A STRIKING CONTRAST.

Regina, Wednesday, Sept. 4, 1907

May Day, the Labor Day of European countries, is usually looked forward to with the greatest apprehension by the authorities. Paris on the first of May last presented the appearance of an armed camp. Thousands of troops and ranks of artillery were held in readiness to be used at a moment's notice in shooting down demonstrating labor.

In striking contrast to the European Labor Day, is that celebrated yesterday throughout the length and of Canada.

Yesterday in Railway park, after listening to the speeches of the warious speakers, the assembled crowd of labor men gave three cheers for the Government of Saskatchewan. Without seeking to attach any political significance to the incident, we believe that it is one upon which Canadians of all political shades can heartily congratulate themselves.

Those cheers given for the gov ernment of the province, told in eloquent manner of the different relations existing in this country between labor and constituted authority., The labor party here has its own programme, has its own gries in the Province. ances-there would be no need for its existence had it not-but it re-there will be found as much outside cognises, when all is said and done, land to tax as has been calculated. that in Canada it has to a large extent, come into its own and is receiving that recognition which gregate only one-half what is calcurightfully belong to it.
