Command, and less than which we never am accept. [Tumultuous applause.]

But let me say this: No matter what Government or what bend of statesmen may have the honor of carrying a Home Rule measure, history will write two mames, and two names only, on the monument which is raised to the success of that measure—and those names will be the names of Gladstone and Parnell. [Loud applause.]

part of every Irish Nationalist, whether member of Parliament or private individual, at home or here, I hold out the hand of friendship and brotherhood to our bitterest present opponents among the Orangemen of Ulster. ("Hear, Hear!")

Let'us come together, and, to use an expression that has now become historical, let us take off our coats and work together for the good of our common country. I believe in the near coming of Home Rule, and I believe that Home Rule once secured will make of Ireland what she never was allowed to be in the past—one great nation, composed, inwhat she never was allowed to be in the past—one great nation, composed, indeed, of different classes, and different sexes, of various groups of men of divers purposes, but a nation of men having only one common of jet at heart for their political life, the welfare and the progress of the country. THE LATE MRS. CORKERY.—On Friday last Ramay township laid at rest one of its most esteemed and venerable residents, give you my assurance, as the conviction of one who has seen and studied public life more than most men have, that the triumph of our cause is close at hand. [Oheera.] There never was a cause which prang forwards oboldly and which wents far in so short a time which did not achieve complete and enduring accuss. I want to give you the assurance — you, frishmen in America, and you native Americans—I want to give you my assurance, my conviction of something more and something better than the mere accomplishment of the triumph of our cause in Parliament. I want to give you the assurance of my conviction that when we have Home Rule carried, when we have Home Rule carried, when we have our Parliament in College Green—

Miss Mary Ann Feurth, Woodslee. Miss Mary Ann Feurth, Woodslee.

With much regret we have to announce the death of Miss Mary Ann Feurth, an estimable Catholic young lady of Woodslee parish. The deceased young lady had but attained her 22nd year, when the dread summons took her from home and friends, Miss Feurth's earnest desire it was to enter the religious life, and this desire she would have carried out some months ago had not her engagement as a school teacher prevented its realization. Her funeral, which took place on Saturday last, was very largely attended, Rev. Father Cummins celebrated the requiem mass and paid deserved tribute to the merits of the deceased lady, whose friends have our heartiest condolence in their affliction.

New York is at present favored with the presence of a real live earl, a fine sample of English aristocracy. Lord Lonsdale, who is the fifth wearer of the sample of English aristocracy. Lord Lonsdale, who is the fifth wearer of the title, it an object of interest because he is an hereditary legislator, a large landowner, the dispenser of immense patronage, and a representative man generally. It is on none of these accounts, however, that he has become the cynosure of New York and the country at large, but because he has come ostensibly on a theatrical speculation, to manage the business affairs of an English actress. Ugly stories, which we do not purpose repeating, preceded the arrival of the noble lord and his protege in New York. The first result of them was that the manager at the Hoffman House last week requested the lady to vacate her rooms in that hotel. Following that, the metropolitan papers have been filled with minute accounts of the movements of the pair and of a third the movements of the pair and of a third superfluous party, the husband of the actress, all to the disgust of a public which is not accustomed to the scan-dalous chronicles of "high life," Lord dalous chronicles of "high life," Lord Lonsdale does not bear a savory reputation at home. His essapades there should have no interest for us; here they concern only the police, if they concern anybody. What concerns us all, however, is the fact that this man is one of the hereditary law-makers of a great country, the owner of 68,065 acres of the the hereditary law-makers of a great country, the owner of 68,055 acres of the people's land, and, strangest of all, the holder of 59 ecclesiastical livings under the established church of England. That is to say, this man, whatever his character, has the right by birth to say who shall attend to the religious wants of 59 parishes in England; and everybody in the parishes, of whatsoever creed, must contribute to the support of Lord Lonsdale's proteges. He could, if he chose, appoint the husband of the actress to one of those livings, if that complaisant gentleman happened to be "in orders." As another noble legislator said:—"Let wealth and commerce, laws and learn-believes. A pologies on the part of weak kneed Cathelies for the Path they are ashamed of are taken for what they are worth. The average American, Protestant or Infidel, respects that man most who stands up in a crowd and strikes out for the right. The detestable apology, "I am a Catholic, but a bad one," is to all hearers a confession of cowardice.

HELP THE EVICTED.

PRESIDENT FITZGERALD'S ADDRESS TO THE

PRESIDENT FITZGERALD'S ADDRESS TO THE LEAGUE.

