

riage—Bachofen's Views—Wrestling for Wives—McLennan's Views—The True Explanation—Origin of Marriage by Capture—Prevalence of Marriage by Capture—Originally a Reality—Subsequently a Form—Hindustan—Central India—Malay Peninsula—Kalmucks—Tonguses—Kamchadales—Mongols—Koreans—Esquimaux—North and South Americans—Feejeeans—Polynesians—Philippine Islanders—Negritos—Africa—Circassians—Europe—Rome—Poland—Russia—Britain—Explanation of Marriage Ceremonies—Marriage by Confarreatio—Expiation for Marriage—Babylonia—Armenia—Balearic Islands—Temporary Wives—Exogamy—Origin of Exogamy—Prevalence of Exogamy—Australia—Africa—Hindustan—Northern Asia—China—Circassia—North America—South America—The Causes of Polygamy—Polyandry—Polyandry Exceptional—The System of Levirate—Endogamy—The Milk-tie—Relationship through Females—Causes and Wide Distribution of the Custom—Neglect of Paternal Relation—Origin of Relationship in the Male Line—Change from Female to Male Kinship—System of Kinship through Males—The Present System	72
--	----

CHAPTER IV.

RELATIONSHIPS.

On the Development of Relationships—Different Systems of Relationships—Classification of Systems—Nature of the Evidence—Custom of addressing Persons by their Relationship—Similarities of System among the Lower Races—Malayans—Feejeeans—Redskins—Nomenclature of Relationships—Effect of Female Kinship on Systems of Relationship—The Hawaiian System—American Systems—Importance of the Mother's Brother in the Family System—The Micmac System—Burmese and Japanese Systems—The Wyandot System—The Tamil and Feejeean Systems—Remarkable Terms in Use—Explanation of the Terms—System of the Oneidas—Otagas—The Kaffir System—Mohegans—Crees—Chippewas—Summary of Red-skin Systems—Hindoo Systems—Karens—Esquimaux—Remarkable Similarities—Indications of Progress—Incompleteness of Systems—Existing Systems Incompatible with the Theory of Degradation—Evidence of Progress—No Evidence of Degradation—Conclusion	157
--	-----

CHAPTER V.

RELIGION.

Mental Inactivity of Savages—Religious Characteristics of Savages—Religious Characteristics of the Lower Races of Man—Classification of the Lower Religions—Religions according to Sanchoniatho—Religious Condition of the Lowest Races—Absence of Religion—Rudi-
