

FOREIGN INTELLIGENCE.

FRANCE.

THE CHAPTER OF PARIS.—The Cathedral Chapter of the Diocese of Paris has forwarded a touching Address to the Holy Father in which, in the midst of their own deep affliction, they congratulate His Holiness on the attainment of the 25th anniversary of his election.

M. THIERS ON THE FINANCIAL SITUATION.—Recently, M. Thiers made an important expose of the financial situation of France. His statement was clear enough, and, on the whole, encouraging.

THE INTERNATIONAL ASSOCIATION.—The Constitutionnel asserts that, out of 55,000 inscribed members of the Paris branch of the Internationale, 8,000 were killed during the recent insurrection, and nearly 20,000 are now prisoners.

THE FRANCO-HANOVERIAN LEGION.—It will be remembered that after the close of the war between Prussia and Austria a number of Hanoverian soldiers who declined to transfer their allegiance to the victorious Sovereign were formed into a legion in the French service.

Boyer to Bismarck to ascertain his demands. In the course of the general conversation Bismarck said: "I cannot say what will befall France, nor what is the future that awaits her; but I do know this, that it will redound to her shame, to her eternal shame in all time, in all ages, and in all tongues, to have abandoned her Emperor as she did after Sedan."

The city of Lyons is bankrupt, and has suspended payment. France, with every appearance of success, has appealed to her sister nations for a loan.

There are sixty thousand workmen engaged in removing the debris and in rebuilding the place laid waste in Paris by the incendiaries of the Commune. To repair all the damages resulting to the city and its immediate vicinity from its two sieges September last, one hundred thousand men will probably be required for five years, and this will be something to the unfortunate Parisians.

PARIS, July 13.—The Government has despatched a representative to England to endeavor to induce the British Government to consent to a modification of the Treaty of Commerce between France and England, bearing date January 23rd, 1860.

General L'Admirault, Military Commander of Paris, has officially notified the managers of theatres, cafes, and other place of public resort that they will close at midnight, as was formerly the case.

Deputies to the Assembly from the provinces occupied by the German troops are earnestly pressing upon President Thiers the policy of anticipating future payment of the German indemnity. It is said Thiers encourages the idea, and that negotiations with Germany upon the subject have already been entered upon.

The Orleans Princess are about to pay a visit to Guizot. The Tuileries gardens will shortly be opened to the public.

Baron Haussman is a candidate for office at the Municipal Elections. It is rumored that the Duke de Broglie will succeed Favre in the Ministry of Foreign Affairs, and that Aueal will take charge of the portfolio now held by Larey.

THE COUNT DE CHAMBORD.—Of all eminent French personages, perhaps the least known is the one who, as the half of Europe believes, is about to be called to ascend the throne of France.

Count de Chambord has led a life of consistent retirement, broken only by visits from a few adherents, by occasional travel, and by the publication of a few letters provoked by the incidents of the hour. Unhated, unfeared, and unwatched, he has slipped out of observation, until his very appearance is to the mass of European society absolutely unknown.

Count de Chambord, it is clear, has thought out the ends he desires, but has avoided through life the trouble of thinking out the means through which he expects that they may be secured. This is not the temper of a despot, or of a man eager for personal rule; but rather of a constitutional King, whose notion of his own prerogative is that it gives him, above all men, the right to take as well as to demand advice, whose function will be mainly to decide whether the men he selects do succeed or fail in realizing his objects.

ous Democrat. "Save France, for it is mine," was his thought; and to him Gambetta, while saving France, was no more obnoxious than a clever counsel is to the client who personally dislikes his opinions. His pledge to pardon all, to employ all, to have no party, is not a pledge of policy, but the expression of an instinct, of a sense of inherent superiority, of a feeling that any one born a Frenchman who enters his service is returning repentantly to his duty, that he has a right to command all, so inalienable that no question of party has in his presence any meaning.

A King whose mind was thus penetrated with the spirit of Royalism would, in most instances, be a despot; but in the case of the Count de Chambord the effect of his creed has been to tranquillise, rather than to intensify, the kingly thirst for power. He has waited for the throne for thirty years as an heir to a great property waits, quite sure of its arrival, but quite incapable of intriguing to accelerate it.

MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP. REV. SYLVANUS COBB thus writes in the Boston Christian Freeman.—We would by no means recommend any kind of medicine which we did not know to be good—particularly for infants.

BROWN'S BRONCHIAL TROCHES. "I have never changed my mind respecting them from the first, excepting to think better of that which I began to think well of."

GRAND BAZAAR & DRAWING OF PRIZES, IN THE LA SALLE INSTITUTE, TORONTO.

To raise funds for liquidating the debt incurred in the purchase of the Building formerly known as the Bank of Upper Canada, by the Brothers of the Christian Schools, for an Academy—BROTHER ARNOLD, DIRECTOR.

The following is taken from the TRUE WITNESS of February 10, 1871—

MONTREAL, FEAST OF ST. AGATHA, 1871.

DEAR SIR,—In the present age of the world when Christian education is more than ever necessary to qualify and prepare the rising generation for the mighty struggle that is going on in the whole world over between the Church and the World, God and the Devil, the deepest and holiest sympathies of the Catholic heart are with those heroic orders of men and women who are devoting their lives to the great work of education.

These remarks have been suggested to us by news that has reached us from Toronto, viz:—that the Christian Brothers there have purchased the large building known as the Bank of Upper Canada, which, from its size, will enable them to receive a much more greater number of pupils in that city, hitherto all but exclusively Protestant, but having now a considerable, and still-increasing population.

Many of the most valuable prizes were presented to Brother Arnold by the pupils of the Christian Schools in Canada and the United States. Altogether the Bazaar will be one of the most important in its results, and interesting in its associations that can be imagined. Every Catholic who can, ought to make it a duty to second this praiseworthy effort, to provide a noble educational establishment for the Catholic boys of Toronto. The Catholic population there is not wealthy, yet from its numbers it requires large schools, and it ought to be the pride and pleasure of Catholics every where to contribute to so admirable an undertaking as that of the good Brothers of Toronto.

I am, Mr. Editor, very respectfully, A FRIEND OF EDUCATION.
