

'Just Us' Group A Hit With Teens

The "come-as-you-are" Park Royal teen dance, operated by the Park Royal Community Association, was again a big hit with the 24 teenagers in attendance last week. The Just Us group provided a great evening's entertainment and were well liked by all. Spot dance winners were Sandra Wight and Albert Oliver. Susan Green and Ken Tweedale and Doreen Larsen and Mike Beteau.

Chaperones for the evening were Mrs. Audrey Marshall, Mrs. Peg Hobson and Mrs. Pat Badger. Constables Roger Barrie and Gary Badger, Ray Badger, G. Haavind and Gerry Noonan.

This Friday will see the ever-popular Last Words back for their third appearance of the month. Starting time is 8.30 p.m.

School Names Don't Sing, So Board To Try Again

COOKSVILLE — What's in a name?

Not much, Toronto Township's board of education decided this week as it surveyed a list of names for public schools to be built next year. And Centennial Public School, a junior public school planned for Corsair rd., was the worst name of all; "completely meaningless."

With that remark by D. W. Urquhart, board chairman, trustees decided to try again next meeting, and hold off the six names recommended for consideration — and possible improvement — then.

"Why don't we ask the public for suggestions?" asked Trustee G. Grice.

Forest Wood and Dalewood were the names proposed for junior public schools on Ellengate rd. and in Westwood development.

Senior public schools to be named are on Tomken rd., in Park Royal and in the Lakeview beach annex. Proposed names for these were Tomken rd., Hillside and Lakeshore Senior Public Schools.

Teen Hair Styles

PHONY BRAIDS FROM ANOTHER PLANET.

THE CUT: This hair style works best on a short cut with fake braids pinned on.

THE SET: From a centre part use four 1" rollers as shown. Tape hair at ears and nape of neck.

THE BRUSHOUT: Brush down on each side to a smooth line. Teasing hair lightly on top giving enough body to secure the phony braid in the middle of the crown. Then hook braids to backs of bow earrings, trim with a larger bow on top.

Improved Bus Service Starts

OAKVILLE — Expanded bus service for underway in Oakville Monday, including earlier starting times and more frequent rush hour service.

Two new buses have been added to the town's central route, and further expansion is planned if the present scheme attracts more customers, according to Norm Sibbick, assistant town planner.
