

which is the inherent right of every one, I have done so without one spark of unkindly feeling towards any man, of any country, sect or party. My heart yearns for the time when all will meet together in the bonds of Christian charity and love, and meet at the grand inquest of the country to vote for their respective friends, without fear of interruption, meet with the friendly shake of the hand, and the benevolent glance of the eye, and that peace, harmony and love may long reign throughout this city, and through the length and breadth of the land, is the sincere and ardent wish of
