RECEIPT FOR WARDING OFF AGE

Fat is commonplace—middle aged. It stamps a woman as unquestionably past the period of youth. Hence it lessens her influence. She may charm still—by nimbleness of wit—but that indefinite fascination a fine figure yields has fled from her.

For ever? No! For it can be regained, and that easily. Youth as expressed in the straight front, the lissome hip, the wavy outline, is not beyond recall. Let any woman who is too well filled out, take a Marmola Prescription Tablet after each meal and at bedtime. The sprightliness of youth will come back to her. Off will go the fat, uniformly and smoothly, revealing the foundation of the lost youthful form beneath.

Try this method. No exercising or dieting is necessary to take off a pound a day. The Tablet will do it alone. No wrinkles or haggard lines will form; instead the health, the brightness and the liveness will increase. The Marmola Prescription Tablet is absolutely non-injurious being made of the famous fashionable formula 1/2 oz. Marmola, 1/2 oz. Fl. Ex. Cascara Aromatic, 1/2 oz. Peppermint Water; and it is also inexpensive, a large case, enough to show results, costing, at any drug store, or direct from the Marmola Co., 498 Farmer Bldg., Detroit, Mich., only seventy-five cents.

No. 5.—Riddle.

I'm a strange contradiction; I'm new and I'm old.
I'm often in tatters and oft decked with gold,
Tho' I never could read, yet lettered I'm found.
Tho' blind I'm enlightened; tho' loose I am bound.
I'm always in black and I'm always in white.
I'm gray and I'm gay and I'm heavy and light.
In form, too, I differ: I'm thick and I'm thin.
I've no flesh, I've no bones; yet I'm covered with skin.
I've more points than the compass; more stops than the flute.
I sing without voice; without speaking confute.
I'm English, I'm German, I'm French, and I'm Dutch.
Some love me too fondly; some slight me too much.
I often die soon, tho' I sometimes live ages—
And no monarch alive has so many pages.

Modern Fables.

There was once a steer that was a wonder from the time of his childhood. When he was a yearling he out-weighted any 2-year-old in his township, and before he was 3 he could make a steer that weighed a ton look like 30 cents. Then a man bought him and took him around to a country fair and exhibited him to the people at 10c. per look. And still the steer continued to get bigger and bigger until it was necessary to knock out the side of a barn to let him in. And the steer grew proud and haughty an account of all this public notice and concluded as he chewed his cud that he was about the best thing that ever came down the pike. Finally his owner concluded to go out of the show business and decided that he would sell the steer at auction. There was a rattling big crowd at the sale, for everybody in the state had heard of the steer. The crowd, in fact, was so big that it blocked the street so that it was necessary to call the police to clear the road for the street cars. As the fat steer looked around on that crowd and heard the bids he said to himself, "I am certainly a very warm number. The governor couldn't attract half as big a crowd as this." Finally he was bought by a local butcher and led carefully away to a stall in a cattle shed. In the next stall was an undersized runt of Texas parentage which would weigh about 650. The great steer sniffed at the runt as he was led into his stall, but the runt only said as he gathered in another wisp of prairie hay, "You think you are a great many just now, my beauty, but unless I am badly off my trolley, I can see your finish within the next 24 hours." And within ten hours after this the carcass of the great steer was hanging up on exhibition in front of the butcher shop with a tag attached stating that the choice cuts from this carcass could be had for $1 per lb. Then the steer tossed its head in triumph and said, "What did I tell you?" In less than two months the runt Texan was filling tin cans and being devoured by an unsuspecting public under the impression that they were eating choice roast beef.

Moral: All classes get it in the neck sooner or later.

No. 4. The Puzzle of the Hot-Cross Buns.—The wording of the song of the hot-cross bun man shows that there must be an even number of children, as there were just as many daughters as there were sons. Seven pennies were to be invested in buns at the rate of a penny, two for a penny or three for a penny. The supposition is that there were three boys and three girls, so by purchasing six buns two for a penny and twelve three for a penny each child could then receive buns according to programme, one half-penny and two three-for-a-penny buns to each. Despite the various attempts to solve the puzzle in other ways, this will be found to be the only answer.