The following address to the officers and members of the Irish National League of America was issued on October 2nd by President Fitzgerald in response to Mr. Parnell's appeal:—
The third convention of the Irish National League of America, held at Chicago on the 18th and 19th of last month, has now become a matter of history. The spirit of harmony and the abnegation of personal views were pleasing characteristics of this greatest gathering of our race that ever assembled in this country. This feature of the vast assembly amply disproved the malicious assertions industriously circulated and hoped for by our enemies that disunion and dissension had found a home in our ranks.

The resolutions adopted not only voiced the sentiments of the Convention but met the hearty approval of the press and people of this great nation. The expressions of unlimited confidence in Mr. Parnell, the approval of his line of policy and the earnest pledge of continued support of that policy until such time as the people of Ireland, through their recognized leaders pronounce its methods a failure, met the unqualified approbation, not only of the Irish race throughout the world, but of all lovers of human freedom,

It is admitted that the numerical strength in the House of Commons of the Irish National party is largely due

It is admitted that the numerical strength in the House of Commons of the Irish National party is largely due to the untiring efforts of the League in America. The large amount of money transmitted at opportune times by your reverend and distinguished treasurer for the Parliamentary funds, attest the efficiency of your organization. Your zealous transmitted at opportune times by your reverend and distinguished treasurer for the Parliamentary funds, attest the efficiency of your organization. Your acalous labors also served as an incentive to other patriotic citizens who forwarded large contributions to the same fund.

But urgent as was the necessity that brought forth such generous responses to the Parliamentary fund there now exists a more urgent demand on the Irish race throughout the world. Love of kindred and the highest dictates of humanity invoke prompt and decisive action. On the 22nd of last month the Tory Government of England decided, by the rejection of Mr. Parnell's land bill, on the eviction and consequent starvation or banishment of thousands of men, women and children. Mr. Gladstone has truthfully said that every such eviction is equal to a sentence of death.

The fight on evictions for non-payment of impossible rents has commenced God's creatures are being rendered homeless and turned out on the roadsido, but they shall not die the death planned for them by heartless tyranny. Therefore, appeal to every man and woman with Irish blood coursing in their veins to aid in resisting this inhuman brutality. Let every branch of the League at once start an anti-eviction fund and send the contributions to the National Treasurer, Rev. Charles O'Reilly, Detroit, Mich.

Rranches should be started in every town and village in the country, in workshops and on the railroads. Rich and poor should unite in this business and patriotic work. Organization is necessary to resist organized tyranny. Let the 20,000,000 of the scattered Irish race, whose hearts beat tune to Erin and liberty, unite under the leadership of Charles Stewart Parnell in the Irish National League, present a united and determined front to that Government whose Queen only a few days ago intimated that the blood and treasure of har

I respectfully ask from the American press a continuance of the invaluable assistance heretofore rendered the League, and I most earnestly request the Irish American press to arouse our countrymen to the imperative necessity of united decision, and personal action in aid of the anti-eviction fund. I remain yours faithfully main, yours faithfully,

COMPLIMENTARY CONCERT.

A complimentary concert will be tendered to Miss Eleanor Coppinger, of this city, on the 2nd of Nov. A fine programme is being prepared, and the following ladies and gentlemen have kindly consented to assist:—Miss Lizzie Raymond, Miss Susie Ryan, of Toronto, Miss Cole, Dr. Sippi, Messis. Geo. Sippi, F. Saunders, J. W. Fetherston, W. J. Birks, T. Hook, H. Saunders, Fred Evans, and many others. We expect to see Victoria Hall crowded on this occasion. The performance of Miss Coppinger on the violin is of itself an attractive feature well worthy of attendance. well worthy of attendance.

ST. MICHAEL'S COLLEGE, TOR-

We are requested to call the attention of the friends of this institution to the bassar which will be held in a few weeks. Ticket-holders would confer a favor on Father Brennan by making returns as soon as possible. The bezaar week brings its own multiplied duties, and were returns delayed till that time, more work would then be crowded into one week than could be well attended to. The bezaar will be held early in November, and from the rumors that have reached us it promises to be very successful. It would be surprising were it otherwise. The distinguished patronage under which the project appears, the nature of the work done by the Basilians, and the fact that they have never before appealed to us, are points of strongest recommendation to the Catholics of the province. We trust, therefore, that the friends of St. Michael's will hasten to co-operate with the Basilians in their most deserving enterprise.

BOOTS AND SHOES.

Mr. H. J. Laforce, the well-known boot and shoe maker, corner of Church and Queen streets, Toronto, in addition to his large and constantly-increasing business, has engaged the services of an experience of rubber goods, such as shoes, coats, etc. This is a branch of business much needed in Toronto, and we have no doubt Mr. L. will receive a large share of patronage. Those of our readers who desire anything in his line will do well to give him a call. We have had practical experience of the excellence of his workmanship.

