

uniform, in command of Captain Joseph Timmons, accompanied by Lieutenant Thomas O'Holloran, and by Ensigns William Dawson and James Touhill. The corps gave His Grace a royal salute with their swords in right military style, then marched to his place in the hall and conducted him to the altar. The boys, in their elegant and neatly-fitting costumes, with their graceful and dignified bearing, presented a fine sight, and were the subject of many flattering comments.

The programme began with Hyde's Orchestra, after which the De la Salle choir (pupils) sang "Vivat" in fine style. The "Emerald Banner" was then sung with good effect by Master John O'Donoghue and choir. Master Francis McAvoy next recited in a clever manner "Three Days in the Life of Columbus." The orchestra next treated the audience to a fine selection of Irish Airs. A very pleasing part of the programme was next performed, viz., exercises in callisthenics by a number of boys in handsome uniforms. The sight on the stage was truly delightful. Every movement was performed with pleasing grace and with admirable dexterity and precision. From beginning to end, the attention of the audience was riveted on the expert performers, and no doubt many a mother present felt proud of her boy.

Part second opened with a piano solo, "St. Nicholas' Gallip," which was nicely played by Master John O'Donoghue. "Beautiful Isle of the Sea" was then sweetly sung by the De la Salle choir. "The Catholic Church and the Laboring Classes" (by His Grace Archbishop Walsh) was given in a manly and effective style by Master William Dawson, son of Sheriff Dawson. One of the most pleasing pieces of the evening was the singing of "Dear Little Shamrock" by Master Martin McDonald, a boy of nine or ten years. The little fellow was quite at home on the stage, and possessed a voice exceedingly sweet and musical, such as is rarely found. The audience would not be satisfied until he appeared on the stage a second time.

The St. Nicholas school drill corps, with words, next appeared on the stage. This corps is composed of the largest boys of the school, and presented on the stage a splendid martial appearance. They performed with admirable perfection the various military evolutions and sword exercises. Captain Timmons and Lieutenant O'Holloran showed themselves to good advantage at an exercise of sword fencing.

The physical culture exhibited by the pupils of St. Nicholas' school must indeed have surprised many of the spectators. "Farewell, Good Night," by the De la Salle choir, closed the musical portion of the programme, and Master Thomas O'Holloran then came forward and read in clear and distinct voice, on behalf of his fellow-pupils, an affectionate address of welcome to their beloved Archbishop.

His Grace was very happy in his reply. He said that he had recently received so many flattering receptions that he feared he would create jealousy in other quarters if he were too lavish in his praise of the boys of St. Nicholas' school, who had entertained him so magnificently that evening. However, he could not help the king from his heart both the Christian Brothers and their pupils for the really splendid entertainment they had prepared for him, and which had afforded him so much pleasure. He spoke highly of the cleverness of the boys as shown in the performances they had there exhibited. He said that the object of our Separate schools is two-fold—to make good Catholics and to make good citizens. He was pleased to see that the latter as well as the former was there receiving due attention. He felt sure that, judging from the grand military display they had just witnessed, if Canada should ever need brave defenders, the boys of our Separate schools would be among the foremost to rally around her flag. This sentiment called forth deafening applause. The Archbishop, with the cheerful approval of the School Board, then announced to the boys a full holiday, for their baseball and other amusements.

The members of Branch 10 of the C. M. B. A. then came forward and presented to His Grace a handsome address, which was warmly received by the President, Mr. J. McCarron, barrister. This was followed by the presentation of an address by the Separate School Board, read in an excellent manner by Mr. M. Y. Keating, Sec. S. S. B.

His Grace made appropriate and eloquent replies to both addresses, and thus closed a very pleasant evening's entertainment. Miss Teresa Dawson played with much accomplishment all the piano accompaniments to the various pieces of the programme so perfectly rendered.

DIocese of Hamilton.

On Saturday afternoon, 7th inst., the Bishop paid his first official visit to his former parish at Paris, where he was met by Vicar-General Keough, who had a carriage in waiting at the depot. His Lordship was accompanied by Rev. Father McEvoy, rector of the cathedral. The party drove to the church of the Sacred Heart, where a number of children and adults were examined in preparation for confirmation. Next morning at 8 o'clock all the children received holy communion at the Bishop's Mass. Immediately before High Mass, coram Episcopo, celebrated by Rev. Father McEvoy, His Lordship addressed the candidates for confirmation and administered that sacrament to forty-eight persons. The Bishop concluded by giving the children some practical advice and the total abstinence pledge until they arrived at the age of twenty-one.

A committee then advanced to the throne and Mr. Ryan on behalf of the congregation read an address of welcome to the Bishop.

ADDRESS.

