

record that was ever known to make a mistake being the immortal "Ginx's Baby."

The bell again! and this time it is Mr. Archie and his dove-eyed little wife, who could not be persuaded to leave baby long enough to come to dinner. Mr. Archie is a young and rising lawyer, and it is to his kindness and assistance Thos is indebted in a great measure for his literary success.

Need I describe that merry Christmas evening? Given a number of young people and young married people, one engaged couple and two or three couples who would like to be engaged, and cannot my readers imagine for themselves what sort of an evening we spent?
