St. Andrews, Nov. 7.-Another case of didn't think the revolver was load-ed! Saturday night last John McCullough, twenty-one years old, son of Andrew McCullough, was accidentally shot in his father's house. He and a neighbor named Charles Gibson were sitting chatting after the family had retired. McCullough was showing Gibson how his rifle worked. showing Gibson how his rine worked. Gibson drew a seven-chamber revolver from his pocket, stating it was not loaded, and proceeded to show how it worked. Pointing it in the direction of McCullough, he pulled the trigger, when an explosion took place of the only cartridge in the barrel. The ball struck McCulleugh on the cheek and penetrated, it is suppos to the eye. At all events the sight has left the eye, and at last accounts blood was running from the young man's nostrils. Strange to say, no medical aid was summened.

Woodstock, Nov. 7.-The about the opening of St. Gertrude's street, leading to the Roman Cathol cemetery, in which the town counci is on one side and Mr. Owen on the other, is beginning to assume a some what serious aspect. It has been al-ready stated in the Sun that complaint encroaching on the street the council employed A. B. Connell, Q. C., to look after the matter. They also had a survey made of the street. The result was that the council resolved to give Mr. Owen ten days in which to remove the encumbrance, which sisted of a fence and part of a lawn On Monday evening last the counc had another meeting and by a major-ity vote decide to go ahead with the work of opening up the street. On Tues day the street commissioner, assiste by others, removed Mr. Owen's fenc and that part of his lawn which i was alleged was on St. Gertrude' street. The plea of the council is that St. Gertrude's is a public street claiming four rods, and that on de mand of any citizen of the town it be came the duty of the council to oper and grade the street. Those who sympathize with Mr. Owen allege that the street beyond Broadway has never been opened, and that there was am ple room for getting into the ceme-tery. Each party to the dispute claim that there are deeds or records which will support their contention. The latest phase in the case is the presence here of L. A. NORTHUMBERLAND CO. Chatham, N. B., Nov. 8 .- The preliminary examination of Joseph Do-herty, charged by the coroner's jury with killing Arthus J. On crossexamination Buote said: Doherty was walking towards the slaughter house, carrying a gun in his right hand, when first I saw him. I won't swear that he changed the position of the gun when he turned around in answer to Luke's call of Joe. I was not correct when I said at the inquest that he levelled the gun at us. When Joe turned around, Luke said, Don't fire we were wrong. It was Luke who about completed the season's first started the idea of catching Doherty. Doherty did nothing to us when he let him up. He didn't point the gun at us or strike us. I didn't or fifteen feet from him, Doherty turned around and said, don't come here, and then put the gun to his ulder and pointed it at us. THE MARKETS.

Revised Every Monday for the Weekly Sun.

COUNTRY MARKET.

The market was very fully supplied last week, and produce moved off rather slowly. There is a great deal of butter in sight and it is very hard to hold up the price. Eggs are steady, and henery stock, really fresh and choice, is scarce and higher. There is no change in meats and poultry, except that they are a little and turkeys are really cheaper. Turmips are very cheap, selling in lots as low as 35c. per barrel.
