She was attended by her sister, Miss Esther McPhee, dressed in pink velveteen and carrying a bouquet of carnations. The groom was attended by his brother, Robert H. Buckley. The bride party took their places to the strains of the Lohengrin wedding march, played by Miss Cassie Fowler. MONCTON HORSE RACES.

(Moncton Transcript.)

The two days horse racing programme which will be run off at the local speedway on Friday, June 30, and Saturday, July 1st, promises to be the premier sporting event in the city on Friday and Dominion Day. Some thirty-five horses will compete for honors and they are all in readiness for the start tomorrow. That the races will be well handled is assured by the fact that the veteran starter, Frank Power, will handle the bell and megaphone. Such old favorites as Frank Boutiller, Dany Steel, Brown, P. A. Belliveau, James Hennessey and Amos Ester will be seen on the "hicks." The entries, as published some time ago, show a fine field of horses and this big meet should give the public some good racing.

PROMOTERS ARE FOUND GUILTY

Toronto, June 30.—Found guilty after a trial, which lasted seventeen days, on three counts of conspiracy, theft of and receiving "large sum of money," H. P. Slater and L. J. Thompson, Nukol Company promoters, were remanded in custody until Monday morning by Judge Coastworth, yesterday. Some of the jurors stood for a recommendation to mercy, but sentiment was divided. Arthur G. Slaght, K. C., and Peter White, K. C., will apply for a reserved case today.

Mother's Tree.

The idea of planting trees as memorials for soldiers who fought in the Great War has taken remarkable hold and thousands of trees will be used next fall for this purpose. "Plant a tree for Mother," urges an Eastern editor, "and let it always be known as 'Mother's tree.'" A bit of sentiment like that will bring a light to her eyes. Better a lovely growing graceful elm tree now than flowers when she is gone. Associate your trees by name with members of your family and the trees come to seem like members of your family. A humble home, with beautiful shade trees and shrubs about it, is much more attractive than a treeless place."

On one of the signatures of Quebec, the head of the family many years ago planted walnut trees, each identified with a son, daughter or grandchild. Today, the trees have grown to great size but the tender associations remain.

THE STAMP TAX.

The Amherst Board of Trade has written to the local board, asking them to co-operate in the stamp tax matter. The local board is willing to comply, as they have already taken some action in the matter.

N. B. A. MEETING POSTPONED.

Owing to the recent heavy frost which has damaged the roads it has been decided by the executive of the New Brunswick Automobile Association to postpone the special meeting of the association called for July 8 at the Cyr Hotel, St. Leonard. Later in the season when the roads are again up to standard and the drive up the river can be enjoyed the many members of the association who are now disappointed will have the opportunity of taking this trip and to promote the interests of the association.

THE ROBINSON PEERAGE.

London, June 30.—Doctor Visser, of the South African house of assembly, according to a Reuters cable from Cape Town, has written to the press replying to a statement made in the House of Lords by Lord Buxton, high commissioner and governor general of South Africa from 1914 to 1920, that he had never heard of Sir Joseph Robinson's public services. Dr. Visser calls attention to services which he says the new peer has rendered to South Africa in developing the diamond and gold fields.

ST. PHILLIP'S TAG DAY.

The tag day held by the A. M. E. church last Saturday was a decided success. The sum of $648.20 being realized. The workers report an excellent spirit exhibited by those who contributed, and the conference committee desires to use this opportunity to thank the generous public for their contributions. St. Philip's church under the present pastorate is meeting the needs of the people in a far more satisfactory manner than for some time past. The Rev. M. Stewart, who believes in organization, has succeeded in harnessing every element of the church for service and a spirit of co-operation prevails which is registering success along all lines. As has been done in the previous years, two-thirds of the amount collected goes direct to the church, the other third towards the work of the conference. In this way the presiding elder of the conference is not only helping to take care of many of the burdens of past years, but is making provision for further usefulness for the church in these maritime provinces.
