Hendry, from Winchester street to Niagara street school. A. R. Pyne, from Park to Elizabeth street. Mr. Martin, from Parliament to Park street. Mr. Morrison, transferred from Niagara to Winchester street. Mr. Boddy, transfer

Several passengers of the City of Rome made formal complaint to the steamship's owners upon her recent arrival in New York against their fellow-passengers for gambling during the trip. There are some people who cannet or will not distinguish between an "interesting" game of whist, baccarat or poker and a game that is played for the sole purpose of gain. To them card-playing for beans would not appear in the light of a vice, and church-fair lotteries, in which they would, every one, take a hand, are glorified. London Truth thus apostrophizes the American girl: "She is always the victim of a craze for getting 'into society,' and she is generally envious of those who are already there by hereditary right. She clings to literary and artistic celebrities, in the hope that, by holding on very tight to the acquaintance of some rising novelist or musical composer, she may be lifted into the sunshine of the 'upper ten.' Here she is very often wofully disappointed."

There is truth in the following quaint passage: "God looks not at the oratory of our prayers, how eloquent they are; nor at their geometry, how long they are; nor at their geometry, how many they are; nor at their logic, how methodical they are; but He looks at their sincerity, how spiritual they are." At the same time it may be added, remarks the Churchman, that the oratory, geometry, arithmetic and logic may all be necessary if we would worship in the beauty of holiness.

Hark! Hark! to wisdom's voice,

The cow-byres will cease to smell, When they go up that way.

No doubt they'll prove the elephant

And scientific men, of course,

(Its very, very old.)

In Forepaugh's show's not white;

Should know; they're always right.

But one thing that will puzz'e them;

The thing known as a sandwich,
That's at the Union sold.

The wise men are in town;

And geniuses and clever men Are strolling up and down. They'll analyse the York street mud,

There was the fair fat and forty maiden, and there was the chic flirting damsel of sweet sixteen in white, short armed dress with blue ribbon run in a regular tra-a-la style around her neat, dainty, well-fitting chimesette. Then there was the middle. out Italy. Each town is taking measures of protection regardless of the government. Some post guards so as to prevent travelers entering their precincts until after a quarantine of fifteen or twenty days. Many have closed their gates to everyone. Villages have established armed cordons. In many parts of the peainsula practical anarchy prevails. Travel and traffic are greatly interrupted. Her good old anti-motherly optics flashed fire as she watched the dapper looking clerks pay the most attention to the youngest and best looking of the party. But 'twas ever thus, youth and beauty reign supreme, even in millinery circles. The milliners filled the wholesale houses all day, and the hotel balconies at night fairly groaned beneath their weight. One hundred and forty-five pounds is the average weight of a blonde milliner, brunettes weigh as a general rule five pounds more, excepting of course those of extraordinary build. Many were the smirks and smiles the wholesale men yesterday bestowed on the pretty milliners, knowing as they well do that it is to the country milliner they really have to look to for the sale of the season's importations. The pretty milliner is an institution, to be both loved and respected by the wholesale merchant. And as a rule it is generally carried out.

Newspapers call upon the government to end the spectacle. Official returns of the numbers of cases and deaths are confused and unreliable. According to the latest reports from Naples, there have been 97 fresh cases and 43 deaths within 24 hours.

ROME, Sept. 4.—Evidences of the cholera panic throughout Italy continue to multiply. The populace at Pazzuoli attempted to day to stop the railway service from Naples. A mob here drove a priest who had just arrived from Naples away from the city. At Ovioto travelers are refused entrance into the city. In some places of observation for travelers auspected of illness.

spectators, who admired very much the rich and handsome costumes of the brides and bridesmaids. The party and guests afterwards drove to Mr. Mason's residence, Yonge street, three or four miles distant, and partook of a sumptuous repast, during which the health of the newly manied couples was enthusiastically honored. Mr. Mason's large and beautiful lawn was illuminated with Chinese lanterns, and the house was a blaze of light, the scene being quite enchanting. Mr. and Mrs. Thompson and Mr. and Mrs. Humphrey left by the midnight train for a honeymon trip to New York.

Among the guests were Mr. and Mrs. John Mason, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Mason, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Mason, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Mason, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Mason, Mr. and Mrs. The Black Flags in a tent near the dwellings, assisted by the Rev. W. S. Darling, whose residence is near.
