TELEGRAM 60

London, January 7, 1944

SECRET. Following from Vanier, Begins: French No. 1. Massigli, upon whom I called yesterday, received me most cordially. He enquired whether I was the bearer of credentials to the French Committee. When I replied negatively he said that all other Ambassadors and Ministers had brought letters. In the cases of the Polish, Czechoslovak and some South American Republics, they were signed by the Head of the State. The remainder were from Foreign Ministers, including one from Mr. Cordell Hull in respect of the United States representative.

2. Massigli expressed wish that the Secretary of State for External Affairs give me a letter addressed to him as Commissioner for Foreign Affairs. Because of delay involved it was agreed that a telegram followed by a letter would be acceptable.

Minister of Denmark in Great Britain.
