FINE DAY FOR FIRST GAME

Thousands All Night At Gates of The Ball Grounds

WOMEN IN LINE, TOO

Possible Line up of the Teams—Both Sides Agree That There is Great Struggle Ahead—The Betting

(Canadian Press)
New York, Oct. 8.—A brilliant day dawned for the first game of the world's baseball series this afternoon between the New York Nationals and the Boston Americans. Indications at eight o'clock were that the weather would remain fair and grow warmer. Thousands were in line waiting for the gates to open at eight o'clock.

Neither of the rival managers was prepared to announce his batting order early today, for everything depended upon the selections for box work just before the game.

Should Boston send in their left hander, Ray Collins, to the mound instead of "Doc" Wood, Manager McGraw, of the Giants, will likely switch Snodgrass from centre to left field and replace Outfielder Devere, who is weak against "smooth-paws," with Becker. Thus the uncertainty over the pitching selections indicated some jockeying of batting orders, just before the umpire in chief cries "play ball" at two o'clock this afternoon.

The probable batting order of the teams, however, follows:
Boston—Hooper, rf; Yerkes, 2b; Speaker, cf; Lewis, lf; Gardner, 3b; Stahl, lb; Wagner, ss; Cady or Carrigan, c; Wood, p.
New York—Devere, lf; Doyle, 2b; Snodgrass, cf; Murray, 1b; Merkle, 3b; Sizoo, 3b; Meyer, c; Fletcher, ss; Mathewson, p.

All Night in Line
The early comers began to gather at the gates of the Branch stadium near midnight, and by first in line when the gates opened at eight o'clock this morning. Near midnight this line had grown to 500 persons. Many of them had brought along their own boxes upon which to take an evening's sitting. It grew cold toward morning, and the crowd angled close to the high board fence along English avenue, to escape a biting west wind.

A woman appeared in line just after midnight and was observed by the police. She was wearing a long, dark, fur-trimmed coat and a hat. She was seen to enter the stadium and was seen to leave it. She was seen to enter the stadium and was seen to leave it. She was seen to enter the stadium and was seen to leave it.

Club officials estimated that there were 4,000 people at the gates at eight o'clock. This early throng was formed in a line four abreast and when the gates were flung open there was a rush for the reserved stations in the lower grand stand and "bleachers" set back of the outfield. About 30,000 seats were on sale today, and reserved seats having previously been disposed of.

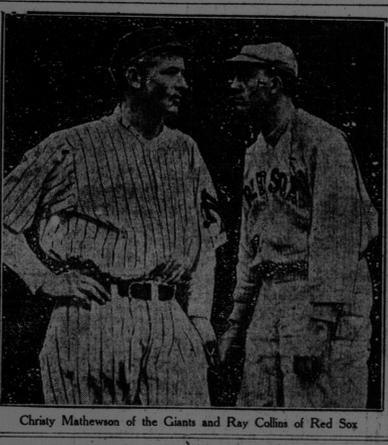

Giants Confident
The Giants are confident of the outcome of the series. The home players expect to win, but at the same time they expect to be fought until the last man is put on the field. "No one among our boys holds the Red Sox cheap," remarked "Chief" Meyers, the Indian catcher of the Giants, who was one of the first players to report at the clubhouse this morning. Soon after the "Chief" came Mathewson, Merkle and the other players, for there were spikes to be sharpened and bats and uniforms to be inspected. Few of the players were recognized in their street clothes, as they worked their way through the jam at the entrance.

"We naturally expect to win," said Captain Larry Doyle, the Giants' second baseman.

Manager John J. McGraw of the Giants, long in managerial ability but short on prophesy, was loquacious enough to say that the Giants were prepared to make a hard fight. Then McGraw trotted into the clubhouse and not another word on the possible outcome, could anyone get out of him. McGraw has looked the Red Sox over and studied the fine points of their play, but the New York players said this morning that it was doubtful if McGraw had laid out any plan of battle in advance. They knew him as a man who depends on snap judgment on the field and who places no dependence on premature plans of campaign.

Gardner Likely to Play
The Red Sox are in fine fettle. Beyond the injury to Larry Gardner, no ailment was reported to Manager Stahl by his men when they turned out this morning. Gardner will hold down his old position at third base, unless his injured finger gives him trouble. Clyde Engle will take his place should Gardner be compelled to retire. Engle is a good player, but has not got Gardner's fielding or hitting ability. Manager Stahl of the Red Sox had primed Joe Wood, his star pitcher, for duty today, but there were reports that Stahl might send in Ray Collins.

"I think our season's records will justify me in saying this much about the series," the Giants' manager said, "and that is that there will not be one game that our opponents will not have to knock us down to get."

