The Construction News comments upon the isituation as follows:

"There were gains in forty-six American cities and decreases in thirty-four cities. In an analysis of the figures it would be unfair to show that any one section of the States leads in one particular direction except that the tone is generally good.

"No one particular section of the country shows any remarkable decrease, which would indeed not be surprising, because of the tremendous activity heretofore. The entire situation shows remarkable improvement and one is justified in expressing the thought that there is every reason to believe that the activity will continue thruout the year."

MONTREAL HAS

SASKATOON EXPLAINS ITS TAX SALE LOTS.

Out of 3600 Lots Only 150 Have Not Been Redeemed by

The Saskatoon Board of Trade sends out a piece of information which should be widely published in the east, in justice to Saskatoon. The Item is as follows:

"Last year, when 3600 lots were advertised to be sold for taxes, outsiders who did not understand Saskatoon's system of tax collection rushed to many absurdly despondent conclusions. However, the time has just expired during which such lots could be redeemed, and it is interesting to note that with the exception of about 150 lots owned by people whom the city authorities were unable to locate, all the other lots have been when the city authorities were unable to locate, all the other lots have been with and duly redeemed and have reverted to their owners. The foregoing illustrates the attitude of investors toward Saskatoon realty."

The fact that so many lots were advertised to be sold for taxes was the subject of much caustic comment in Eastern canada last year, and it is just as well at

to make known the relatively small number of lots which were really sold because the taxes were not paid within the period specified.

Then there were soldiers and saifors The applications were filed yesterday everywhere around Woolwich, so from the office of Agent Leman, who from the office of Agent Leman, who figure in applications for hand in one of the Western States across the border. The applications were filed yesterday from the office of Agent Leman, who was involved in one of the big land fraud cases in the west a few months ago. The land is situated on the far Pacific coast and is said to be shut against settlement by special act of congress. There is a strong suspicion here that the application means that land swindlers, finding the Western States too hot for them, have shifted their operations to this country. A search of the directory of the city falls to find many of those whose names are attached to the applications for the United States land. Those located, however, denied positively that they were seeking any investment on the Pacific coast.

> Many people who sought real estate in the west as the period of decline was beginning, or who bought property without sufficient examination, or knowledge of its location, may have to wait a long time for their money; but that is hatural enough. Those who purchased property that was well located, and who bought it as a matter of sound business, not expecting immense profits, will get their money back in time, and perhaps a good profit also. Western men who have visited Eastern Canada recently have readily admitted that the west has suffered from the financial depression, but they insist that the country is sound and that there will be a healthful revival within a year or two.—N. John Holmes' life-story is thrilling enough for the most sensational. He was born in Woolwich, England, 34 years ago, one of half a dozen brothers and sisters in a British soldier's family. His parents christened the new arirval Meses John, but when he went out into the big world Moses disappeared and it was John alone. It was John Holmes who was discharged with a perfect record from the British navy.

Two years later he was was the beginning of his life on the ocean wave. Two years later he was transferred to the Impregnable and the Circe, then the Ganges, Agincourt-and the Vivid. In 1898 he was stationed on the Black Prince, Juno, Minotaur, Magnificent and the Sharpshooter. That year the ships to which he was attached visited the Mediterranean and he got his first real yision of what a naval life was like. But in the fall he was rushed across the Atlantic to St. John and over the continent to join the Icarus, then lying at Esquimalt. The vessel was watching seal pirates in the Bohring Sea, but it took many a long cruise. In August, 1899, it was at Petropaulovski. in Siberia, then in the Aleutian Islands, while a few weeks later it visited California, Mexico and Central America. The next summer, however, it wandered back to British Columbia and the seal fisheries. It was slipted. The Icarus was wander- was sighted. The Icarus was wander- was sighted. He was home but it was for a year of hard work. He was attached to the school of instruction for training in gunnery, torpedo and diving operations. When he was ready for sea again it was to take the African trip. The Mad Mullah was on his rampage in Somaliland and Holmes was one of the sailors sent ashore to help whip the fanatic. For months sniping operations were on most of the time, but Holmes had a charmed life and came off without a scratch. In a skirmish at libbi the two sallors who stood on either side of him crumpled up under the savages' bullets; a moment later another ripped thru Holmes' helmet, but that was the nearest that any came to wiping his name off the company roster. All theatrical people in the kingdom are sympathing with her because she has lost her suit against Mme. Hedvige Reinach, a rival. Those two actresses belonged to Mark Praga's company, and Mme Reinach insisted on playing only the best roles. She quarrelled with Mme. di Lorenzo and all the others in the company, then refused to speak to them. Mme. di Lorenzo wanted some good parts too and brought an action against her rival. She lost her case in the first instance lest April and has lost examination.

d'Annunzio and will appear in Rome d'Annunzio and will appear in Rome in his new comedy, "Amaranta," which will be ready for the stage by September. It is a modern comedy in three acts, and the title is also the name of the heroine, The first two acts are humorous, the third is frankly sentimental. There are only seven characters. It is going to be acted simultaneously in at least three Italian cities, but so far d'Annunzio has made no definite arrangements for its production abroad.

In the other Italian cities the title role will be played by Lyda Borelli and Maria Melato. D'Annunzio has invited Maria Melato to his country frome at Arcachon, where he leads the simple life with his aged mother, so that he can read the play to her and prepare her for the part. He asked Lyda Borelli as well, but she is still AGAINST ACTRESS touring the South America with his play "Ferro" (Iron).
