

FOR WOMEN ALL SEASONS

Met The Ladies of St. George Red Cross

Enthusiastic Meeting at St. George — Will Establish Small Cottage Hospitals.

On Wednesday afternoon, Mrs. Lawrence, Mrs. Haddock, Mrs. Ebbel, Mrs. George, Mrs. Cross at the home of their president, Mrs. T. Kent.

In connection with work done by the society, Mrs. Beach was most active throughout the summer, and accomplished a good deal of work.

Dr. Taylor's Address

In the evening, a large and enthusiastic audience met at the Imperial Theatre, Dr. H. I. Taylor officiated as chairman.

Dr. Taylor gave some introductory remarks about the work that has been done by the Red Cross during the war.

Mrs. Haddock read an address pertaining to public health and child welfare.

Cottage Hospitals

Mrs. Harold Lawrence, the convenor of the cottage hospital committee, reports the proposition of the Red Cross.

The proposition was listened to with great interest and the following committee were appointed to look into the matter.

VOICES OF WOMEN.

Met ye my love? In France you might have met him; He has a wondrous smile.

Met ye my love? In lands far off he has been; With his yellow-limbed hair, In Egypt once he was seen.

Met ye my love? Heard ye my love? My love you must have heard.

Met ye my love? Heard ye my love? We sang on a Grecian hill.

Behold your love And how should I forget him; His smile, his hair, his song; Alas! to maid shall get him For all her love.

Where he sleeps a million strong — Frank Prescott.

SUMMER RESORT.

The man who wears the line, "Six grand flora mundi" certainly knew what he was talking about.

His wordy bar.

Justice A. S. White, of Sussex, is in the city.

Natural History Ladies' Assn.

Large Attendance Yesterday Afternoon — Poland, Its History and Music, Subject

NATURAL HISTORY.— Poland, its history and its music, furnished the subject of an interesting series of papers read before the Ladies' Association of the Natural History Society yesterday afternoon.

The lecture was the second of a series which the association proposes holding throughout the winter and was marked by a large attendance.

Mrs. Homer read a paper on the early history of Poland. Mrs. George Matthews dealt with Poland under German and Russian domination.

Mrs. Clewson Allan took as her subject modern Poland, and spoke very interestingly of the noted composer and pianist, the country's first president.

Mrs. Kent Schmeidler rendered a number of brilliant selections by Polish composers. One that was particularly enjoyed was by Chopin, the greatest of all the gifted musicians of Poland.

Mrs. George Hare sang several Polish folk songs that also gave much pleasure. A number of pictures of the Polish capital, Warsaw, and also of Cracow, were screened, and served to bring the subject under discussion close to the audience.

Mrs. W. J. Shaw, president of the association, presided at the meeting.

Church of England Institute Tea

Large Attendance Yesterday Afternoon Greatly Enjoyed the Annual Affair.

The annual Church of England Institute Tea was held yesterday afternoon with a large attendance of members and friends.

Mrs. J. V. Young and Mrs. J. A. Holmes, Assisting were Miss Dillie West, Miss Hilda Shaw, Miss Katherine Skelton, Miss DuVernet, Miss Peters, Miss Marjorie Pearce and Miss Grace Estey.

ALEXANDRA TEMPLE INSTALLED OFFICERS

Report of Secretary Last Evening Showed a Prosperous Year.

Alexandra Temple No. 6, of the Temple of Honor and Temperance, installed officers last evening.

The officers installed were: Chief Templar—A. L. Roberts.

Reporters—G. H. Whitney, Assistant Reporter—C. T. Green.

Finance Reporter—F. D. Logan, Treasurer—F. T. Gallop.

Chaplain—W. H. Breakefield, Exe.—G. B. Andrews.

Deputy Exe.—F. E. Dival, Guardian—Jas. Peterson.

Half Chief Templar—F. Holman.

The officers were installed by Grand Chief Templar C. T. Green and Grand Usher J. D. Eubank.

Cordite is Not Black Powder.

