

EATON'S DAILY STORE NEWS

Children's Exquisite French Lingerie Dresses

Such soft, dainty little affairs they are, so fine and fluffy looking that you could almost crush them up in your hand, each garment radiating an elegance and artisticness of design and finish that is seen only in French wear. Every stitch is put in by hand and the patterns are of the daintiest design, being beautifully simple and babyish.

One exceptionally charming dress is of the softest nainsook with a round yoke, exquisitely embroidered in open designs and tiny sprays of forget-me-nots, joined to the skirt with a row of hemstitching, the stitches being so fine you can scarcely detect them. Around the yoke are dozens of minute tucks and rows of feather stitching, the workmanship of which is almost marvelous. The skirt is handsomely embroidered in sprays and forget-me-nots, all around top of a deep hemstitched hem. Price $8.50

Others, according to work, from $2.50 up. Sizes 6 months, 1, 2, 3 and 4 years.

A Showing of Women's Elegant French Waists

A strong prestige clings to the French waists, making them great favorites with the women who desire waists of exclusive and individual style. The French designs are absolutely in a class by themselves. For instance, in the arrangements of trimmings they seem to possess a secret art, combining various styles of trimmings together, which, when shown on the waist are not only novel, but extremely stylish and pretty. One elegant model in this French display is of an ecru all-over lace with an elaborate yoke and front of heavy medallions, insertions, applique and crochet balls, finished with a side effect. It has the appearance of hand embroidery on corded net, high collar and long sleeves and silk lined. $7.50

Another is of cotton marquisette cloth, handsomely trimmed in a "Frenchy" style, with German Val, hand embroidery and Irish crochet and crochet balls, finished with high neck, long sleeves; very elegant $11.00

Oil Paintings From European Art Schools At Remarkably Low Prices

By taking advantage of a timely offer we secured a number of Oil Paintings by some of the most talented students in a high-class European Art School.

We got in touch with a European buyer who visits the large art schools, and makes cash purchases, taking only their best work. These schools are always glad to accept a cash offer, and paintings are secured for much less than half the price professional artists would ask.

We've framed them in metal and silver-leaf moulding, and it will be a golden opportunity for your new home decoration.

An early choice is essential as there are only 45 in the lot. See display in Yonge Street window.

Here is the price list:—

At $12.75.—Four large paintings of old-time Haymakers at their daily toil.

At $11.75.—Three large paintings of quaint farm and pioneer dwellings, beside babbling brooks, shaded by woodlands.

One large picture of a French shipping town, showing the boats at anchor.

At $10.75.—Eight paintings, twilight and morning scenes in mountain valleys, old-fashioned fishing vessels, etc.

At $10.00.—Four paintings of comely European peasant girls. Two strikingly natural paintings depicting the contentment of a street urchin.

At $9.25.—Four paintings of historical city streets.

At $8.50.—Four studies of animal life in the sheep folds.

At 7.50.—Two paintings, "Inquisitive Puppies and the Turtle."

At $5.50.—Thirteen paintings of land and water scenes, beautiful coloring.
