

	s.	d.
Spars from 15 to 20 inches.....	2	0	each.
Masts and Bowsprits, from 19 to 24 inches	2	6	do.
Do. of 24 inches and upwards...	3	6	do.

On unmerchant-
able articles.

To whom paid.

And the proportion of one-half of the said rates shall be paid on all such articles of lumber as shall be measured and rejected as unmerchantable; and such rates for culling and measuring, shall in all cases be paid to the Supervisor on the delivery of the specification; and one half of such rates shall be paid by the buyer, and the other half by the seller.

Measurement
books, &c., to be open to buyers
and sellers.

XIV. And be it enacted, That the measurement books, and other public records of the office of the Supervisor, shall be open to the perusal of the seller and buyer of lumber, in reference to the transaction between them, and of any other party interested therein.

Supervisor may procure an office
and the necessary
stationery, &c.

XV. And be it enacted, That it shall and may be lawful for the Supervisor of Cullers, to procure an office, the necessary office furniture, books, stationery, and other indispensable requisites; all of which, and every record and voucher appertaining to his office, shall be public property. And also to employ such number of Clerks, and Assistant Measurers as may be necessary to perform the public duties of his office; all which charges and expenses, together with Cullers' salaries, shall be paid out of the amount of fees collected by him, at the rates aforesaid: Provided always, that such charges, expenses and services,

And employ a sufficient number of assistants.

And pay the expenses out of the fees collected by him.