

BINDLE

PRESS OPINIONS (continued)

DAILY NEWS	"Pickwickian."
SCOTSMAN	"A cockney Mr. Dooley."
QUEEN	"Bindle is a priceless person."
ATHENÆUM	"Bindle is a diverting person."
LITERARY WORLD	"'Bindle' is an achievement."
EVERYMAN	"One's heart goes out to Bindle."
LAND AND WATER	"A character who will give joy to many."
PALL MALL GAZETTE	"The immortal mirth-provoking Bindle."
TIMES	"Delightful . . . Joseph Bindle is henceforth our friend."
DAILY EXPRESS	"Mr. Herbert Jenkins has created a new character in fiction."
TRUTH	"Bindle would twist a smile out of the wryest mouth. A delightful creation."
SUNDAY TIMES	"Bindle is a person of infinite charm, a cockney of cockneys, a humorist of humorists."
SATURDAY REVIEW	"Mr. Jenkins has evidently a good grasp of the humour and manners of the London worker."
OBSERVER	"One of the most 'knowing' books ever written. There should be a verb 'to bindle.'"