FUNDRAL REFORM.

There have been for some time past numerous comments made in private and in public, and even from the pulpit, in reference to useless display and wanton extravagance at funerals. No doubt there are cases that exhorbitant charges have, in connection with the burial of our dead, been made. All the Undertakers doing business here belong to what is known as the Undertakers' Association of Ontario, and are bound to maintain the present prices, with the result that the sorrowing widow, father or children are at the tender mercies of the Undertaker. Most people, as experience shows, rather pay the price first asked by the Undertaker for his services, than huckster concerning the funeral of a loved one.

It is now proposed to meet a long-felt want in this city and vicinity, to remove abuses, justly and rightly complained of, by establishing a Reform Undertaking Establishment, in no way connected with any other house in the city, and the utmost will be done to give the public at large satisfaction.

The firm that have taken the matter in hand are well known. Mr. Robert DRISCOLL, his senior member of the firm, has long been in the Upholstering line, acting for the last ten years with some of the best Furniture Houses in the United States—quite recently in Boston, Mass.

The Undertaking Department has been placed under the supervision of a gentleman with it years' experience in Canada and the United States. He is in every sense a thorough and most practical Undertaker. As an Embalmer he is second to mose in Canada, had most practical Undertaker. The great success of the Knabe Planos is alone due to their brilliant and superior qualities for harmony, sweetness of tone, great power, and a thorough equalization throughout the entire scale, as well as their plant touch. They are universally profession as being unsurpassed by the instrument of any other maker. One of the most prominent qualities of the Knabe Plano, and one which is generally overlooked by the purchaser, is the superior workmanship that characterizes them, and it is conceded that they will retain their tone, and the general usages of wear, far beyond those of any other first-class maker.

CHATHAM'S CHURCH. A GREAT DAY FOR KENT.

Bishop Walsh Preaches to 5,000 Peo-

The Bishop of London, in whose diocese such magnificent results have for the last nineteen years been achieved for religion, had on Sunday last the satisfaction of blessing and placing another corner-stone. Of no ordinary parochial church did His Lordehip lay and bless, on Sunday last, the first stone and foundation. The town of Chatham, metropolis of the wealthy and populous county of Kent, is the seat and centre of a large and progressive Catholic population. The church that for many years so well served the wants for this population, having been, of late, found atterly insufficient to meet the growing demands of an increasing and devout people, was in early summer torn down, to make way for the magnificent new structure designed by that The Bishop of London, in whose diocese torn down, to make way for the magnificent new structure designed by that eminent architect, Joseph Conolly, Esq The old church did, in truth, serve a noble purpose. Its corner stone was laid on the 30th of May, 1847, Trinity Sunday, by the Right Rev. Mgr. Lefebvre administrator of Detroit, the Rev. Father Jaffre, S. J., being then in charge of the mission. The history in brief of the parish of Chatham has been given us as follows: The organization of Chatham parish was begun about the year 1847 by Rev. F. Jaffre, S. J. In that year the corne stone of the old St. Joseph's church wa laid, but the building was not completed until the following year. The ther bishop of Detriot, Rt. Rev. P. P. Lefebyre of the corner stone, the Episcopal Se of London not being yet established Citizens of all classes and all denomins tions were present in crowds and a subscription of $2,000 was soon collected scription of $2,000 was soon collected Catholics and Protestants uniting in th good work.

Among those pioneers of Catholicit who assisted the zealous missionary i the labor of organizing the parish an collecting funds for building, notabl mention is made of the following gentle men: Mr. P. Kelly (late of Harwich Mr. H. Reaume, J. B Williams, Mr. F O'Flynn, and doubtless there were man others whose names are recorded in heaven. Wings were added to the church in 1857, at which time also the ol presbytery was built and F. Jaffre cam o reside in Chatham. In 1851 the nu cleus of the R. C. Separate School we formed, the children being assembled whence they were transferred to the lower part of the bell tower, then at the lower part of the bell tower, then at the east end of the church. The boys at girls were then taught by one teache but in 1862 they were given in charge the nuns, under whose care they still results. main. Rev. F. Jaffre left Chatham in 18 and died the next year in New York His successor was Rev. Father Fierran who remained only two years, duri which time he organized the choir as which time he organized the choir at furnished the chursh with an organ, which Mrs. McCosker (who offered h services gratis) presided for some year From 1862 to 1870 the parish was charge of Rev. F. Conilleau, who d much by his zeal and devotedne towards establishing the Schools on permanent footing in Chatham. Duri his time it was, in 1867, Right Rev.