To His Lordship the Right Reverend Thomas Joseph Dowling, Bishop of Hamilton. My LORD:—It is with inexpressible joy that we hail your presence here in your old parish, in which you had labored so zealously, and successfully as our parish priest. It is to your indefatigable exertions for over twenty years that our present status as a Catholic congregation, in this diocese, is largely due. We shall not soon forget the unremitting care and anxious solicitude with which you watched over our interests in your priestly capacity. How attentively you discharged your sacerdotal duties; how watchful of our spiritual wants; how willing to advise, to assist and direct when comfort was needed, how kind and affable in all your intercourse, and how prudently and successfully you grappled with and overcame the grave financial difficulties which weighed heavily on our parish during your pastorate. Our Separate school and this handsome church remain as monuments to your ability, My Lord, for which, on this occasion, we beg to tender you our sincere gratitude.

We desire, My Lord, to accord you a fitting welcome as our beloved Bishop, and which we trust you will accept at our hands, not only as our Bishop but also as our former relations. Accept also our congratulations on your elevation to the exalted position of Bishop in the Holy Catholic Church, but, especially, as Bishop of the diocese of Hamilton, the scene of your ordination, as well as many years of arduous labors while pastor of the congregation of the Sacred Heart, Paris.

Although we know that the disinterested and holy zeal which animates you in your episcopal labors for the salvation of souls, shrinks from commendation or recognition, otherwise than that of Divine acceptance; yet your former praiseworthy association, including the Catholic Mutual Benefit Association and the Irish Catholic Benevolent Union, have hoped that your Lordship would on this, your first official visit to Paris, bear with us when we desire to give expression to the pleasure and joy we feel at having you again in our midst, even for a day, and we trust that your Lordship may long be spared to rule over your diocese and to occasionally revisit the scenes of your first pastorate and to gladden the hearts of your first parishioners with your episcopal advice and benediction.

Signed on behalf of the congregation: Jas. F. O'Neil, Thomas Nelson, Frank Fry, John P. Kearney, Martin O'Brien, J. C. O'Neil, Jas. Ryan, James O'Neil, James Gardner, Michael Skelly, Paris, June 7th, 1890.

His Lordship in reply tendered his heartfelt thanks to his old parishioners among whom he said he had spent the happiest years of his life. He disclaimed any personal merit on his part, attributing any success that may have attended his labors to the blessing of God and the cordial co-operation of his people. He missed many familiar friends who had been called to their reward, rejoiced to return and confirm the children he had baptized and complimented them on the progress they had made under their present zealous pastor.

Next followed an address from the sodality, read by Miss Margaret Nelson, to which His Lordship also replied, thanking the Children of Mary and asking a share in their prayers. MAY I PLEASE YOUR LORDSHIP—We the members of the Sodality of the Blessed Virgin Mary, claim it as our happy privilege to be permitted to extend to your Lordship a cordial and affectionate welcome, not only to Paris but to the diocese of Hamilton, where you have in the past endeavored yourself to the hearts of your spiritual children. But three years ago, with aching hearts and tearful eyes, we bade your Lordship a sad farewell. At that time the Holy Father, in recognition of your marked abilities of government and your zealous endeavors in the cause of religion, called upon you to assume the episcopal dignity, which burden your Lordship has accepted, and in the spirit of holy obedience took charge of the diocese of Peterborough.

We were amply compensated for the sorrow we then felt, when we learned that your Lordship was to be transferred to the more important diocese of Hamilton, and to day our hearts expand with joy as we behold your Lordship again in our midst officiating in the handsome little church which was improved and adorned by your Lordship while here, and which we know is still dear to your heart, as is also the congregation with whom you have spent many years of hard labor, for the honor and glory of God and the spiritual welfare of their souls. May we ever then prove ourselves worthy of our holy vocation as Catholics, and especially as children of our dear Mother, the Blessed Virgin.

Your Lordship always took a deep interest in our Sodality. May we then ever walk in the path of virtue pointed out to us and practice the many beautiful lessons given us by your Lordship from our early childhood, when you instructed us in our holy religion and prepared us for our first Communion and confirmation.

Why should we not thank God that your Lordship is now our chief pastor. In your absence we never forgot you in our prayers. Now we shall redouble our prayers and ask the Giver of all good to bless and direct your administration and grant you many years of health and happiness. Once more we welcome you as our Bishop, our father, and our friend, and humbly ask your Lordship's apostolic benediction. Signed on behalf of the Sodality: Hannah Collins, Jennie Nelson, Ettie McElroy.