LIGHT VOTE BEING POLLED

Those at Polls Say it Looks Like Defeat of Early Closing Bye-Law

The prospects for the success of the first attempt to secure civic legislation by the use of the initiative did not seem bright, from what could be learned along the polling places today, as it appeared that the majority of those who voted were opposed to the early closing movement. The polls opened at eight o'clock this morning, but when they did open the returning officers were not overwhelmed with business. During the morning the voting was very light and while there was a little spurt at the noon hour, the total vote cast will be a very small proportion of the number of qualified voters. The result of the vote reflected the general lack of interest in the matter.

Those who were interested at all, however, were most decidedly so and the exchange of opinions regarding the merits of the proposed law or its lack of merit were sometimes quite vigorous. Carriages were used by the workers on both sides to bring out the vote although not on a very large scale and both sides had representatives at the polls.

A canvass of some of the polling places at eleven o'clock showed an average vote in each of about 45 ballots and at one o'clock it was scarcely double that amount. In Queens ward about 120 votes out of a thousand or so were cast at one o'clock. There were various estimates as to the result of the vote, but the result will be about two to one against the early closing movement. In one booth an official said that forty-six votes had been cast and forty of these voters had been spoken in their opposition to the measure. In the North End, where the movement originated, the contest seemed more equal but even in that section the supporters were not very optimistic.

The polls close at four o'clock this afternoon and the ballot boxes will be returned to City Hall. The official announcement of the result will not be made until tomorrow morning.

THE BREAKWATER

Mayor Frink Lays Matter Before The Commissioners

The correspondence regarding the breakwater in Courtenay Bay was laid before the commissioners at noon today by the mayor. His Worship submitted a letter which he had received several months ago from Hon. J. D. Hazen when the matter was first taken up, and in which the minister pointed out the difficulties in the way of the change. His worship has more recently written to Mr. Hazen replying the matter, and laying before him the matters which are pressing for change from work on the present site.

He was reported to Manager Stahl by his men when they turned out this morning. Gardner will hold down his old position at third base, unless his injured finger gives him trouble. Clyde Engle will take his place should Gardner be compelled to retire. Engle is a good player, but has not got Gardner's fielding or hitting ability. TORY TRUCK TO DECEIVE QUEBEC

Fake Notice Calling Meeting of "Wilfrid Laurier" Orange Lodge is Published in Toronto

(Canadian Press)
Toronto, Oct. 8.—The tour of Ontario completed, Sir Wilfrid Laurier arrived in Toronto today to attend the annual meeting of the Ontario Reform Association in the Temple building and deliver an address. Five hundred invitations have been issued.

Sir Wilfrid considered his four last night at Toronto where he was assisted by Hon. George P. Graham and Hon. McKenzie King. Hon. Mr. Graham in his address said that recently a fake notice of an Orange lodge meeting appeared in a Toronto newspaper. It contained the customary out of King William crossing the Boyce and purported to summon a meeting of the "Wilfrid Laurier Lodge," being signed by Mr. Graham and McKenzie King.

"These papers," said Mr. Graham, "have already been sent by Borden's agents to Quebec, to be reproduced in the French Canadian papers, to prove that Sir Wilfrid has deserted his religion and that Orange lodges in Ontario are being called after him."

Colorado Springs, Oct. 8.—The Garden of the Gods has just been formally presented to the city of Colorado Springs and dedicated to the use of the entire world. Hon. Charles E. Perkins, who children and heirs carried out his wish that the great natural park be preserved to the people.

With simple ceremonies and in the presence of a large number of the city's prominent citizens, the Garden of the Gods was formally transferred to the city of Colorado Springs. The transfer was made by Hon. Henry C. Palmer, mayor of Colorado Springs, and Charles E. Perkins, in fulfillment of the wish that it be kept forever free to the public.

Perkins was a prominent figure in the western railroad world and was a member of the Burlington railroad. In the earlier days, he was an associate of General William J. Palmer, founder of the city of Colorado Springs, and builder of the Denver & Rio Grande railroad. It was upon General Palmer's suggestion that he secured the Garden of the Gods in 1879.

Throughout his life he maintained this great natural park free of access, although he was several times offered large sums of money for the tract. When he died in 1907, the Garden of the Gods, with the remainder of his estate, to his children and the only indication as to his disposal was a note in his own handwriting, found on the back of an old envelope.

"It is my wish that my children give the Garden of the Gods to the city of Colorado Springs for park purposes."

To carry out his wish, the heirs being the necessary legal proceedings and on October 8, 1912, the scenic wonder passed into the possession of the city of Colorado Springs. The tract comprises 300 acres and is valued in excess of $200,000.

The marvelous and fantastic rock formations of the Garden of the Gods have long been pointed out as one of the world's natural wonders. Before the coming of the automobile, the Garden of the Gods was the worshiping place of the Indians, and today the Utes return annually for their "Sham Kiva" of rejoicing. Chief of the "Sham Kiva" is the "Gardens," formed of two immense slabs of red sandstone, which tower to a height of more than 300 feet. Passing through the rock portals, one enters a region where titanic forces have been at play. "The Cathedral Spire," "Three Graces," "Bear and Seal," "Tower of Babel," and "Siamese Twins" are among the most interesting and noted groups.