Dudley Field Malone, former collector for the port of New York, declares that the Lusitania, when torpedoed, was carrying nearly eleven tons of black powder—in cartridges.

Reflections of A Bachelor Girl

By HELEN ROWLAND

"Conscience" is merely a man's favorite name for the attack of "cold feet" which accompanies a cooling heart, after a sentimental flame has spluttered out.

It's hard to believe that anything COULD be as pure and simple as a bachelor's flat, when his fiancée and her mother are coming to call.

Alas, it is SO much easier to get a man to go to Perdition for you, than to induce him to keep straight and go to heaven WITH you!

What is the sweet old-fashioned Grandmother, who used to sit by the fire, sip gum, complain of her rheumatism, and knit endless socks? She's putting a tack in her walking-skirt and having her hair marcelled preparatory to going out and casting a nice, useful ballot, bless her heart!

Where is the sweet old-fashioned girl who used to wait with downcast eyes for Prince Charming to come riding by? She has both eyes cut, now, watching for him, so as to be ready to rush out and nip up his horse before he gets PAST!

Why does a man always speak of having "given" his heart to a woman as though he had done something great and good; whereas, if the truth were known, she probably had to chloroform him and slice it from him?

Oh yes, there is a vast difference between vanity and conceit. For instance, when a woman has a photograph taken, she always asks for a "pretty picture"; a man always demands a "good likeness."

There are only two times when a man fully values a woman's love—before he wins it, and after he loses it.

Neighbors Or "People Next Door?"

Old Gentleman Gives His Opinion of the Right Kind of Neighbors.

An elderly man, whose opinion is considered worth something in the community, was asked the other day what he thought were proper attributes of "the people next door."

And he said: "I've been living here for nearly 40 years. Folks on either side of us have come and gone. The people I like best for neighbors are those who do these things: They keep the place neat and clean, favor repainting once in awhile, hang out a washing every Monday morning, Tuesday is ironing day.

"They'll lend their lawn mower if you'll bring it back. They'll do the same with a pinch of salt or an egg or a cup of flour. They will go out of their way to do a favor. They like little children, and appreciate that one are perfect. They keep the garbage can covered. They are not too curious about who comes and goes at our house. They mind their own business, an excellent trait.

"What the grocer brings in or the laundryman carries out doesn't interest them. They are not snooty, if once in awhile, there's a good deal of noise at our house, they don't telephone that they are about to call the police. They are appreciative, kindly, companionable, neighborly.

"They live as nearly by the Golden Rule as is humanly possible, I guess. And that being so, we do the same. It is a good plan: Don't stone your neighbor's dog; it reduces the likelihood that he will stone yours."

Seems as if the wise old gentleman preached a pretty good-sized sermon in not so many words, either.

Two Women Are Among The Victors

Cleveland Will Have Two Lady Members on Its Staff of Court Judges.

Cleveland, O., Nov. 4.—Two women have been elected to the bench in this section. Miss Florence Allen led the field for common pleads judge in Cleveland with 116,899 over 10,000 more than her nearest opponent.

Mrs. Abbie Nye Norton, of Perry, was elected probate judge of Lake county by 2,000. Both are independent candidates.

At Siamese Court.

View of the white elephant of the court of Siam is more often granted to the stranger than in the past. "Light eyes, a dirty white hide, white tusks, a pink topped nose and an air of intense boredom" that is the impression which the correspondent brought back of the sacred beast. As for tricks he seems to have fewer of than his plebeian, darker hued brothers of the circus.

The religious cult which believed that the white elephant is one of the incarnations assumed by the Buddha before he appeared in the form of man, has for many years been losing adherents. This is assigned as a reason for the growing lack of reverence for the sacred beast.

But another reason may be found in the changing attitude of the Siamese. A white elephant is a burden and with his numerous retinue of priests and attendants, a heavy expense. He is not assigned as a reason for the ordinary use that can be put on the plantation and in the teak forests.

He Conceded It.

Secretary to Woodrow Wilson declares that the President's great fault is that he doesn't know how to play to the gallery. Certainly he conceals his fault very carefully on that European trip.

