OTTAWA, Oct. 17.—To-morrow's Official Gazette will contain a proclamation putting the harbour masters' act in force at South Bay, Ingonish, N.S The following appointments have been made in addition to those telegraphed last night: Nehemiah McGray, of Cape Sable Island, to be receiver of wrecks for the district of Shel-burne, N. S.; John Finlay, of Vernon River Bridge, P.E.I., to be harbor master for Port Vernon River; Thos. Donovan to be harbor master at South Bay, Ingonish; Dr. P. Robertson Inches, to be medical examiner under the civil service act at St. John, and Dr. John H. McCollom, M.D., to fill a similar position at Toronto.

The Sault Ste. Marie Bridge Company give notice of application to Parliament for amendment of charter by extending the time for commencing and completing work two years. Messrs. Cooper & Mathews, of Montreal, have been appointed liquidators of the Colonial Building and Investment Company. Supplementary letters patent have bean issued to the Black Diamond Steamship Com-pony, increasing the capitul stock.

A despatch has been received from the colonial office, and will appear to morrow, containing a copy of the colonial attorneys' relief amendment act. The act provides that where colonies allow British attorneys to practice, after having passed the required examination as to local laws, the same privi-lege shall be extended in England to attorneys from that colony, provided they have studied for five years and practised for seven years in the colony from which they come.

It is rumored that owing to the lateness of the season and the decrease of cholera in France and Italy, the government has decided to withdraw the recently imposed quarantine regulations, and that a thorough system of inspection will be substituted.

THE ASSASSINGLYNOHED. LA CROSSE, Wis., Oct. 16 .- F. A. Burton, president of the Blaine-Logan club, was shot dead this evening by a character known as "Scotty" while a Republican procession was forming. The murderer was arrested victim, and fired the first bullet into his back. Burton fell to the pavement, and "Scotty emptied the revolver, firing six shots into Buxton's body and head. He then threw his revolver at his victim and gave him a kick. surrounded the jail and demanded pos-session of "Scotty." The officers were until the entire space on three sides of the When everything was prepared, the murderer was asked to make a statement. He declined to say anything, except that he was The mob seized the rope and made a strong pull, but the ruffian freed his hands and the rope broke before he was raised from the ground. In five minutes a new rope was thrown over the heads of the crowd, and fell within a few feet of the executioner. This was adjusted, his hands and arms firmly tied, and in another moment he was hanging in the air, with his face closely pressed against the limb of the tree, and the terrible tragedy was over. The body of the doomed man was left hanging only a few minutes when it was taken down lifeless and left in charge of the sheriff, who will see the remains interred. Between nine and ten fire bells rang out the alarm, which was made general, and this, added to the steady roll of voices from the direction of the court house, made the night one of awful features. The body of Burton was removed home during the evening. One bullet passed through the head, two through the lungs, and two into the abdomen, any one of which would have been fatal.

Mr. Blyth, of London, has a new plan for disposing of the dead. It is to abolish all permanent cemeteries, and allow each piece of agricultural land to take its turn as a recepticle for the bodies of the dead. After five years as a cemetery he would use the ground or agriculture, on the theory of a rotation of crops. He remarked, in his argument, that "Beneath the waving corn or the stately pines the remains of the dead would be forever free from desecration."

WEEKLY REVIEW-WHOLESALE PRICES.

Most branches of trade have preserved the same characteristics as formerly. While in the aggregate the transactions between the wholesale seller and the consumer are of large dimensions they might well be larger without creating surprise and certainly without causing the least bit of disappointment. The weather has been broken by violent rain storms at intervals, and the roads have been bad, and though the increase of railroads to a great extent is demolishing this fruitful source of complaint, still "bad roads" continue to account for a good deal when anything goes wrong. The unlucky, or according to some, the lucky, or still rather the "desperately lacky" farmers of this almost boundless country, which stretches from the Atlantic to the Pacific, have of late been treated to lots of wise tiffy-taffy. Like as a father teacheth his children, or the energetic schoolmaster striveth to drive instruction into the juvenile Canuck, so has the mo-dern editor laid himself out to dispense knowledge with a lavish hand. The farmer is commanded and exhorted to do this or to do that. Some editors who have lots of money (as what editors have not), are probably "short" of the market, and advise producers to sell their wheat and stuff at tively.

