Mr. P. D. Ross was elected to represent the association at the meeting of the National Editorial Association in San Francisco in May next.

The question of the publication of a monthly paper in the interests of the craft in Canada reterred to at the annual meeting was considered. The need of one has been felt for some time, and it was decided to endorse such a publication.

THE FINAL "SMOKER." Q.O.R. Buglers' Social-Close of a Pleasan

Season. The final "smoker" of the Queen's Own The final smoker of the sergeants and their friends, was held on Saturday evening. It was the most successful of the series, and that is saying very much. Many officers were present, among them Col. Otter and Major Delamere. The energetic secretary, Bugle-Sergs. Woods, had a fine program prepared. So los were sung by Mr. J. Winters and Mr. Barita Mull. The quartet, composed of Messrs. Putland, Booz, Oliver and Stevens rendered several selections in capital style. Bugler T. A. Baker was the best comic singer of the evening. Mr. Field with bis banjo solos, and Messrs. Morgan and Davis on the horizontal bar merited—their share of applanse. The funniest or all iwas a production of the farce. "McGinty's Court." All the actors belonged to the bugle corps, and they deserve credit for the capable way in which they performed their parts. The entertainment was concluded with a selection by the buglers' orchestra. buglers, tendered to the officers, sergeants and Already the boys are getting in shape for their proposed trip to the World's Fair. Their skill at fancy drumming will certainly surprise people there, for they execute the many intricate movements with alacrity and precision unsurpassed by any corps on the continent.

THE NEW TORONTO GUSHER. A Crowd Goes Out on Saturday to See the

A crowd does Out of the property of the proper Gas Well. After the arrival of the train the crowd had not long to wait for an exhibition of the powers of the well. The latter was capped down, three branches projecting from the main pipe. The branches projecting from the main pipe. The ends of these were fitted with a kind of burner, in which numerous small holes were punctured. The gas was turned on just as water is turned on by a rotary top. When the crowd had, gathered around and were appropriately expectant the gas was turned on and lighted. In a minute or so the tap was given another turn and a fine fame was the result. After burning in this way for a while the gentleman in charge twirled on the pressure and the heat became so fierce as to scatter the crowd. The gas was quite bright and threw out an immense heat. The excursionists stood around and discussed the situation. Col. Pew wasn't able to judge of the well. He would like to see the gas shoot from a single pipe. Mr. Jaffray remarked to a bystander that "it mide a splendid showing." G.R. R. Ceckburn and Millionaire Davidson were observed in private conversation. They own land in the vicinity and it is said are talking of boring for gas themselves. Davidson, however, wants to be sure of getting it before sinking a well.

wants to be sure of getting it before sinking a well.

While waiting for the train to draw up the party strolled down among the factories and had a look over the little town, which, by the way, has progressed immensely since last year. The factories give it a solid appearance and houses have gone up by the score.

The train drew up at 3.15 and the party was at Union Station 15 minutes later.

Mr. L. G. Harris states that the company will proceed at once to sink other wells on the lands they have under lease. The promoters are encouraged to go ahead by the statements made by Assistant Mining Engineer Bramwell of the Dominion Geological Department. When out at the well on Friday making an official examination he stated that the strata there was exactly the same as that in Ghio where great quantities of gas have been struck.

DRESS GOODS.

DRESS GOODS.

The trade we are doing in this department is with the ladies and for the ladies, and it is fair to say that they are more than pleased with the immense variety, the grand values and the beautiful stuffs shown in this department. We are speaking particularly of fine dress goods. Never did we open to our customers such beautiful stuffs as we are showing at the present time. The fine soft colorings, so beautifully blended in our Scotch tweeds and dress stuffs, are something greatly superior to anything we have evershown before. In cashmeres we have the newest shades, our Henriettas, Foulles and serges are weaves of perfect beauty, while the black goods department embraces almost everything that you could wish for, including Bedford cords in black, silk warp Henriettas, coating worsteds, crape cloths and a dozen different makes of these fine goods, all of which have that fine, soft clirating effect which is so desirable in the present style of costumes. We have also a dressmaking department in which we turn these cloths into the handsomest dresses that, perhaps, are turned out in this country. The ladies praise our dressmaking department, and come to it from every part of the city, and they go away more than pleased with the fine fit, the newest styles and the general make up of these goods. Not the least gratifying is the cost, which is not more than oue-half the ordinary price. We do dressmaking at drygoods prices and we are satisfied to sell our cloths, which are extremely low in price, and make them up with the finest trimmings, the best linings, all of which are perfect matches, fast dyes, and suitable for the cloths that they are made up with. The knowing ones place their orders for costumes early because as the season advances we grow more busy, and, of course, it is just so early because as the season advances we grow more busy, and, of course, it is just so much longer for you to have your dress