Successful Dance In Veterans' Rooms

Large Attendance Enjoyed Affair Under Auspices of Y. W. P. A. and G. W. V. A.

A very successful dance was held under the auspices of the Y. W. P. A. and G. W. V. A. last evening in the G. W. V. A. rooms on Wellington Row.

The hall was prettily decorated with flags and streamers. Miss Kinsman's orchestra furnished music for a long programme of dances.

Receiving the guests were Major Norman MacLachlan, president of the G. W. V. A. and Mrs. McLeod; Colonel G. G. Corbett and Mrs. Corbett, and Miss Alice Fairweather, president of the Y. W. P. A.

Supper was served down stairs, the table being bright with red geraniums. Presiding at the supper table were Mrs. Richard Hooper and Mrs. G. G. Corbett. Mrs. A. J. Mulcahy cut the pie.

Miss Bernice Borden was general convenor assisted by Miss Charlotte Dodge, Miss Emily Hayton, Miss Corbett, Miss Frances Alward, Miss Alice Hatch, Miss Beatrice Frink and Mrs. Tillotson.

Among those present were Mayor Mrs. Schofield, Brigadier-General MacLachlan, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Hooper, Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Peck and Col. McLean.

Wet White Method Of Picture Making

One Painting Method Which Gives Some Wonderful Results.

A feature of the Toynbee Art Club exhibition is the work of Mr. W. J. Frank, a most accomplished painter, who has depicted the glories of Italian architecture, or an East-end slum, he is equally convincing.

With fine irony he has entitled his picture of a slum "The Beauty of the East-end" state of delapidation, "Not Planders—Home We Fought For." Last but not least, there are a couple of fine studies in red chalk by Mr. H. W. Parker, who is really a great draughtsman.

The "Wet-White" painting here referred to is not the well-known process in the art of theatrical make-up whereby the actor's beauty imperishable colors on a wet ground of white oil-paint. Over this wet ground the colors are placed, and the touches of the brush must be deftly made that the ground below shall not be worked up, yet be so far persuaded to mix with the superimposed color as to avoid the appearance of a thin or dry surface.

It is essentially a one-painting method, a second coat of paint being fatal to the work.

Mr. Edward Steel Harper, a Birmingham artist, is exhibiting a large number of pictures, mainly landscapes in watercolor, painted by this method, at the Burlington Galleries in Leadenhall Street.

There is another consideration, which is now a few years old, and the lady is now married. As to the idea of a dilapidation of the Prince's choice, it is now a secret that there is a strong desire in a high quarter for his marriage with a Rumanian princess, and that to another of a British nobleman, is a daughter and closely associated with the court would be the ideal arrangement.

Apart from the natural desire that the Prince should marry, there is a political consideration. There is no eligible princess of royal birth in Europe who has not German blood in her veins.

There is no eligible princess of royal birth in Europe who has not German blood in her veins.

WHITE ELEPHANTS ARE GROWING RARE

If one may trust the reports which come from Bangkok, its capital city, Siam is losing some of its reverence for its sacred white elephant. One of these pampered beasts was always presented in a red field upon the national banner, and the oldest and most coveted honor that Siam could bestow was the Most Exalted Order of the White Elephant. The order still remains as a survival of old times, but the desire to substitute something for the white elephant has gone so far as to eliminate this ancient emblem from some of the many flags of the little nation.

A correspondent of a London paper writes of these sacred beasts as "some what fallen from their old glory, when Eastern kings fought wars for their possession."

At Siamese Court.

View of the white elephant of the court of Siam is more often granted to the stranger than in the past. "Light eyes, a dirty white hide, white tusks, a pink topped nose and an air of intense boredom" that is the impression which the correspondent brought back of the sacred beast. As for tricks he seems to have fewer of than his plebeian, darker hued brothers of the circus.

The religious cult which believed that the white elephant is one of the incarnations assumed by the Buddha before he appeared in the form of man, has for many years been losing adherents. This is assigned as a reason for the growing lack of reverence for the sacred beast.

