

"I DON'T SUFFER ANY MORE"

"Feel Like a New Person," says Mrs. Hamilton.

New Castle, Ind.—"From the time I was eleven years old until I was seventeen I suffered each month so I had to be in bed. I had headache, backache and such pains I would cramp double every month. I did not know what it was to be easy a minute. My health was all run down and the doctors did not do me any good. A neighbor told my mother about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I took it, and now I feel like a new person. I don't suffer any more and I am regular every month."—Mrs. HAZEL HAMILTON, 822 South 15th St.

When a remedy has lived for forty years, steadily growing in popularity and influence, and thousands upon thousands of women declare they owe their health to it, is it not reasonable to believe that it is an article of great merit?

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential), Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

Even the Bible Did Not Save Him

There have been some very peculiar reasons given for claiming exemption from the draft in the United States, but the best must be awarded one of the New York claimants. This man has been recently married, and he based his claim for exemption on the 24th Chapter of Deuteronomy, which in one verse, says: "When a man hath taken a new wife he shall not go out to war, neither shall he be charged with any business; but he shall be free at home for one year and shall cheer up his wife which he hath taken." An examiner asked about the second injunction in the verse and inquired if the unwilling candidate in case he was freed from war service would close his tailor shop and compel his wife to give up her work as a trouser maker. The replies showed there was no likelihood of either move being made, whereupon the board determined that he had better go into the army.

"Afraid of Zeppelins"

An Englishman was run down and the doctor told him he needed a tonic, recommending a glass of stout after each meal. The patient said he had a barrel of it in his cellar, but, unfortunately, his wife insisted on all members of the household being teetotalers during the war. "Since your health is concerned you must find some way to overcome her prejudices," said the doctor, and the patient departed. A few days afterward the doctor received a visit from the man's wife. "Doctor," she said, "I'm so worried about my husband. I'm afraid he's going to have a nervous breakdown. He's developed a perfect dread of Zeppelins lately and keeps running down and hiding in the cellar."

The Hun Must Go Now and Forever

(The Greenville, S. C., News)
If the war were ended before German autocracy is annihilated, the nations of the world would have to sleep on their arms forever, fearful lest the Teutonic monster, fully recuperated, might fall upon them. It may mean millions more of lives upon the altar, but the great embattled free peoples of the earth are willing to suffer that cost if only they can make the world safe against the menace of the Hun. The decisive defeat of a people can be accomplished without filling them with hatred that will inevitably cause them again to war against the conqueror. If the Allies smash the German military machine to fragments as they eventually will, why should not the vanquished accept the arbitrament of arms as did the people of the Confederate States of America? Civilization must be saved from the scaffold. Barbarism must not ascend the throne. There can be no compromise with Hell, no pact of peace with the Prince of Darkness upon this earth. The nations that have poured out their blood for their salvation will not now sell their future freedom to serve the hour. Theirs is the invincible resolve that for all the ages to come "this agony must not be gone through with again."

On the Farm

By Walt Mason

The farmer gladly toils all day producing things we need, and in the fall he'll thresh his hay and sell his nutmeg seed. The farmer's hogs are fine as silk, and they're acquiring lard; his cows are all producing milk and butter by the yard. The farmer's hens are laying shells, with golden yolks inside; the farmer's steers are wearing bells, each with its glossy hide. The farmer asks a decent price for products of the earth, he doesn't think to charge us twice as much as they are worth. If we could to the farmer go, for things he has to sell, we wouldn't grumble, in our woe, beneath H. C. of L. But speculators come between the farmer and the crowd, and so we pay the good long green and growl and swear aloud. I like to see the farmer get high prices when he can; he earns his coin in toil and sweat, he is an honest man. But 'twixt the farmer and the push, the speculator stands—a robber reaching for the cash with both his greedy hands. And though the land with plenty teems, there's famine all around; by speculators and their schemes our weary souls are ground.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and this is catarrh. Catarrh being greatly influenced by constitutional conditions requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally and acts through the Blood on the Mucous Surfaces of the System thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in the curative powers of Hall's Catarrh Cure that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

What is Wealth?

By Stephen Leacock

A bank deposit is in its essence a mere statement or promise to the effect that the bank will give John Smith a certain amount of wealth if and when he asks for it. The promise may or may not be made good. But, in and of itself, it is no more wealth than an order for a million dollars written by an idiot on a piece of blotting paper. Similarly a check is not wealth, but only a demand or order on someone to produce and hand over some wealth to someone else. In the same way a farm is wealth, but a mortgage is not. True, the village money-lender who owns a deskfull of mortgages is accounted a wealthy man. But this, on analysis, merely means that he owns, in a contingent way, certain farms. If mortgages and promissory notes and such were wealth we could all get rich with a few merry strokes of the pen.

Mothers can easily know when their children are troubled with worms, and they lose no time in applying the best of remedies—Mother Graves' Worm Exterminator.

Will Class One Provide The One Hundred Thousand Men?

It will be greatly to the advantage of Canada if the entire quota of 100,000 men to be raised under the Military Service Act can be secured from the first class; that is, from the men between the ages of 20 and 34 who were unmarried or widowers without children on July 6th, 1917.

This is almost self-evident for the following reasons:

It is admitted that, between the ages of 20 and 34, the average man is at the height of his physical strength and is most adaptable to the change of conditions from civilian life; the military service of unmarried men and widowers without children would occasion less distress than that of most others, since they are largely without dependents. Also, it would entail less financial burden for Canada, through separation allowances, etc.

Authorities estimate that, after all proper exemptions have been allowed, Canada should be able to produce from the first class 100,000 men fit for service, so the drain upon the man power of the country will not be severe.

Members of Class One will be well advised to present themselves for examination immediately to the Medical Board in their district. Upon examination as to their physical fitness, they will be placed in one of the following categories:

- Category A—if fit for service in overseas fighting units.
- Category B—if fit for service overseas in Army Medical Corps, Forestry Battalion, etc.
- Category C—if fit for service in Canada only.
- Category E—if unfit for military service of any nature.

If not placed in Category A, the applicant will know that he is not liable for immediate service, but will go to the Post Office and send in a claim for exemption with his Medical Certificate attached, when he will receive in due course a certificate of exemption until those in his medical category are summoned for service.

Where a man, who is placed in category A, feels that exemption should be allowed, an application form can be secured from the postmaster. This form, when filled in, will be forwarded by the postmaster to the registrar of the district, and the applicant will be informed by mail as to the time and place for the consideration of his application by the Exemption Board.

Issued by The Military Service Council.

Coal Dealers Profits Limited, Retailer's Profits Cut

Regulations are being framed by C. A. Magrath, Fuel Controller, for the fixing of profits on the sale of coal by brokers, wholesalers and retailers throughout Canada. It is understood that retail profits will be limited to fifty cents a ton, and wholesale dealers and brokers' profits will be on a still lower scale. It is also likely that provision will be made to restrict undue accumulation of coal in the hands of consumers. Complete machinery will be provided for the prosecution of any infractions of the regulations which are said to be very drastic in their scope.

The Fuel Controller in his new regulations is following closely the precedent established in fixing the price of coal in Great Britain, which deals with restrictions of profits of middlemen rather than cost of production. At any rate this policy is forced upon the Fuel Controller by the fact that the largest part of the coal consumed in Canada is mined in the United States and is beyond his control.
