

CANADIAN COURIER

Published fortnightly at 181 Simcoe St., Toronto, by the Courier Press, Limited.
Subscription Price—Canada and Great Britain $1.00 per year, United States $1.50 per year, other countries $2.00 per year, payable in advance. IMPORTANT: Changes of address should be sent two weeks before the date they are to go into effect. Both old and new addresses must be given. CANCELLATIONS: We find that most of our subscribers prefer not to have their subscriptions interrupted in case they fail to remit before expiration. While subscriptions will not be carried in arrears over an extended period, yet unless we are notified to cancel, we assume the subscriber wishes the service continued.

GOING TO THE FRONT

OUR editor of the Woman's Page, Miss Estelle M. Kerr, has gone to the front. This is no new thing for her. She has been at the front ever since she began to write and illustrate the unique woman's page which has become so happy a feature of the Canadian Courier. Miss Kerr's expectations are partly suggested in her article,

A Council of War. She goes into V. A. D. work. Several months ago she began to drive a motor, when nobody suspected that the motor would eventually land her in France. Readers of the Courier will be glad to know that we expect to continue Miss Kerr's department in whatever form it happens to take from experience. She is an eminently practical woman, an observer and an artist. We may be sure she will make the best use of her many faculties for the sake of getting to us the benefits of her observations and experience.

Varley, whose brilliant cover design appeared on the first issue of the new Canadian Courier, is also getting ready to go to the front. He is one of the first four Canadian artists chosen to work on the Canadian front in the War Records corps established by Lord Beaverbrook.

In our next issue we expect to have an enlarged Woman's Department with Miss Kerr's page and a third instalment of Jonathan Gray's Woman as a ground-plan. T. G. Greene, whose excellent sympathetic drawings will decorate the Jonathan Gray series, is peculiarly fitted by knowledge and training for the task. He personally believes in the old-fashioned things that made the economy of our forefathers.

We shall continue Hoag. No fear. Hoag next issue will demonstrate what a man can spiritually do against the most formidably organized material opposition. And Hoag is an out-and-out Canadian story written exclusively for the Canadian Courier.

The Man From Windermere we have with us once more, illustrated by Fergus Kyle. He has a message framed up in vigorous style that makes easy reading.

Our Music Editor has cut clean away from all customary forms of criticism. He has grouped what he has to say this week concerning the musical doings that come under his notice into a general line-up that ought to interest even a man who hates music.

Six Canadian articles are represented in this number—our staff artist, T. W. McLean, Fergus Kyle, T. G. Greene, Frank Carmichael, A. M. Wickson, and Miss Kerr.

IN all this you will notice that we continue to bank on the fact that what is Canadian from the inside out is the thing that makes the life of the Canadian Courier. The world as seen from the Canadian angle is our parish.

Canada is a world country. We believe in the future of Canada as a country. There are those who try to believe that in future the world will discard nations and substitute geographical groups. Well, ask the people of any nationality about this.

The world's curriculum is not going to put history on the shelf and geography on the blackboard. Whatever happens to war lords and monarchies, Canada as a nation has yet to go ahead on her own steam. We have only begun to co-ordinate this vast country. The work of the Canadian Courier is only a small item in that huge programme. Such as it is it stands or falls—with the future and the destiny of Canada.

The NATIONAL DIRECTORY of STANDARD PRODUCTS

THIS directory includes the names of the leading Canadian firms making and handling the various classes of goods indicated. The Courier recommends these concerns as leaders in their classes and every prospective purchaser can rely upon getting honest wares from them. Most of them have years of reputation behind them. Moreover, they are "National" and a constant reminder of the steady growth in Canadian Industries. The Directory will appear in the last issue in each month. Watch it grow.

Buyers unable to find the desired information in this directory are invited to write to this office for information, which will be furnished free of charge.