But another reason may be found in the changing attitude of the Siamese. A white elephant is a burden and with his numerous retinue of priests and attendants, a heavy expense. He is not assigned as a reason for the ordinary use that can be put on the plantation and in the teak forests.

He Conceded It.

Secretary to Woodrow Wilson declares that the President's great fault is that he doesn't know how to play to the gallery. Certainly he conceals his fault very carefully on that European trip.

IMPERIA

A Motherly Kiss More Powerful Than a Sheriff's Posses

Goldwyn JACK PICKFORD'S Latest Feature Success

O. Henry's Intensely Human Texan Story

"A DOUBLE-DYED DECEIVER"

This is a veritable Jack Pickford picture—something with that human punch that makes your old heart feel better, your tears start.

O. Henry is one of the most beloved of all short story writers. His lovers are legion. So with Jack Pickford the combination is complete.

THE INTERNATIONAL SCHOONER RACES

"Esperanto" First Movies of the Halifax Events

"Delewana" Taken by Special Camera Men from the Specialty Film Import Co., Montreal and St. John.

"THE LOST CITY" OUR JUNGLE SERIAL STORY

OUR CANADA In Canadian Pictorial NEWSY MOVIES

MONDAY'S FEATURE "THE COST" By David Graham Phillips

OPERA HOUSE VAUDEVILLE

TODAY Matinee at 2.30 Evening at 7.30 and 9

5 ACTS OF HIGH CLASS VAUDEVILLE and SERIAL PHOTO DRAMA

How Much Is A Wife Worth?

Five Shillings is Answer Given by British Writer Recently.

"Five shillings! That's all she's worth."

This was the assessment made the other day by a husband when required by the police magistrate to provide an allowance for his wife.

Well, of course, it is just possible that this particular wife's value was not "far above rubies." At the same time, the wife of a working man is usually the hardest worked and the poorest paid of all women workers.

Let me figure this out. She is, first of all, the housekeeper. In all weathers she busy in the kitchen, the requirements of the household and carries her load home. She cleans the house from top to bottom, and everything within it. This is a job for which people nowadays demand at least £30 a year and board and lodging.

Then she cooks every atom of food consumed in the house. She does it morning, noon, and night, with no "evenings out." People who take on that sort of job are asking today anything from £50 and her board and lodging.

Further, she is needlewoman and tailor to the family. In that happy hour when she can sit down for a while she is cutting out and making up and generally repairing her husband's and children's clothes. How much is that worth? Well, I say £20 per annum! And is she not also the laundress for the family?

And how is she paid? As a rule, she is paid nothing. She is given no wages nor is she entitled to a fixed proportion of her husband's earnings.

For her own personal needs she scrapes something off the small portion of the housekeeping money.

Commercially, here is the poorest job in the labor market.

Solomon, the wise king, said: "Give heed of the fruit of her hands"; but there are many husbands who are saying today: "Five shillings; that's all she's worth."

TO AN AIREDALE.

Your kind brown eyes have closed with a last twinkle; Tonight I'll miss a greeting at the gate; And if near dusk I should go lily strolling, At the road's turn no kindly heart would wait.

When on the hills October's leaves are flaming, No well-known bark will echo through the vale; You're gone, with all your love and faith unflinching, Down the aim windings of the long, long trail.

I like to think, old chap, that you're now roving In some far hunting ground beyond the blue, And that we two may tramp some shining morning Down well remembered lanes, all bathed in dew.

—ROBERT D. BRYCE.

Prominent Man

Tanne has completely lost health and I feel finer than in was the straightforward story made recently by Mr. George...

"It has not only made a man of me but I have actually thirty-five pounds in weight as well as a 1000 in my life...

"When I began taking T was in an awfully run-down condition, I was away all of my friends about I was nervous all of the time...

NO GERMAN ZEPPELIN PLANT IN THE

Gov't Officials Laugh at report—Say Private C Might be Interested.

