Surgeon G neral Biddle Reports an Extraordinary Case of a Hindoo.

He Had Fit Throat Fixed up as a Receptacle for memys

London, Nov. 20 .- A new and startling resource for diamond thieves is furnished by Surgeon-General Biddle, who reports the extraordinary case of a Hindoo who recently made off with a diamond valued at $50,000 from Calcutta jewelers. He was taken into custody instantly and kept under observation for days, but there was no trace of the diamond, which he was suspected of having swallowed.

suspected of having swallowed.
Roentgen rays were applied and revealed a foreign body in the throat, which could not be dislodged until the culprit assisted, under threat of severe corporal punishment. He then explained that his throat had been especially prepared for diamond thieving. An artificial dilation of the pharynx was produced by swallowing and bringing up several times daily a large leaden bullet until a pouch was made similar to the crop in birds.

Wakes up to Find Her Husband has Skipped and Robbed Her of $700-A Windsor Sensation.

Mrs. Hattie Norton, of Vernon, Mich., was the name given by a woman who revived from the influence of some powerful drug Sunday after-noon at the Manning House, Windsor, and told a tearful story of marrying a man named C. R. Holmes, who answered her matrimonial advertisement in a Detroit paper, and of waking up terribly sick from the effect of a drug and finding that her husband of a day had skipped out with her $700, which she had drawn from the bank in Vernon on Saturday be-fore they were married by Rural Dean Hind, of St. John's episcopal church, at Sandwich. The money was hid-den in the lining of her skirt.

Dr. Soper, who boards at the Maning house, was hastily called when woman's condition was discovered and found her hysterical and on the verge of collapse. He detected the odor of chloral. Mrs. Holmes revised after a few hours, but declined to enter into any details of her courtship or throw much light on Holmes' identity. The marriage license was issued by James Oliver, who has an office near the ferry dock. Rev. Hinds, the minister who performed the wedding cere-mony, said that both parties seemed eager to be married, and that the man hwad made a special request that the marriage be registered.

At the Manning House the bridat couple were assigned to room 17, and nothing wrong was suspected until yesterday afternoon when the woman awakened and called for help. When she asked for her husband it was bar tender thought he saw the man.

Mrs. Lyman Loucks, of Rivard St., Detroit, a daughter of Mrs. Holmes by her first marriage, called with her husband and took her mother back to Detroit. Sergt, Jackson made an unsuccessful inquiry for the amn in Detroit, Holmes is 50 years of age, somehat stout, and has a gray mous

A PREACHER POUNDED.

He Had Made Charges of Immorality Against Some Business Men

At Columbus, S. C., Rev. A. J. Hens ley, pastor of Hickory Grove Baptist Church, Yorkville, made public charges of immorality against several busi-ness men in town. Indicating a cer-tain block of buildings on Main street, In which six merchants were conduct-ing business, he declared that it was disreputable and no fit place for decent people to visit. Five of the mer-chants had nothing to say, but Dr. A. F. Scoggins, a druggist, and the only unmarried man implicated, met Mr. Hensley on the street and asked if he was included. The preacher said he was, and refused to retract any-

Scoggins suggested that as both were of a size, they fight it out. The preacher agreed and they fell to hot work while several looked on. The preacher's wind soon failed, and he was knocked down. Scoggins pounded him on the ground till Hensley cried:
"Oh, Lord, take him off; don't let him kill me."

Then the onlookers interfered. Mr. Hensley declares that he retracts nothing.

Wendell, of the Harvard University said :

"It was so evident from Thursday night's watching, that the Leonids have veered in their orbit that we kept no watch that night. The mathematicians have figured that the orbit of the Leonids has changed, taking them farther away from us, and our observations this week have proved their calculations to be correct. Unless during the next 33 years there shall be another change in the orbit of the meteors, bringing them back near the earth, we shall see no more of the ancient November showers of Leonids.