With the addition of the Garden of the Gods to the city of Colorado Springs, the city now comprises North Cheyenne Canon, Mount Valley Park, with miles of roads and trails leading to places of great beauty. It includes 3,000 acres which is considerably in excess of that owned by many cities of the same size. The city of Colorado Springs with its population of 30,000. For this magnificent park system, Colorado Springs is indebted to General Palmer.

MONTENEGRO BEGINS WAR?

Declaration Delivered to Turkey and Fighting is Reported

Little State Seems to Have Forestalled Action of Powers Which Was Taken This Morning to Prevent Hostilities and Matter is More Complicated

Cettinje, Montenegro, Oct. 8.—Montenegro declared war on Turkey this morning. The declaration of war was delivered to the Porte by the Montenegrin charge d'affaires early today. Heavy fighting is in progress along the frontier.

London, Oct. 8.—It is officially announced in Constantinople that diplomatic relations between Turkey and Montenegro have been broken off, according to a news agency despatch from the Turkish capital. The market appeared to await the result of the action taken by the powers. Consols did not change, but American stocks were from 18 to 14 below parity.

Servians Want to Fight
Belgrade, Serbia, Oct. 8.—Reports reached here today that Montenegrin troops had crossed the Turkish frontier. The Servian parliament today voted an extra credit of $6,000,000 for military purposes, while the merchants of this city are making large donations to the funds being raised for the assistance of poor families whose bread winners have been called up for military service. Three hundred and fifty nurses have been ordered to the front by the Russian Red Cross Society arrived today.

Premier Pachitch, speaking at the conclusion of the debate in the Servian parliament, declared that the treatment of the Servians in Macedonia had gone from bad to worse, and that the Balkan states could no longer endure the suffering of their brothers across the border. He insisted that the Ottoman government should be compelled to carry out reforms in the province of Turkey in Europe.

London, Oct. 8.—A news agency despatch from Cettinje this morning says that war has been declared by Montenegro on Turkey. Heavy fighting is said to be already in progress, between the Montenegrins and the Turkish troops along the frontier. A detachment of Montenegrin troops on the frontier, which was sent to Tuzi on the Montenegrin frontier was attacked last evening by a large force of Malassou tribesmen, just before reaching Tuzi.

The battle continued throughout the night and the fighting, according to the despatch, is still proceeding this morning. No confirmation of the news agency despatch from Cettinje has been received by the foreign legations here or by the British foreign office. The many special news agencies have been gathering in great numbers, and it is calculated that nearly a million men are face to face.

Despatches from Constantinople say that military patrols were going round the city and that the military authorities, too, had placed troops on board a large number of Greek vessels which they had sent in Turkish waters and it is understood that these are to be used for the transport of troops.

EWELER FOUND DEAD
BESIDE HIS RIFLED SAFE
Glasgow, Oct. 8.—A mysterious tragedy, following a burglary, was discovered in the early hours yesterday morning in Argyle street. A policeman was examining the premises on his beat when he found the door leading to a jeweller's shop, a bull's place open, and the owner dead on the floor.

Investigation revealed the fact that the safe had been blown open. There was no wound on Mr. Turnbull's body. On the workman's bench was in his own hand, a small quantity of a deadly chemical, ferro-cyanide of potassium, a deadly chemical used by jewelers in the course of their business. There was also a broken piece of fresh water, and it had evidently been Mr. Turnbull's intention to begin work, as his coat, jacket and hat were hanging on a peg.

Those who know Mr. Turnbull say he was a very nervous temperament, and that the shock of finding his place burglarized might have caused death. Mr. Turnbull was in the habit of starting work at five o'clock in the morning.

May Have Blocked Powers' Efforts
London, Oct. 7.—The declaration of war on Turkey reported from Cettinje to have been made today by the little kingdom of Montenegro forestalled the action of the European powers in favor of peace by only a few hours.

The ambassadors at Constantinople and the ministers at the capitals of Bulgaria, Serbia, Greece and Montenegro, had been instructed to make representations to the powers on their behalf this morning, and a despatch from Belgrade confirms that their programme has been carried out. It is feared generally in diplomatic quarters here that the action in which Montenegro has participated, and the fighting reported to have taken place between Turkish and Montenegrin troops on the frontier, will jeopardize the whole situation and tend to frustrate the efforts of diplomacy. It is thought likely that the other Balkan states may decide to follow the lead of Montenegro.

The situation of the Christians in Albania and Macedonia and the demand of the Balkan states that those provinces should be granted autonomous government, are the main causes of the crisis. Some hundreds of thousands of Turkish reserves, it is believed, have been concentrated rapidly at strategic points along the frontier. At the same time, the Balkan armies have been gathering in great numbers, and it is calculated that nearly a million men are face to face.

Despatches from Constantinople say that military patrols were going round the city and that the military authorities, too, had placed troops on board a large number of Greek vessels which they had sent in Turkish waters and it is understood that these are to be used for the transport of troops.