Copyright 1920 by Public L Washington, Nov. 4.—Director Zeppelein plant in this country...

CANADA TO SUPPLY U. S. WITH ITS PA

New York, Nov. 4.—Angus M vice-president and general manager of Bathurst Lumber Co., Limited, uret, N. B. pulp and lumber here declared, on his arrival here...

On the malded department of read N. A. Pulp sold at 5.14; H at 44.12; Hordon preferred 5.00; Laurentide Power, 59, and Dry 21.34 and 31.78.

COOKERY COLUMN

Cocoa Float

2 cups milk 2 eggs salt 1 teaspoon cinnamon 1/2 cup sugar 2 tablespoons Cowan's Cocoa 2 tablespoons corn-starch 1/2 teaspoon vanilla

Method—Scald milk, mix cornstarch, cocoa, salt and cinnamon. Add scalded milk slowly. Cook in a double boiler so minutes or until thick and there is no taste of raw starch, stirring constantly. Add egg yolks beaten slightly, and cook till egg thickens; flavor cool. Beat egg whites until stiff and firm, add a tablespoonful of icing sugar gradually, beating all the time; flavor. Turn cocoa mixture into a glass, and drop by tablespoons the egg white mixture on top.

His Coat is Good

Wanderer

"Some time ago, I had a bad cold very much run-down, I got your OLVINE EMULSION with the best of results. I have bottles in all my closets."

OLIVE EMULSION

The Great

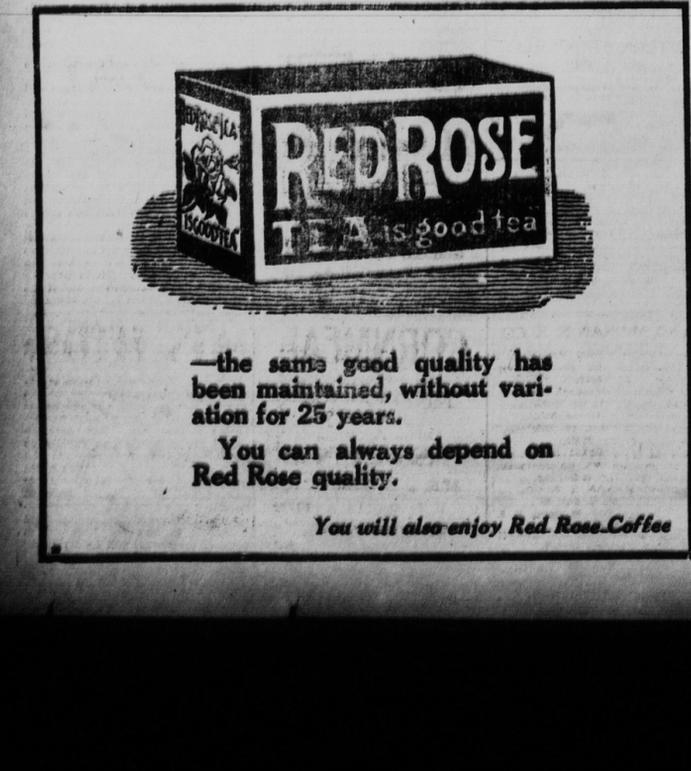

purifies the blood, cures rheumatism, restores strength, and relieves all ailments of the chest and throat.

OLIVE EMULSION preparation of the extract of the Wild Cherry (appetizing Quinine and Syrup of Iodine) for medicinal purposes.

All these ingredients are of highest quality and are prepared in a clean and hygienic manner.

Prepared by Fraser, Ltd.

The Lake of the Woods Milling Co., Ltd., has declared a dividend of 1 1/2 per cent. on preferred, and 3 per cent. on common, both payable December 1, to cessed November 30.

RED ROSE
A good tea

—the same good quality has been maintained, without variation for 25 years.

You can always depend on Red Rose quality.

You will also enjoy Red Rose Coffee

Secretary to Woodrow Wilson declares that the President's great fault is that he doesn't know how to play to the gallery. Certainly he conceals his fault very carefully on that European trip.