AN UTTERLY BAD BUDGET.

The Statist Roasts Sir Michael Hicks-Beach on His Speech.

Company will be moved from Berlin to Toronto. The company is not a very large one, having a capital of $261,000, assets of $292,600, and risks amounting to $2,700,000. The president is Mr. James Innes of Guelph, and the manager, Mr. Thomas Helliard.

At the last publication of shareholders there were but two from Toronto. Since then, however, Toronto capitalists have become interested. by the Chancellor of the Exchequer, Sir Michael Hicks-Beach, in the House of Com-Michael Hicks-Beach, in the House of Commons on Thursday pleased few people. It is universally admitted that it fell far below the usual level of budget statements.

The Statist dubs it "utterly bad," and declares the reduction of the sinking fund is unworthy of a great nation. The proposal to increase the wine duties severely hits the cheaper wines, especially the colonial wines, and probably the California wines. According to the plans of the Chancellor of the Exchequer the cheapest clarets will pay as much as the highest priced hocks and sherries.

Mr. and Mrs. Theodore J. Dawusky were found dead in their bed in their bod break and his wife and his wife removed to the bospital. Coroner Kielindenst then took charge of the case. The opinion was expressed at the hospital that the man died as the result of poisoning about half a mile west of this village, in the bod in their bod charge of the case.

Some Facts.

The following facts should be of interest to your readers: Inspector A. Bayard in spected in 1808, at the eastern abattoirs alone, according to his annual report, 32,678 beef cattle, 62,821 sheep, 21,489 calves, 63,172 hogs; out of this number there were confiscated by him 33 cattle, 27 being affected with tuberculosis: 43 calves, 42 sheep, 33 hogs, besides 2785 pounds of bad meat. The whole was put in the rendering tanks and destroyed, by order of Dr. Loberg, the City Medical Health Officer. From this return it can be imagined what a great danger is run by allowing meat which has been subjected to no official inspection to be placed upon the market.

ed a great and glorious diplomatic victory."

All the English papers were opposed to unanimity, declaring that the commission could never, under such circumstances, come to an agreement. The speaker says: "The rule of unanimity on any point is hardly reasonable, but the rule of absolute unanimity is unworkable."

The Spectator expresses the belief that the rule of unanimity appears to be in-tended to reduce the commission to a mere group of reporters.

The note of self-satisfaction ringing throughout the German Foreign Minister's announcement that Great Britain had yielded, caused irritation here, which is reflected in the comments of the newspapers this morning.

The Morning Post speaks caustically of Baron von Buelow's "misplaced parade of firmness" in reference to the maintenance of German right, and complains that he announced the agreement as to unanimity "in the tone of a Minister who had achieved a great and glorious diplomatic victory."
