

- Harrison, Frederic, opinion of The French Revolution, lxxxiii.
 objections to Heroes, lxxxiii.
 modest refutation of them, lxxxiii.
 curious error of, lxxxiv, n.
 cited, 347.
 on Cromwell, cited, 355.
- Harrow, Carlyle's ride to, xxxiv.
- hater, a good, 329.
- Hazlitt as a lecturer, xiv.
- 'Heaven with its stars,' 308.
- Hegira, 311.
 Carlyle's error regarding, 312.
- Heimskringla*, 300, 302, 303, 305.
 'he is resigned,' 338.
 'he will never part,' 324.
 'Hell will be hotter,' 315.
- Heraclius, 310.
- Hermits, The*, 331.
- Hermoder, 303.
- hero, defined by Hume, lxxi.
 Carlyle's definition justified, lxxiv, lxxv.
 Mont'gret's definition, lxxiv.
 of ... lxxv.
 pre ... on of, lxxii.
 to ... 349.
- hero ... verse, 307.
- Heroes*, inception of, xxxvi.
 first subjects chosen, xxxvi.
 relation of lectures to book, xxxvi, xxxvii.
 Carlyle's description of writing, xxxvii.
 first lecture not the best, xxxviii.
 Carlyle pleased with second lecture, xxxix.
 Macready's opinion of second lecture, xl.
- Heroes*, phrases omitted from, xlv.
 agreement between lectures and book, xlv, liv.
 difference, l, lii.
 reported partly by Fraser employee, li.
 to be made into a book, li.
 evidence of title-page, lii.
 sources of, liii.
 reasons for emendations, liii.
 much expanded, liii.
 each lecture longer than those of 1838, liii.
 1840, the year of, liv.
 process of composition, liv.
 completed, liv.
 booksellers' offer, lv.
 first edition, 1000 copies, lv.
 payment for, lv.
 sheets sent to America, lvi.
 pirated in New York, lvi.
 printed in New York newspapers, lvi.
 bibliography of, obscure, lvi.
 different editions of, lvii.
 first American edition described, lvii.
 second English edition, lvii.
 changes in, lvii and n.
 revision of one passage, lvii.
 second American edition, lviii.
 third American edition, so-called, lviii.
 third English edition, lviii.
 later changes in text, lviii.
 third American edition, lviii.
 first American printers of, lviii, n.
 later English editions, lix.
 rapidity of sale, lix.
 many editions not noted, lix.