THE ANGLICANS' GREETING

SYNOD AND BISHOP OF HURON SAY "GODSPEED"

To the Presbyterian General Assembly in Toronto—Cordial Answer at Once Returned—Revising the Hymnal—Entire Psalter Not Included—Principal Caven on the Manitoba Question.

There seemed to be an implied rebuke to arrogant Churchmen in the message of greeting sent to the Presbyterian Assembly yesterday morning by the Diocesan Synod of Huron. The telegram, which was signed by Bishop Baldwin, conveyed the best wishes of the Synod to their "Presbyterian brethren," and expressed the hope that the churches might be one in their desire to promote the interests of Christ's kingdom. A cordial answer was directed to the Huron Anglicans.

Will Not Include the Entire Psalter.

The principal subject of debate during the day was the new Book of Praise, on which for two years a committee of the Assembly has labored. The discussion was carried on from the morning sederunt until late in the afternoon, before the report of the Hymnal Committee was adopted. The draft book of praise was ordered to be published, an amendment to the report providing for the insertion of additional psalms to those already selected. The efforts of a section of the church which wished to have the entire psalter included were fruitless.

They Will be Received.

The Committee on the Reception of Ministers reported in favor of the petitions made on behalf of the following gentlemen: Rev. Neil Currie, Inverness; Rev. R. S. Hutchison, Rev. D. Campbell, Toronto; Rev. D. A. Hamilton, Orangeville; Rev. Richard Weir, Huron; Mr. N. F. Jansen, licentiate, Rev. G. Vetter, Calgary; Mr. James Stuart, licentiate, Melita. At the instance of the Synod of Manitoba, Mr. George Weir, licentiate, was given authority to work as such. The petition of Peterboro Presbytery, for the licensing of Rev. R. McKnight, was refused, but the Presbytery was empowered to employ him as catechist.

Dr. Caven's Solutions

In the discussion of the anti-coercion resolution, presented by Principal Caven and Principal King, and already published in The World, several important suggestions were made. Dr. Caven, after touching on the Remedial Bill and other phases of the question, said two solutions of the difficulty might be arrived at. The most satisfactory to him would be the teaching of religious subjects after school, which might close at 3 or 3.30; the other was the system adopted in Pennsylvania, where a text book on morals and fundamental Christian doctrines, satisfactory to all parties, was used in the schools. Hearty applause was given the speaker as he presented his views. Rev. Principal King of Manitoba College spoke at length and with effect on the multifarious aspects of the difficulty. His idea was that a solution might be reached by a conference of sober-minded men. Separate schools, as they exist in Ontario and Quebec, he concluded, could never be restored in Manitoba.

An amendment substituting for the resolution an affirmation of the deliverance of the last Assembly on the school question was brought up, but was overwhelmingly defeated, and, after addresses by Rev. Principal Grant and other eloquent speakers, the resolution was carried with enthusiasm.

French Evangelization.

The report on French evangelization was presented by Rev. S. J. Taylor. Statistics were given, showing a great improvement in the work, due mainly, according to the speakers, to a growing spirit of self-assertion among the French-Canadians.

Rev. Prof. Scrimger of Montreal and Rev. Principal Caven spoke for the adoption of the report, strongly advocating the giving of greater support to the cause. Much interest was taken in the address of Rev. Calvin E. Amaron, of St. Mark's Church, Montreal, who supported the motion. He appealed to the commissioners to assist in defending the Roman Catholics of Canada against the oppression of a power that is crushing them down. There were, however, unmistakable signs of the disintegration of that church's power in Canada, and it was for them to see that advantage was taken of the revolution to advance the cause of the Presbyterian Church and prevent the spread of infidelity.

Mr. Mullin's Case.

The strained relations between Rev. Mr. Mullin and his congregation, which were made the subject of a reference by St. John Presbytery, were discussed in view of the report of the Judicial Committee, which recommended that Mr. Mullin be relieved of his charge in September, 1897. After the minister had been heard, Dr. Caven moved that the matter be referred back to the Presbytery, with instructions to keep a watchful eye on the affairs of the congregation for a period, and report to the Synod of New Brunswick, with which final action will rest.

The Evening's Sederunt.

A committee report recommending the acceptance of Winnipeg's invitation for next year's assembly was adopted, and it was arranged that the Assembly next year should convene in St. Andrew's Church in Winnipeg on the second Thursday in June.

There was some discussion before the Assembly arrived at a definition of the duties of Dr. Warden, the Church's agent, in respect to the colleges and the widows' and orphans' fund. Dr. Warden's salary was fixed at $3000, to be paid by the causes whose funds are to be administered in due proportion.

To Prevent Sabbath Desecration.

Principal Caven presented the report of church life and work. In reference to the clause on Sabbath observance, which deplored the tendency to secularize the Sabbath, he said the chief argument of those who wished to run cars on Sunday was that the people required fresh air and country scenery. This, he said, was not unreasonable, and must not be met simply with hard words. The solution, he thought, was in granting to the towns power to make a Saturday halfholiday. There should be some hour at which stores must imperatively close—8 or 8.30 in the evening, for instance—for purchases made after that hour tended to compel the employes to work after midnight. And Christian people were not blameless in this connection, for many of them made purchases at a late hour on Saturday night.

After the disposal of the report Rev. Murdoch Mackenzie, a missionary who has just returned from Honan, China, gave an interesting address on the work being accomplished under the auspices of the Presbyterian Church of Canada in that land.

The Sabbath school report will be taken up to-day, and every effort will be made to bring the business of the Assembly to a conclusion to-night.