Sunday, June 22nd, was a red letter day for the Catholics of Hamilton. His Lordship the Bishop dedicated the handsome mortuary chapel and vaults at Holy Sepulchre cemetery, in the presence of about two thousand people. The building had been erected for the better accommodation in burying the dead in the winter season as well as to supply a long-felt want of the pious Catholics of Hamilton who wish to offer up the Sacrifice of the Mass and prayers in the cemetery itself. The chapel is beautifully designed in the early Gothic style of architecture. The material used is Hamilton blue limestone with Berea freestone trimmings. The dimensions are 26x52 feet, with south porch forming entrance to vaults under the chapel. The entire chapel comprises nave, chancel and south porch. The chapel is beautifully situated on a knoll in the centre of the cemetery. The western facade or front is ornamented with finely proportioned buttresses finished with moulded weatherings of cut stone, recessed door and window jambs finished with label mouldings and carved cor-nels. Over main entrance is a beautiful scroll tablet bearing the following inscription: "Holy Sepulchre cemetery, erected by Right Rev. T. J. Dowling, D. D., 1880." Rising above the inscription is a large and very fine rose window, filled in with tracery of elaborate design. The front rises gracefully with pointed roof pierced with openings of Gothic design and finished with moulded labels and carved corbels. The front apex terminates with a finely proportioned bell-cot in stone, corbelled out in front and forming Gothic arch, supported by moulded corbels and paneled and capped with freestone coping, the whole being finished with a handsome finial and carved cross of stone. The sides of the chapel are divided into four bays by finely wrought buttresses and finished with lancet windows. The chancel towards the East is finished with a fine triple window. All the windows are filled in with cathedral glass in tints and done in diamond quarries and margin lights. The roofs are finished with cut slate in patterns, the gables with floriated crosses of iron work and ridge with cresting of Gothic design. The interior walls of chapel, nave and chancel are finished in stucco. The ceilings are Gothic, ribbed and paneled in wood to corbels above side windows. The panels are tinted blue, the wood being finished in brown color. The chancel is divided from nave by a finely wrought Gothic arch and also by the Communion rail, the railing being cherry and pine paneled and finished in tracery oiled and varnished. The south wall has a recessed tablet upon which are to be inscribed the names of the donors of memorial windows, altar, crucifix, candlesticks, bell, etc. From the south porch we descend by easy steps to the vault doors under the chapel. The vault is very compact and finished complete. Good ventilation is provided for. Provision is also made for the lowering of the remains through the floor of the chapel to the vault beneath.

This monumental work as it stands is a credit to all concerned. Mr. Robert Cloney, architect, designed the building and also supervised the work of construction.

THE GRAND UNION PICNIC AND SUMMER CARNIVAL. The celebration in Strathroy, on Dominion Day, promises to be the best of its kind ever held there. It is not merely an old-fashioned rustic picnic; it is not merely a long array of tables laden with delicious viands; it is not merely a programme of sports and pastimes; it is not merely a base ball tournament; it is not merely a carnival of music and song; but it is a grand combination of all these features which will make it one of the most attractive entertainments ever held in the west. The picnic and carnival will be held on the Fair Grounds at Strathroy, and the following are some of the attractions. Thousands of happy people, base ball games, cricket matches, speeding on the turf and track, football and lacrosse, read the programme of the day, including by some of Ontario's favorites, including prominent members of Parliament, on the great absorbing questions of the day, open air concert by trained singers from afar. The Crystal Palace will be gaily decorated; a speaker's platform will be erected for the orators of the day and another platform will be erected for two excellent orchestras, which will discourse sweet music from 10 a.m. until 8 p.m. There will be singing and speeches and games, and music; mirth and laughter will be the order of the day. Dinner will be prepared for 5000 people. The hotels will provide for the rest. An excellent dinner for 25c. Grand procession of athletes, headed by the band, around the track at 10 a.m. The games will commence immediately afterwards. The ten-cent ticket will admit you to the political debate, open air concert, and all the games. Soldiers, firemen, and members of clubs in uniform will be admitted to the grounds free. Ice cream, strawberries, and all the delicacies of the season will be served out by the ladies. The most perfect order will be maintained and all will be made welcome. The grounds will be dotted with tents and refreshment booths, and the bands will play choice selections of English, Irish and Scotch music until they make every heart feel glad. Trains leave London at 7.30 a.m., 11.00 a.m. and 2.00 p.m. Trains east and west will make close connections at Komoka with excursion trains for Strathroy. Rev. Father McKewen, Director, Mayor Johnston, Strathroy, James Brady, Ingersoll, Chairman. WEDDING BELLS. MCGLENN-HALPIN. Married, at the Palace on Wednesday evening, June 20th, 1890, by the Rev. Father Kennedy, Miss Mary Halpin, eldest daughter of John Halpin, of the Freight Department, G. F. R. to Wm. H. McGleenn, chief engineer of Lawett's Brewing & Malting Co. and son of W. McGleenn, grocer, and of this city. Miss Lizzie Halpin, sister of the bride, acted as bridesmaid, and Mr. Walter McGleenn, brother of the groom, acted as groomsmen. After the ceremony the happy couple repaired to the residence of the bride's father, where about two dozens of their most intimate friends met them, and after the usual congratulations they sat down to a sumptuous spread. Toasts and speeches were the order of the evening.

Altogether a very enjoyable time was spent the party breaking up at a reasonable hour, wishing the bride and groom a long and happy life. Among the many presents which the couple were made recipients of was a handsomely furnished cottage on Clarence street, a gift of the groom's father, where they will reside.
