FIRST SESSION TWELFTH PROVINCIAL PARLIAMENT, 5th WILLIAM IV.

subject, and relative to the arrangements proposed for the re-organization of the Post-Office in these Colonies.

We learn with much satisfaction that His Majesty has been graciously pleased to declare, that he has received with high gratification the assurances of the devoted attachment of the people of this Province to their Sovereign, and of their sincere and earnest desire to maintain and perpetuate their connection with the Great Empire of which they form an important part.

It is worthy of consideration, that these assurances were not contained in addresses merely congratulatory, transmitted upon any such occasion as the ordinary current of affairs naturally presents, but were called for by the public disclosure of a treasonable correspondence carried on with an inhabitant of this Province by a Member of the Imperial Parliament, representing the Metropolitan County of England. In this correspondence, the person referred to, disregarding his duty of allegiance, and the obligations peculiarly incumbent upon him in his responsible public station, avows his satisfaction in the conviction, that the Inhabitants of Upper Canada are fast approaching to that crisis when they will deliver themselves from what he traitorously calls "the baneful domination of the Mother Country"; and in language which can neither be misapprehended nor explained away, he encourages the people of this Province to throw off their allegiance to their Sovereign.

It is not surprising that His Majesty's Subjects in this Colony, than whom none are more faithfully and affectionately attached to His Crown, have deeply resented this insult; and we are convinced, that the numerous addresses spontaneously transmitted to be laid at the foot of the Throne, and which His Majesty has been pleased graciously to notice, speak the sincere sentiments of a people eager to deliver themselves from the reproach of the basest ingratitude, and from the suspicion of participating in the feelings and projects of any individual who can exhibit so unnatural an hostility to his Country.
