Andrew Lane died at 10 o'clock Thursday evening of consumption after a confinement to his room of some six or eight weeks. Mr Lane came to the territory some two years ago for his health, was very much benefited, and returned to the east where he was married. Finding his health failing again he returned to New Mexico coming to Socorro about six months ago, where he invested in a small ranch which he was cultivating at the time he was stricken with the attack which resulted in his death.

Mr Lane was born at Turnerville in Ontario, Canada, 40 years ago, graduated from the Toronto School of Practical Science, with the degree of P L S, and C E, and taught in the same college for two years. He leaves a wife and infant son, five sisters, and one brother, W. A. Lane, now a resident of this city, to mourn his untimely demise. (Special to The Planet.) GRAND RACE

Commodore W. R. Phillmore of the Baden-Powell, Describes the Much-Talked-of Canada Cup Race

Commodore W. R. Phillimore, of the yacht Baden-Powell, saw the race on Saturday between the Strathcona and Inondequoit, and also the nace yester-

"I've seen two races for the Canada cup," remarked Mr. Phillimore, "and cup," remarked Mr. Phillimore, "and it was the greatest race I ever saw. Those who have seen all the races for the Cainada cup say that it was the finest of them all. There never was more than 15 seconds difference between the two yachts, excepting at the finish, when Commodore Jarvis ibeat Capt. Barr out by 20 seconds. Twice Barr had the race right in hand and Jarvis beat him. The first missiake that Barr made was after standing out enough to make the buoy, he came around on the port tack, expecting to cross the Strathcona's bow. He misjudged his distance and Jarvis nipped him and forced him to go about night under the Strathcona's bee bow. While he hung in stays, blanketed, Jarvis went about on the port tack, gaining several lengths. After salling about a mite on this tack, Jarvis made one of the prettiest bluffs ever seen in a yacht race. He came around on the starboard tack as if to cross the Irondequoit's bow; he had not room to do so, being flose to the challenger. He had barely time to fill his canvas, which gave him his rights on the course and compelled Barr to go about night under the dee how of the Strathcona, and while the challenger hung in says, Jarvis made use of the defender's headway to swing ton the port tack again, gaining another lead of several lengths, and so what around the first buoy 15 seconds ahead of the Irondequoit. THE POPE CROWNED. Impressive Ceremony Witnessed at Rome, Aug. 10.-The ceremony the coronation of Pope Pius X. took place yesterday in the Basilica of St. Peter's, in the presence of the Princes and high dignitaries of the Church, diplomats and Roman nobles, and with all the solemnity and splendor associated with this, the most magnificent rite in the Roman Catholic Church.

From the throne Pius X., surrounded by his suite, walked to the high altar, standing over the crypt of St. Peter's, into which meanwhile Cardinal Macchi descended to pray. The appearance of the Pope in that elevated position called for another burst of enthusiasm. The Pope then blessed the altar and after saying the "Indulgentiam" the maniple, a symbol of the cord with which Christ was bound, was placed, with great ceremony, upon the Pope's arm. At the same time prayers for the coronation were recited by Cardinals Vannutelli, Mocenni, Agliardi and Satolli. Returning from the crypt Cardinal Macchi placed upon the shoulders of the Pope the Pontifical pallium and attached it with three golden jewelled pins, saying: "Re-Peter's, into which meanwhile Car-Pontincal pallium and attached it with three golden jewelled pins, saying: "Receive this sacred pallium as a symbol of the fullness of the Pontifical office, in honor of Almighty God, the most glorious virgin Mary, His mother, the blessed apostles, St. Peter and St. Paul, and the holy Roman Catholic Church."

Mass was then celebrated with great pomp and ceremony, the voice of the Pope becoming gradually more firm and sonorous until it was even audible and sonorous until it was even audible in the most distant corner of the immense church. Following this, Cardinal Macchi performed the rite of incensing the Pope, whom he subsequently kissed three times on the cheeks and chest, as did Cardinals Sogni and Vannutelli. Upon the Pope's return to the throne the Cardinals offered their last obedience to the Pontiff, kissing his hand and feet and being embraced by him twice in turn. The Bishops and Archbishops kissed his foot and right knee, while the abots kissed only his foot. The Holy Father then walked to the shrine of St. Peter for the culminating rites of the extremely fatiguing ceremony. The Father then walked to the shrine of St. Peter for the culminating rites of the extremely fatiguing ceremony. The whole sacred college gathered, about the Pope singing Palestrine's "Corona aurea super caput ejus," while the choir burst forth into song, giving the dramatic touch Cardinal Macchi then recited the "Pater Noster" and offered the following prayer:

"Omnipotent and ever eternal God, dignitary of the clergy and author of sovereignty, grant Thy servant, Pius X, grace to fruitfully govern Thy Church so that he, who by Thy clemency becomes and is crowned as father of kings and rector of all the faithful, through Thy wise disposition may govern well." "Amen" rang out from all corners of the cathedral. Cardinal Deacon Segna then raised the Pontiff's crn well." "Amen" rang out from all corners of the cathedral. Cardinal Deacon Segna then raised the Pontiff's mitre, and senior Cardinal Deacon Macchi placed on the venerable white head the triple crown. At this moment the church was filled with the ringing of bells, the blowing of silver trumpets, the triumphant strains of the choir and the acclamations of the multitude which could no longer be choir and the acclamations of the multitude which could no longer be repressed. When comparative silence had been restored Cardinal Macchi addressed the Pope in Latin as follows: "Receive the itiara ornamented with three crowns." Remember thou art the father of Princes and Kings, the rector of the world, the vicar on earth of Our Saviour, Jesus Christ, who is the honor and glory of all centuries." "Amen" again burst forth from the concourse. Pope Pius was quite overcome and had scarcely strength-left to impart the apostolic benediction. Cardinals Macchi and Sogna granted a plenary indulgence to all present, and then the procession reformed and left the Basilica in the same form as it came. The Pope was visibly fatigued, and his right hand shook as he raised it time after time to bestow his blessing. was visibly latigued, and his right name shook as he raised it time after time to bestow his blessing. When the ceremony was over all the exits to the Basilica were opened and within less than an hour the vast cathedral was empty.
