

THE TELEGRAPH'S
OTTAWA LETTER

(Special Correspondence of the Telegraph.)

Ottawa, April 10.—The Hon. Frank Oliver provoked a little storm in the common house today by reference to the recent campaign in the new provinces. The breeze was bound to arise for the western members were given a day all to them-you want to make Montreal a national harbor," he said, "but you must help us to get to Hudson Bay." R. S. Laker followed with a strong attack on the government for the long delay which had occurred over the lands of the west and in this the minister of the interior grew wrath. "The battle cry of the Conservatives," he said, "is to have the west and the land for the speculator." He said, amid a chorus of disapproval, that the Conservative benches. He claimed that the Conservative policy was the public lands to the highest bidder, while the Liberal policy was the land for the settler.

This is the pronouncement of the Hon. Charles Fitzpatrick, and he is preparing a measure to enforce obedience.
Quebec and Ontario judges are mostly to blame. They have been acting as administrators of large estates, with the result that they have not attended to the duties of the bench as carefully as they should.
Last session when the matter came up it was considered unnecessary to prescribe a penalty for disobedience, but this session the minister of justice will go further. Of course they will be allowed to teach in the universities but they will not be allowed to act as arbitrators or as referees. It was stated in the house that they could hardly appearances he has made he has certainly not mollified the critics. His hippany has been objected to by members, but while he may have given this impression, it seems unfair to accuse the minister of hippany. He has carried with him into the house the ways and manners of the court room—which might have been ex-knowing one day changes are coming. It is stated that the reduction in the number of staff places new regulations regarding the hours of work will go into effect. One is that clerks will be required to go to work at 8 o'clock instead of 9.15, and that in nine hours instead of seven and a half as now.

An Ottawa dispatch states the site for the new shops is practically settled and the department will call for tenders within a month. The estimated expenditure on the new works is $1,000,000. The impression is growing that the shops will be removed to the western part of the city.

Moncton, April 8.—(Special)—T. C. Dolan, of this city, has disposed of his grocery and dry goods business situated opposite the Royal Bank to W. B. Wyse, of Newcastle, and intends leaving shortly for the west.

W. B. Wyse, of Newcastle, N. B., has purchased the business of J. D. Creighton & Co., intending leaving for Calgary in June and will probably go into business with Clarence Cross, who leaves for the west shortly.

aging committee, Dr. Chandler, Thos.

gow in July.

married on Wednesday next to Miss Maud Brenner, daughter of Mrs. James Brenner, of this city.

The I. C. R. office are looking for a well known public dealer who has been carrying on business here for two or three years. A warrant has been issued for his arrest on a charge of defrauding the I. C. R. property. The junk dealer wanted has been missing from the city for some days but it is said he is in Montreal and intends returning to the city.

Mayor Steeves left last night for Ottawa to interview the government in reference to the location of the I. C. R. shops.
He has been sent by the council to advocate having the shops rebuilt on the site offered the government by the city valid transfer of the license by the comly completed the seizure when Thomas Cameron, of his majesty's customs, appeared on the scene and claimed the liquor and took possession of the same. The customs duties had not been paid on goods.

Frederick N. B. April 8.—(Special)— The cold winter has interested somewhat in his residence here. The afternoon the doctors held a consultation on the case and pronounced his ailment catarrhal jaundice.

Collector Street has been confined to his room at the Barker House for more than a week by illness. His condition has been quite serious but today he is improving.

Teams of young ladies representing the normal school and university played a game of basket ball at the college gymnasium yesterday. The Normans were out by a score of five to one. The game was a little on the rough side as evidenced by the fact that one of the normal students had two knocked out and another received a blow in the face which caused him to bleed.

at Gibson today after a lingering illness from consumption, aged twenty-one years.

People here much disappointed over the report of Engineer Lamden recommending the central route for the national transcontinental railway.

Correspondent yesterday expressed surprise at some statements contained in Engineer Lamden's report. He thought it unduly for him to recommend the central valley already had ample railway facilities when as matter of fact there is no railway between Fredericton and Woodstock by the route proposed.

Mr. George Taylor, Chief Whip of the Conservative Party, selves and the hard feelings that the elections in Alberta and Saskatchewan engendered have not yet been softened.
This was how it began. The government moved to go into supply when Dr. W. J.
Roche, of Marquette, chipped in with a resolution which amounted to a vote of want of confidence. His resolution was to let the public lands and the weakness of the minister of the interior.
He is strong in his perfect knowledge of western questions, he is never at a loss for a word. But when a campaigner against a parliamentary minister, he is laying the selection of his words and that he suited their purposes, but it was not to the interests of the people who had to pay double for public burdens meanwhile.

Then Dr. Shafford advanced the claim for a Hudson Bay railway and declared his belief in the project with that project.

SOCIETY WOMEN IN SONG AND PRAYER AT HOTEL

Meetings Now Too Large for Prize Houses and Will Be Held at St. Regis Every Thursday.

New York, April 6.—Three hundred young women, handsomely clothed in the height of fashion, crowded the banquethall of the St. Regis hotel yesterday afternoon in attendance on a religious meeting held by three earnest young women.

No men were asked or permitted to be present. It was the first religious meeting ever held in the St. Regis. Miss Jeanie B. Duncan and her sister, Miss Amy L.
Duncan, and Miss Ethel G. Thompson, the daughter of Richard J. Thompson, were the leaders of the meeting.

For more than a year these young women have been holding religious meetings at each other's homes, and now the number interested has grown too large to be housed in a private residence. Today was the first of a series of meetings to be held on Thursday at the St. Regis. After nearly fifty persons had testified, the meeting concluded with hymns and prayers. Tea was served.

Something of the character of the man may be gathered from a scene I witnessed in the Russell House, Ottawa, a few weeks ago. The postmaster-general had arrived from Toronto and leaving his grip at the office was hurrying off to keep an appointment. Lurching through the rotunda was a young lawyer to whom wine-bibbing has become a dominant craving. At the moment he was a man to be avoided. Mr.
Aylesworth, who knew him, took him by the arm, led him apart and chatted for a while. Whatever the postmaster-general said had an effect for when the great man had gone the young fellow straightened up and disappeared from the hotel. There is a big heart underneath Aylesworth's coat, and his admirer and confidant the fact that he has acquired the habit of parliament more he will shrink.

When the Indian estimates were being considered in supply Mr. Oliver stated a very regrettable fact that their attempt to educate Indians in the industrial schools had not been very successful.

"What about Aylesworth?" "Has the experiment of bringing into the cabinet a lawyer without parliamentary experience proved a success?" asked a questioner who asked repeatedly outside the house. So far he has had little opportunity of displaying anything of his ability, but in those
