

ARTICLE X

- The present Treaty shall be subject to ratification. The exchange of instruments of ratification shall take place in Brazil.
1. The present Treaty shall enter into force thirty (30) days after the exchange of instruments of ratification and shall remain in effect for a period of three years.
 2. If neither Party notifies the other of its intention to withdraw at least ninety (90) days before the expiration of the above-mentioned period, this Treaty shall remain in force for successive three-year periods.
 3. In the event that either party withdraws from the present treaty, its provisions shall remain in force in respect of those offenders who have already been transferred, until the completion of their respective sentences.

Done in duplicate in the English, French and Portuguese languages, each version being equally authentic, at Brasilia this fifteenth day of July 1992.

 For the Government of Canada

 For the Government of the the Federative Republic of Brazil

William Clark

Celso Iafer