with what suspicion the honest farmer reads small movement. Steam refined seal is such advisory articles in the press. He soon comes to the opinion that the ideas expressed are the hair brained notions of speculators, and his invariable rule is to be guided by his own experience and necessity. In this he is right. Speculators too often guide the editorial pen, and the writers, who are so fond of distributing big chunks of wisdom all round, are either acting for interested parties, or are so egotistically vain and empty headed that they must always be intruding their own small notions and unprogressive ideas on the public without a thought of the mischief they are causing. The former prime. But when the characteristic such as the public without as thought of the mischief they are causing. The former prime. But when the characteristic such as the public without a thought of the mischief they are causing.

a thought of the mischief they are causing. The farmer of to-day is the best abused man we know of. The fact is his growing intelligence and industry are proving too much for the rapacious brood of traders and speculators who seek to hoodwink him for their own purposes, and the more independent in ideas and financial resources the farmer grows so much the more will he hold the stakes and be respected by a discerning public in an agricultural country like Canada. The farmers, as long as they are so poor that they are obliged to sell the crops as soon as they are off the ground, are persons of no consequence and the market prices are made for them by others, who profit at their expense. Such a state of shings must be in a new country like the North-West, but in other parts farmers are in a position to be more independent, and this is the reason why speculators and traders are so vexed and give expression to their displeasure in the press. The independent attitude of the farmers upsets all their calculations as to their pro-fits and the probable course of the markets at the various seasons, and hence we see a falling off in the number of these middle-men and unlimited chagrin and despair visible on the countenances of the remainder. The farmers of the East have made money during the past few years and moneyed farmers will in the future make their influence felt in this Province with the railways, the steamships, the steamboats, the banks and on the Exchanges in just the same way as their confreres have done in the United States.

In consequence of the appointment of Mr Henry Sugden Evans as chief analyst for the Dominion, his business as a wholesale drug-gist and chemist, carried on at Montreal and Toronto, has been converted into a limited company, under the style of Evans, Son & Mason, Limited. This company was regis tered at London on the 1st inst. with a capital of £50,000 in £10 shares, none of which, we understand, will be offered to the general public, the whole amount required having been subscribed privately.

TINGERING YARNS!

There are three first-class makers of Fingering

J. PATON & SON, BALDWIN & WALKER, J. & J. BALDWIN.

Yarns made by either of these firms are good, and all three sell at the same price. We buy our Fingering Yarns from more than one of the above firms. There is a difference in the Yarns, and we, of course, select the best. OUR PRICE.

Our price for Best Four-Ply Fingering Yam in Black, White, Brown and Plain Colors is:— $1.16 per pound of 16 ounces; 29c per hank of 4 ounces; &c per skein of one ounce. Price of bright colors, $1.50 per pound of 16 ounces; 38c per hank of 4 ounces; 10c per skein of one ounce. The above prices are subject to a reduction any time the probability of the production and the production and the production and the production and the production are the production and the production and the production are the production are the production and the production are the production and the production are the production and the production are the production are the production and the production are the eduction any time the makers' prices fall or competition demands. S. CARSLEY.

WILFUL WASTE

We learn that some people have been paying as high as $1.40 and $1.50 for Plain Colored Fingering Yarns and from $1.60 to $1.75 for Fingering Yarns and from $1.60 to $1.75 for Bright Colors. Besides paying this high rate they have been buying the commonest of the three makers. We have gone into the Yarn question thoroughly by purchasing a small quantity from the principal dealers in the city, and find, that fully, three-fourths of them keen the poorest of the three standard makes. In justice we may state that some persons keen the justice we may state that some persons keep the same make as we do.

S. CARSLEY. BEST IN THE WORLD. We keep the best Fingering Wools made in Britain, and, we believe, the best in the world.
